FIVE LIBERALS BOLT AS BRIDGE MEASURE PASSES LEGISLATURE

Four-Million-Dollar Project Approved in House on Division of 29-16—Members Say Public Opinion Will Change—Government Hears Blunt Truths From Followers

LOSING five of their supporters on the test, the Government pressed the Fraser Bridge Bill to a conclusion in the Legislature yesterday, being sustained by twenty-nine Liberals out of thirty-four with voting powers in the House. Division on second reading, which approved the principle of the bill, was twenty-nine to sixteen at the afternoon sitting, with five Liberals voting against the measure at the end of a dramatic two-day debate.

R. H. Pooley, K.C., called for the division after heated debate had continued at the morning and afternoon sittings.

HOW HOUSE VOTED

Those voting in favor of the bill were Messrs. K. C. MacDonald, A. W. Gray, G. S. Pearson, F. M. MacPherson, G. M. Weld, G. M. Sloan, T. D. Pattullo, John Hart, A. M. Manson, W. H. Sutherland, (Mrs.) Paul Smith, L. A. Hanna, C. S. Leary, D. McPherson, C. H. Tupper, R. H. Carson, Norman W. Whittaker, F. Putnam, Byron Johnson, R. W. Wilkinson, S. S. McKeen, J. A. Harris, R. R. Burns, G. S. Wismer, Thomas King, W. J. Asselstine, E. T. Kenney, G. M. Murray and Clive Planta (Independent).—29.

Voting against the measure were Messrs. J. J. Gillis, E. D. Barrow, A. McDonald, D. M. MacKay, D. W. Strachan, R. W. Bruhn, Herbert Anscomb, R. H. Pooley, Hugh Savage, Thomas Uphill, John Price, H. E. Winch, (Mrs.) R. P. Steeves, E. E. Winch, R. B. Swailes and Ernest Bakewell.—16.

OPPOSES MEASURE

Speaking at the afternoon sitting, Major D. M. MacKay said flatly he could not support the bill. He had listened with amazement to the debate, and could not agree to hand over construction of a $4,000,000 undertaking to a company that had built no major bridges that he could discover.

It was too much to pay $375,000 for supervision and handling of construction, including $225,000 to the bridge company, and $150,000 to a

MORATORIUM LAW EXTENDED

Victoria City Bill Is Finally Passed as Legislature Presses Forward

British Columbia's moratorium law is to be extended for one year, with one enlargement of principle, Attorney-General Sloan explained in the House yesterday. The change means that mortgagees may not foreclose on properties under the act by reason of tax default until unpaid taxes have run for a year or over. The bill was read a second time, as approved in principle.

Victoria city's private bill, with refunding authority in respect to a small block of serial debentures, was finally passed, subject to Royal assent.

VANCOUVER BILL

Charter amendments for Vancouver were read a second time at the afternoon sitting, giving Provincial assent to creation of a Municipal Bank of Vancouver, authority to transfer unused by-law balances, providing for a mandatory plebiscite on an eight-man council and abolition of the ward system, and other powers as already outlined. The amending bill is distinct from the Vancouver Relief Act.

MERRITT BILL

Premier Pattullo objected, on behalf of the Government, to a bill offered by H. E. Winch to repeal the Brooker option in the Merritt bill of last year. This, he said, was against the rules of the House, infringing

NARROWLY MISS MINE DISASTER

Cave-In Occurs in Nanaimo Shaft When Miners About to Descend in Cage

NANAIMO, March 21.—Just before a "cage," with its approximate load of sixteen men, was ready to descend to the workings, six hundred feet beneath the surface at No. 1 coal mine here today, a cave-in occurred some hundred feet from the surface, and hundreds of tons of rock fell five hundred feet to the bottom of the shaft.

Had the cage started to descend a minute before scheduled, a terrible tragedy would have resulted.

CRAZED MAN KILLS PRIEST

YORKTON, Sask., March 21 (CP).—One Greek Catholic priest lay dead and another was near death here tonight, victims of a murderous assault in a monastery by an apparently crazed blacksmith.

Steve Elash, thirty-five-year-old attacker, was not expected to recover from the revolver wound in his chest, self-inflicted as police were about to capture him.

Father Albert Delforge, forty-two, Belgian priest assisting at the monastery about a year, was instantly killed when shot in the head.

IS CRITICALLY WOUNDED

Father John Bala, forty, head of the mission for some years, was shot in the abdomen and is not expected to recover.

Toll of the blacksmith's revolver was nearly increased as he fired at Police Chief H. L. Fenson and Constable Wilf Hatch, who met him running into the business section of this Prairie town as they raced to the monastery.

According to the police story, Elash entered the thirty-two-year-old mission house, generally referred to as a monastery. He asked to see a priest and was greeted by Father Bala. Elash immediately fired one shot from a revolver into the priest's abdomen.

KILLED INSTANTLY

Father Bala ran to Father Delforge, and as the latter neared Elash he was shot and instantly killed. The blacksmith hastened downstairs and ran headlong through a glass door but suffered no injury in his rapid escape.

Bareheaded and shouting, Elash ran in the business section and is said to have tried to shoot several officers. He hid behind a dairy sleigh where he turned his revolver upon himself.

SUMS VOTED TO BALANCE BOOKS

No Canadian Radio Station for Victoria, Premier Has Been Informed

Cleaning up the balance of the estimates yesterday in committee on supply, the Legislature voted $361,703 to square accounts for the year closing on March 31, 1935, and $148,218 to square accounts for the year ending March, 1934.

The Publicity Bureau vote passed at $30,000, up $15,000, after the Government had rejected a proposal by R. H. Pooley, K.C., that the amount be made $100,000 and the balance devoted to an intensive tourist campaign.

In reply to questions by an Independent member, Premier Patullo intimated he had been advised by the Canadian Radio Commission that while no station on the chain was proposed for Victoria, it was the ultimate intention of the Commission to install a large new station at Vancouver when funds were available. Arrangements were incomplete as yet.

Collects Coal Royalty While Subsidy Is Paid

OTTAWA, March 21 (CP).—While the Dominion taxpayer is contributing to the Alberta coal mines by way of subventions, the Alberta Government is charging a royalty on the coal mined, Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Labor, told the House of Commons tonight.

As a result of Dominion aid, Saskatchewan coal had practically displaced competitive foreign coal from the Manitoba market.

"But," said Mr. Gordon, "the paradox is that instead of any control being exercised over coal mines in Alberta, about fifty new mines have been opened in the last few years. All mines in the province are under the control and jurisdiction of the Provincial Government.

Two Fires Break Out in Kingston Penitentiary As Fifty Convicts Rebel

City Fire Department Called to Extinguish Blazes—Prisoners Lock Themselves in Burning Boot and Clothing Workshop—Heavy Damage Caused by Flames and Water

KINGSTON, Ont., March 21 (CP).—An ominous ten-months' silence in Kingston Penitentiary was broken tonight when fires started—apparently simultaneously—in two work departments in the big prison, and fifty convicts locked themselves in one of them with the flames.

Guards smashed down a steel door leading to the boot and clothing workshop and led the revolting prisoners to their cells, as flames raged less than fifty feet away in the building where mail bags are manufactured. Prison officials refused to discuss the developments in any way.

DAMAGE IS HEAVY

Fire Chief James Armstrong, of Kingston, announced that damage by fire and water to the boot and clothing shop and to the mail bag building would be heavy. The flames were believed to have started about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Firemen left the penitentiary grounds at 8:30.

"The mail bag building was gutted," Chief Armstrong said. A foot of water covered the floor of the building and the floor of the nearby shoeshop, which is situated on the second floor of the west wing in the main shop building, centre of the prison's industrial activity.

NO OFFICIAL STATEMENT

There was no official statement as to how the fires had started. The mail bag building was deserted when flames were discovered there, it was

Meeting to Plan Stimulation of Tourist Travel

SEATTLE, March 21 (AP).—A delegation of six, sponsored by the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, left today for Butte to confer on Saturday with civic and travel groups from four other states and British Columbia on means of stimulating tourist travel over northern transcontinental highways. They took with them a large Puget Sound salmon (on ice) and a quantity of daffodils to present to the meeting.

NO INCREASE IN TAX RATE

Saanich Council Sets Levy at 42 Mills on 20 Per Cent for Improvements

Saanich Council, at 1:05 this morning, set the 1935 tax levy at 42 mills on 20 per cent of improvements. The rate is the same as last year.

The levy allocates 27 mills for general purposes and 15 mills for schools. Last year 27.2 mills and 14.8 mills were required for general and school purposes, respectively. Based on an 82 per cent collection, the levy is expected to yield approximately $182,000. A perfect collection would yield $222,144.

This year it was decided to spend $40,000 for relief. When estimates were considered two weeks ago the council did not set any relief allocation. However, $30,000 was not earmarked and this sum, with $10,000 previously set aside for sinking fund installment, will be used for relief.

Premier Making Rapid Recovery

OTTAWA, March 21 (CP).—After a conference lasting more than an hour, which Sir George Perley had today with Premier R. B. Bennett, Sir George expressed great pleasure at the Prime Minister's condition. A week has now passed without a recurrence of the heart ailment which his physician described as lack of rhythm. It is expected he will be out of bed soon.

Six Die in Wreck of Navy Plane

RENNES, Britanny, France, March 21 (AP).—Six persons were killed tonight in the wreckage of a giant French naval seaplane which crashed in flames near Brest Harbor.

The plane was flying from Lanion Air Base, famous French naval station at the western tip of Britanny, when it burst into flames and signalled its distress to fishing craft in the harbor.

Naval authorities were not immediately able to identify the victims.

British Columbia to Send Silver Bowl as Gift to King George

Presentation Will Be in Form of Replica of Legendary Thunder Bird and Coupled With Donation to Cancer Fund

TO commemorate the silver jubilee of His Majesty King George on May 6 next, the British Columbia Government will send His Majesty a handsomely carved silver bowl, representing the mythological Thunder Bird. The bowl will be filled with gold nuggets, the gift of the people of British Columbia, as a contribution to the fund to be used in cancer research.

The plan for contribution to the Cancer Research Fund being subscribed to throughout the British Empire has been approved by the Provincial Government and arrangements made for the receipt of contributions at the business offices of The Victoria Times and The Victoria Daily Colonist.

Hotel, Bank, Store and Dwelling Destroyed at Sydenham—Loss Is Heavy

SYDENHAM, Ont., March 21 (AP).—Fire which started in the three-storey frame American Hotel here today spread through a bank, a frame building and the general store, doing damage estimated between $60,000 and $100,000.

It was the most disastrous fire in the history of the village, situated eighteen miles north of Kingston in Frontenac County.

With the aid of Kingston firemen and apparatus, the blaze was under control at 6 o'clock tonight, but for a time it was feared a block of frame dwellings would be destroyed.

KEEPING PEACE IN EUROPE NOW FIRST AIM OF TALKS IN BERLIN

Has to Be Preserved by One Means or Another Says Sir John Simon in House of Commons—Frankest Language to Be Used to Find Out Germany's Intentions

French and Italian Notes Of Protest Go to Germany

LONDON, March 21 (CP).—"By one means or another the peace of Europe has to be preserved," Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon tonight told the House of Commons. He was emphasizing that in his coming talks with Adolf Hitler in Berlin, he will use the frankest language in an effort to find out whether Germany, now that she has seized equality for herself, intends returning to the family of nations and entering security pacts.

The House of Commons debated the clouded international situation in restrained language, while French and Italian notes of protest over Germany's new conscript army were getting cool reception in Berlin, and league officials were active on a strong French protest to Geneva which asked a special session of the Council of the League of Nations to examine Germany's repudiation of the Versailles Treaty.

FRIENDS OF PEACE

"We are going as sincere friends of peace," said the Foreign Secretary, "determined to do everything Britain can do to promote security. And I would like to take this opportunity of saying after great deliberation—that by one means or another the peace of Europe has to be preserved. We are not going to bear the reproach of leaving anything undone that might help to make peace more secure by the better means."

He said Germany, by her sudden unilateral announcement of a new army and, previously, a military air force, had upset the real basis of

Gives Credit to Prince for Deal Worth Millions

LONDON, March 21 (CP).—Earl Dudley, president of the Iron and Steel Federation, said tonight at the federation's annual dinner that the Prince of Wales was mainly responsible for a contract valued at £3,000,000 ($14,580,000) granted the Metropolitan-Vickers firm for the electrification of the Central Railway of Brazil. He said the contract was due to an interview the Prince had with Brazilian authorities at Rio de Janeiro.

INFORMATION IS REFUSED

Government Says Disclosure of Wheat Position Not Advisable at Present

OTTAWA, March 21 (CP).—The spectre-like wheat operations of John I. McFarland, head of the central selling agency for the Canadian wheat pools, remained as mysterious as ever tonight when Hon. Wesley Gordon, Minister of Labor, said it would be inadvisable to disclose the wins and losses of the Government-backed money in the Winnipeg pit.

Early in the day the House gave second reading to the 1935 Relief Bill, 103-62, but passed it through committee stage and added third reading without division.

LIBERALS HEAD FIGHT

Western Liberals led the fight to induce the Government to disclose results of its hedging operations in the wheat market which have been directed by McFarland for two or three years. Although he has been credited with possessing more wheat than any man in history, no details of McFarland's operations ever have been established, and whether he has made money or lost money is known only to himself and Premier R. B. Bennett.

"I think," the Labor Minister told the House, "if anyone is in the market, whether short or long, that it would be a most undersirable thing to advise the world and others in the market the exact position of any considerable trader."

OBJECTIVE ACCOMPLISHED

The Government, Mr. Gordon continued, entered the wheat market to stabilize prices through guarantees to the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers, Limited. He believed that had been accomplished and support for the market would have to be continued. But at the moment, it would be unwise to disclose wheat holdings and prices paid.

FINDS U.S. HAS TOO MUCH GOLD

Treasury Willing to Consider Exchange of Yellow Metal for Silver

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP).—A great scoopful of gold from the Treasury's hoard was offered for sale today, with indications the Government would be glad to replace it with silver.

"We've got all the gold we can possibly use," said Secretary Morgenthau, adding that America was ready to sell to any foreign nation which makes an "attractive offer."

OPEN TO OFFERS

A proposal that gold be exchanged for an equivalent value in silver, it was learned, would be considered distinctly "attractive." In fact, the offer followed closely upon an announcement that two such transactions had been completed.

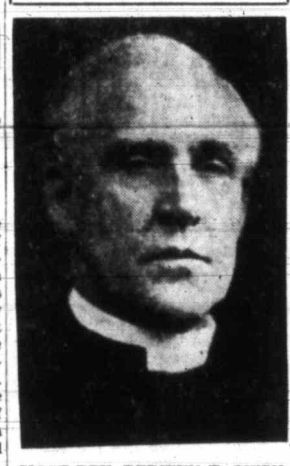

Some speculation was stirred by the opening of the Treasury gold store. Wall Street saw the move as a gesture of willingness to co-operate to restore world monetary conditions.

COMMITTED TO POLICY

However, the Treasury is committed to a policy of increasing its silver stocks until they reach a point at which they are one-third of its gold reserves. It has been buying silver at home and abroad in quantities under that policy.

But, at the same time, the circumstances of foreign commerce, foreign trade balances and foreign exchange levels have been such that the last year has seen such huge imports of gold that little progress toward the three-one ratio has actually been made.

HOUSE HOLDS LATE SITTING

Mass of Legislation Cleared in Effort to Prorogue on Saturday

Driving ahead in an effort to clean up a maze of bills, the Legislature staged a sitting into the early hours of this morning. It is the intention of the Government to prorogue by Saturday.

With 103 bills introduced during the session, and many of them in various stages of advancement, an effort was made to clean the slate of the less contentious. The members will be hard driven to get through with the important measures, such as the Vancouver Charter amendments, the Fraser River Bridge bill and the Pharmacy measure within the time.

After midnight, third reading was given to a number of measures, including the Port Moody bill, moratorium extension bill, Workmen's Compensation Act amendments and highways bill.

MANY RECEIVE CRACKED HEADS

Police Clash With Welsh Miners Marching to Lodge Protest

NANTYGLO, Wales, March 21 (AP).—Stiff hand-to-hand fighting between police and unemployed coal miners resulted in many cracked heads on both sides today.

A dozen policemen were given medical treatment, while the miners suffered an undetermined number of casualties.

The fighting, in which police swung their sticks and the miners threw rocks, started when eighty policemen attempted to halt columns of marchers converging from two directions upon the Nantyglo-Blaina public assistance headquarters to protest administration of the Poor Relief Law.

POLICEMEN CHARGE

Trapped in mountainous country by the columns approaching down the narrow roads, the policemen drew their batons and charged.

A hard hand-to-hand struggle followed, the police finally fighting their way clear and dispersing the miners.

At the height of the conflict several hundred miners took up their position on a slag heap overlooking the scene and pelted the police with a rain of rocks.

Road Loan Bill Is Introduced Before Legislature Here

Discretionary Authority to Borrow $3,000,000 Net for Work Over Period of Fifty Years Suggested—Maximum Interest 5 Per Cent

DISCRETIONARY authority to borrow $3,000,000 net on the credit of the Province for use in highway improvement and analogous purposes is sought from the Legislature in an anticipated loan bill, introduced yesterday morning by Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance.

The bill provides for the raising of $3,000,000, exclusive of financing fees, by Treasury bill or sale of securities to that net value, at not more than 5 per cent interest.

The authority to borrow the sum is not mandatory, but will be left to the discretion of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, according to the wording of the bill.

FOR FIFTY YEARS

The money, as raised from time to time, would be paid into consolidated revenue funds, from which necessary sinking funds and other carrying charges would be set up. At one point it is set out that securities issued for purposes of the loan would be repayable within fifty years, not later than June 30, 1985.

There is nothing in the bill to suggest that the money shall be borrowed in its entirety, or borrowed at all, but discretionary right to borrow within the limits of the bill would be conferred on the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

The purposes to which the funds could be put include general highway improvements both within and outside of municipal areas; mining trails opening access to mineral areas, and for construction or improvement of roads, bridges, ferry landings and other classes of road system works. The bill was read a first time at the morning sitting.

ARGUING ON POWER GIVEN BY STATUTE

Jurists of Privy Council Listen to Counsel for Coal Companies

RIGHT OF CRIMINAL APPEAL AT STAKE

LONDON, March 21 (CP Cable).—The purported abolition of the right to appeal to the Privy Council in criminal cases, by the Canadian Parliament, was a thing affecting the rights of every province of the Dominion and could never be done under the constitution, it was argued today in the judicial committee of the Privy Council.

Wilfred Greene, K.C., was continuing presentation of his case in support of the petition by five coal corporations for leave to appeal to their Lordships from judgments of the Quebec criminal courts, which found his clients guilty of an illegal combine and fined them $30,000.

POINT AT ISSUE

The sole point at issue, which is of vast importance as a precedent, is whether the Statute of Westminster gave the Dominion Government the power to amend the Criminal Code by abolishing the right of appeal to the "King-in-Council."

When Lord Macmillan asked whether the power to affect the prerogative of the Crown was not inherent in the Statute of Westminster, Greene said he did not think so. The Statute of Westminster did not expressly deal with the right to appeal to His-Majesty-in-Council, he added. His argument is that right may only be affected by an act of the Imperial Parliament dealing expressly with the question.

Lord Sankey, the Lord High Chancellor, one of a number of eminent legal lights who form an especially imposing panel of the judicial committee for the present case, said: "Suppose public opinion in Canada thought there were too many opportunities for appeal, and the legislature decided to reduce them?"

AGAINST CONSTITUTION

Greene replied that it could not be done, and never could be done under the constitution. The Statute of Westminster made clear the Dominions could have this power only if they asked for it directly from the Imperial Parliament, he contended. If the Canadian Legislature had followed that course, it might have given rise to considerable political controversy in the Dominion, and some of the provinces might take exception to it as diminishing their rights.

Argument will continue tomorrow.

FIVE LIBERALS BOLT IN BRIDGE DIVISION

supervising engineer and staff. Most engineers of equivalent standing would have been satisfied with $10,000 a year in present times.

"I have no hesitation whatever in saying that these arrangements have been hastily and carelessly made. Twelve and a half per cent on $3,000,000 is $375,000, and that is a large return against a total cash outlay of $400," Major MacKay continued.

BROKEN FRONT

"It is not easy for me to vote against my leader and my colleagues. I have a very high regard for the Premier as an able man, and one of the best Ministers of Lands the Province ever had. I feel, however, I must do my duty and follow the light as I see it," he said.

"The more I study these arrangements, the more I feel they are not what they should be. Perhaps if back benchers had been consulted a little more in the policies of government, instead of sitting here as a voting machine, the Liberal party would not present the broken front it does in this assembly. I am taking the only course I can at this time, in opposing the bill," the member for Cariboo concluded.

SUPPORTS BILL

Byron "Boss" Johnson spoke briefly. As a citizen of New Westminster his inclination would be to support the bill. As first member for Victoria he would support the bill. He had no doubt as to the necessity for a new bridge at New Westminster, and believed that the Government could be trusted within the limits of the $4,000,000 authority, to see that no extravagance took place. Public sentiment was against the bridge now, but would change when the handsome new structure was built. The bridge, he concluded, would be a credit to the province and to the Government.

H. E. Winch cited bridge engineers of the Department of Public Works to show that the present bridge had been fundamentally sound in 1931. The maximum stresses cited by the member for Omineca had been based on the weight and effect of two lanes of eight-ton trucks spaced twenty feet apart, or two locomotives leading a 6,000-foot train. These conditions did not normally occur.

NOT BY TOURISTS

Nobody could believe that the tourists would pay most of the tolls on the bridge, but the burden would fall on residents in the Lower Mainland area. The deal, Mr. Winch declared, was a "legal steal" from the people of British Columbia.

He traced the records of the Fraser Bridge Company and the Fraser Holdings, Limited, through provincial records, and asserted that cost-plus contracts would be involved. The C.C.F. was opposed to the principle of tolls in any event and would remove the tolls first, if returned to power.

BRIDGE WAS SAFE

Mr. Winch quoted a Mainland news dispatch of 1933 wherein it was stated that Hon. Wells Gray, now Minister of Lands, had said in the bridge debates of that year that the present New Westminster bridge was "perfectly safe." Mr. Gray, he said, had been speaking at the time on the Ladner Bridge project.

Ernest Bakewell said the C.C.F. would support the building of "a bridge a day" over the Fraser River, if necessary, but would not support the present arrangement. The Fraser River Bridge bill, he would say, stood for "flagrant reckless blundering." There were no toll bridges across the Thames or the Seine, and Vancouver deserved better treatment, in view of its prospects as the metropolis of the West.

Actual traffic count at the present bridge in one period of twenty-four hours had shown sixty-six American cars, 2,000 Canadian cars and 349 trucks of Canadian origin. It was clear, he said, who would pay the tolls. Three railway companies using the bridge had not made any objection as to its safety.

CONTRARY TO PEOPLE

If the Government felt obligated to the bridge company why not give that company a gift of $100,000 outright and have done with it, he suggested. No government should go contrary to the expressed wishes of the people, Mr. Bakewell concluded.

S. S. McKeen, Vancouver, supported the bill and said he was prepared to trust the Government in the matter fully. Only $1,000,000 would be spent on the bridge this year, against $3,000,000 to be spent on British Columbia highways, if the Government could get the money. It was not feasible to finance the new bridge without recourse to tolls. He personally was looking forward to the day when the old free bridge would be removed entirely, and the new high-level bridge stand in its place.

WORK AND WAGES

"This is real progress. This is a real contribution to the 'work and wages' programme. Unemployment relief will be less, in consequence. I feel it is my duty to support the measure," Mr. McKeen concluded.

Gordon Wismer, Vancouver, said that as a member of the private bills committee last year he had heard argument at first hand as to the necessity for a new bridge. He did not believe in tolls, but under all the circumstances could see no other way out. He had confidence that the Government would see that the money was properly spent, he concluded.

A. M. MANSON, K.C.

A. M. Manson, K.C. (Liberal, Omineca), supported the bill, opening debate at the morning sitting.

"I was retained as counsel to revise the company's draft of the bill. I discharged by duty; and that's all there was to it. As a member of the Legislature, I inserted sections in the bill that were not altogether acceptable to the promoters of the undertaking," Mr. Manson stated, refuting the assertion of an unnamed radio speaker that he was acting as counsel for the bridge company.

The Government, he continued, had made a mistake in not making the facts of the bridge matter plain to the public earlier. The facts were the present bridge at New Westminster was inadequate and unsafe, and would have to be replaced, anyway. He cited news clippings of Mainland papers to show the bridge was considered unsafe ten years ago; reports by George Napier, deputy minister of railways; engineers of the Dominion Bridge Company, and others to the same effect.

DOTTED WITH INDUSTRIES

New Westminster and Fraser shipping were growing. The banks of the river would be dotted with industries in the future. Upwards of 1,800,000 cars had used the present bridge in a peak year. The swing bridge was out of place, and if confined to railway use would not swing as often. The railways would not be there long, anyway. Overstresses of from 1 to 64 per cent had been reported on bridge parts by various engineers, and overloading continued.

"Whether we like it or not, we must return to the principle that the user must pay," Mr. Manson continued, in speaking of tolls.

Five bridges, enclosing Vancouver at present, were not free. The citizens paid an average of $15 a year each in taxation on their upkeep. There were toll roads, toll bridges and toll ferries all over the world.

"SAVED" $200,000

By taking over the undertaking as a public project, the Government had saved the people $200,000, Mr. Manson computed. This was approximately the difference between $500,000 estimated profit as a private venture and the cost to the Province under the present plan. The bridge was to be built on the "credit of the tolls," but not on the credit of the Province, he declared. Had it rested on the credit of the Province, by taxation, it might have been difficult to obtain the money, he averred.

"This Province has been dependent upon the Dominion for the last eighteen months for the advance of funds. The only way you can finance this bridge at all is by means of tolls; and I want the hypothecation of those tolls written into the face of the bonds, for I am not satisfied with the bill at present in that regard," Mr. Manson said.

Mr. Anscomb — What difference will that make. We have a bill before us now to repudiate a contract written into the face of other bonds.

"Something had to be left to the honor of the Legislature," Mr. Manson returned. Tourists, he resumed, would pay between 15 and 25 per cent of the tolls, and the toll burden on residents and Valley farmers would be very light.

"This is the kind of 'work and wages' that I like," added the member for Omineca.

E. D. BARROW

E. D. Barrow, former Minister of Agriculture, and Liberal member for Chilliwack, opposed the bill outright, as the second member of the caucus to do so.

It was one thing to have a new bridge and something different to pay for it, he observed. In his opinion people in the Fraser Valley, struggling hard enough as it was, would pay half of the tolls over a long period of years; and the other half would be paid by merchants and others in Vancouver seeking to expand their trade with the Interior.

GOOD FOR TEN YEARS

He had used the present bridge for twenty-two years almost daily, and saw nothing radically wrong with it. The lower (railway) deck could be planked and used for heavy trucks as well, and the top repaired sufficiently for all purposes for ten years to come. By that time, said Mr. Barrow, British Columbia would be either back on its feet, or every one would have gone back to primitive civilization in caves in the hills, clubbing squirrels for a living.

Farmers would pay most of the tolls. One dairy concern routed 28,000 tons of produce over the present bridge last year. It could not afford to pay tolls and operate; especially if $1,200 a day was to be the cost of carrying a new bridge.

Farmers of the Fraser Valley did not want the new bridge, and could not afford to pay for it. Tourist travel might amount to 8 per cent over the bridge, but tourists would not carry the cost of the bridge, he warned, in conclusion, opposing the bill.

Spiritualists in Air Over New York Hear Voices of Departed

Medium Leads Singing in Cabin of Airplane—"Jingle Bells" Brings Immediate Response From Eerie Voices in Absolute Darkness

Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press

NEWARK, N.J., AIRPORT, March 21.—Weird and muffled voices that identified themselves as belonging to the spirits of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Wilbur Wright, Raold Amundsen and others were heard tonight in the darkened interior of a cabin plane soaring high over New York City.

For the first known time in history, a spiritualistic seance was held in the cabin of an air liner. As the plane roared over the Floyd Bennet Field a voice which said it was that of the late Floyd Bennett wafted eerily from the two trumpets in the cabin.

"More fantastic than death itself," came the voice, ascribed to the late Sir Arthur, thin and unearthly in quality.

NO RAY OF LIGHT

There wasn't a ray of light in the long narrow cabin, an eager spiritualist in each of the fourteen seats. Newspapers had been tacked over the windows, and the green silk curtains drawn tight.

"Recall to Lady Conan Doyle our talk with John Goldstorm (who was a passenger on the plane), our chat in Washington when he first suggested this experiment twelve years ago," it said. "Tell her I am looking after her interests."

Lady Conan Doyle, in a letter from London several months ago, said: "I may tell you that we have been in constant communication ever since his dear physical presence left us."

NEW YORK MEDIUM

Miss Maina Tafe, of New York City, was the "direct voice medium" through which the spiritualists there said, the strange voices were heard.

"Somebody start a song," said Miss Tafe, soon after the plane took off. Her soprano voice was the first heard. Then others picked up the tune. It was "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean." It was then that the first voice was heard.

Silence followed. Only the steady roar of the plane was heard.

"Everybody sing again," said Miss Tafe.

"If you hear a voice, please speak to it," she urged.

The song this time was "Jingle Bells, Jingle Bells, Jingle All the Way."

PATTED ON SHOULDER

"I felt a hand pat my shoulder," said one of the men. That was while a voice which claimed to be Horace Greeley's spirit was speaking.

After this, clearer than the others, came the voice of the late aviator, Lincoln Beachey, which stated: "Wilbur Wright is here with me, standing right here beside me, and so is Floyd Bennett."

The Raold Amundsen voice told, in answer to a question, how Amundsen died in the frozen Arctic wastes, a mystery that never has been solved.

"We became lost in the fog over trackless wastes of ice," said the voice. "It was just as well that I went when I did. My work was done.

"I have been down with Byrd (Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd) in Little America, watching over him," said the voice in conclusion.

Mrs. Chauncey Olcott, widow of the noted Irish tenor, was in the plane, but the spiritualists had no luck in trying to bring his voice into the cabin.

Gas Tax Yields Substantial Sum

In the past three years the Provincial Government collected from the gasoline tax a total of $6,374,223.20, it was stated in answer to questions asked by G. G. McGeer, K.C., in the Legislature. The cost of collection, in the form of a commission on sales, totaled $169,250.25, leaving a net revenue from the tax of $6,204,972.95 in the three-year period.

Old Fire Hall May Be Pulled Down by Order of Council

ONCE the scene of neighing and champing horses in the days when every fire call thrilled bystanders, the old fire hall on Fairfield Road may be pulled down. Aldermen R. A. C. Dewar, Andrew McGavin, Alex Peden and Archie Wills, lands committee of the City Council, will recommend this action to other aldermen.

The old hall was built in 1911 when Victoria gradually started to motorize its fire equipment. It was in use only a few years until the time horse-drawn equipment was supplanted by motor vehicles. Since those days the hall has been occupied by operators of several garages and service stations, but recently became vacant.

SQUATTERS ARE TO BE EVICTED

Department of Lands Posts Order Making Application for Lease Necessary

VANCOUVER, March 21 (CP).—Eviction orders of the British Columbia Department of Lands against squatters on Kitsilano Reserve will become effective on March 31, with more than 100 squatters, some with families, affected.

To remain, it will be necessary for the squatters to make regular application to lease foreshore property; but only two such applications have been made. These were by two oil companies which have supply depots occupying floats.

Notice to the squatters were posted by Provincial police on instructions of Government Agent A. S. Tyrer, October 1. To obtain a lease, it is first necessary for the squatters to have the property surveyed, which is an expense it is not thought any of them, other than the two oil companies, is able to undertake.

The majority of the homes on the reserve are mere shacks, the owners of which are stated to be largely victims of the times.

SILVER BOWL TO BE GIFT TO KING

tion; Hon. H. G. Perry, Speaker of the Legislature; Dr. Allen Harris, M.P.P., South Okanagan, and Mrs. Paul Smith, M.P.P., Vancouver-Burrard.

The silver bowl is being prepared by Maurice Carmichael, A.M.I.C.E. and A.C.G.I. (Civil and Mechanical Engineering and Associate City and Guilds Institute, London, England), Victoria silversmith. The bowl will be completed in time for shipment from Victoria on April 20.

When complete, the bowl will measure eighteen inches across and nine inches high. It will have the crest of British Columbia engraved on it and the letters "B.C."

GET BLUEBIRD READY TO FLIT

Sir Malcolm Campbell Convinced Daytona Beach Not Fit for Test

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 21 (AP).—Sir Malcolm Campbell's speed argosy ended today—successful as far as figures in the record book are concerned — a complete washout for the man who will never rest until he drives an automobile at the rate of 300 miles an hour.

He walked along Daytona's sands, where on March 7 he sent his mighty Bluebird roaring to a new world's record of 276.816 miles an hour and shook his head for the last time this season.

"It's no use," he said. "The beach isn't right. Pack up old lady Bluebird and let's go home."

So tonight his six mechanics were pulling the gallant thunder-wagon apart, after seven discouraging, often hazardous weeks here, crating and packing her tires and accessories for the trip back to England, and there was more than a slight possibility she never will run again on this beach, regardless of what Sir Malcolm does about speed records in the future.

Kinsmen to Hold Annual Carnival Here on May 24

The Victoria Kinsmen Club will sponsor another carnival and swimming gala at the Crystal Garden on May 24, it was decided at the dinner meeting of the club at the Empress Hotel last evening. Archie Smith has been appointed manager, and swimmers from Vancouver and Seattle will be invited to compete in the various events.

The club was informed that a team of expert riders from Tacoma would take part in the horse show to be staged shortly by the Kinsmen. The club will also sponsor a series of evening concerts in unemployment relief camps.

Stewart Davidson, past district governor of No. 5 District, was a visitor at the dinner and extended an invitation to members to attend the district convention to be held during Easter week.

The speaker was Thomas Uphill, M.P.P. for Fernie, who gave a review of his recent tour of Russia and some of the impressions he gained while traveling through the Soviet Union.

Sunspots Influence World Temperatures Meteorologist Says

F. Napier Denison Quotes Interesting Figures and Uses Charts to Demonstrate Existence of Eleven-Year Weather Cycles

WORLD temperatures are apparently definitely influenced by sunspots, the temperature being a little lower about the times of the maximum sunspots, F. Napier Denison, director of the Dominion Meteorological Station, Gonzales Heights, told the big audience who attended his lecture at the Y.W.C.A. on Wednesday night, under the auspices of the Victoria centre of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada.

Speaking to the subject of "Weather Cycles in Canada," Mr. Denison, who used a number of lantern slide graphs to support his argument, maintained furthermore that the annual average temperature of the Dominion had been gradually rising over a long period. As far as the future was concerned, the next sunspot maximum is due in 1940. The computation was based on observations extending back many years, showing that these cycles moved in approximately eleven-year periods, between three and four years elapsing between the minimum and maximum.

DOUBLE CYCLE

There is a special aspect to the phenomenon so far as this Coast was concerned. Here it was frequently found that not only the eleven-year cycle was shown in the annual temperature and precipitation records, but also a shorter cycle of about five and one-half to six-year period, in other words, just half the eleven-year cycle.

"There is a double sunspot cycle of twenty-two years that is attracting considerable attention, particularly when studied in connection with lake water levels in various parts of the world," it was also noted. In this connection reference was subsequently made to the drop in the water level of Lake Michigan, attributed by some to engineering projects and the enormous water consumption of Chicago, this fall in the water level was probably much more likely due to natural laws.

The following dates were quoted as recording sunspot maximums: 1837, 1848, 1860, 1870, 1883, 1893, 1906, 1917 and 1929. At these times the average temperatures over the world had been lower. Other influences had, however, combined to influence temperatures; volcanic dust thrown into the air during the severe volcanic eruptions of Krakatoa (1883) and Katmai (1912) had caused a drop in temperature a year or two afterwards.

PRECIPITATIONS

Precipitation figures were quoted, showing the relative rainfall of various points throughout the Dominion. At Victoria there were 44 inches precipitation in 1893; 23 inches in 1929 and 34 inches in 1933. At Vancouver 60 inches in 1908; 48 inches in 1929 and 63 inches in 1931.

Ten-year intervals were shown between wet periods. The precipitation at Winnipeg was 28 inches in 1878, but this had fallen to 18 inches in 1929. In Toronto 29 inches fell in 1881, and in 1929 the fall was 35 inches.

Mean temperatures also showed a certain uniformity of change. At Fort St. James the mean temperature was 32 in 1895, and this had risen by 1928 to 37 degrees, a difference of five degrees in thirty-three years. Similarly at Agassiz in 1893 the mean temperature was 47.5 degrees, which rose to 50 in 1926; while in Vancouver the 48-degree mean temperature of 1909 had risen to 51 degrees in 1926. In Victoria there had been a rise of three degrees between 1884, when the mean temperature was 47.5, and 1926, when 50.5 was recorded. A four-degree advance took place between 1893 and 1931 in Calgary; and 6.5 degrees in Winnipeg in about the same period.

Some questions arose after Mr. Denison's talk, as to the possibility that these advancing temperatures might be due to the fact that most of the meteorological records of the past had been made in cities, where the instruments would come under the influence of the elaborate systems of artificial heating, which might affect the temperature of towns.

LONG-RANGE FORECAST

In closing his lecture, Mr. Denison expressed the hope that the weather conditions throughout the world might be more closely studied in connection with the various types of sunspot cycles, so that eventually it might be possible to issue long-range weather forecasts which would be of practical value to the agriculturist, forester and hydraulic engineers.

F. Boyd Brydon, the president, was in the chair, and a number of interesting matters came up after the principal address of the evening. Robert Peters gave a short discussion on the star Sirius and its companion in the constellation, Leo, one of the most spectacular of his statements being that the composition of this mass was of such density that a cubic inch would weigh a ton.

The programme for the Summer course of lectures is already under way, and the president noted that some information concerning this would probably be given out at the next meeting. Mention was also made of the telescope-making section which is in charge of W. R. Hobday. Negotiations for adequate quarters for this are now being made.

Jamaican Woman Becomes Mother Of Quadruplets

KINGSTON, Jamaica, March 21 (CP).—Another part of the British Empire comes into the multiple birth spotlight with the arrival of quadruplets to Mrs. Ellen McLeary, a peasant woman of Jamaica. Falling just one short of Canada's famous Dionne quintuplets, the two boys and two girls were reported doing nicely today—their fourth—but the mother was gravely ill.

Obituary

SMITH—The funeral of the late Mrs. Adele Smith takes place this morning in St. Andrew's Cathedral, where Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

STEPHEN—Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Stephen, who passed away Tuesday evening, will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the parlors of the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. Rev. H. J. Armitage will officiate, and interment will take place in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

EASTON—Roy Easton, aged three and a half years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Easton, died on Thursday at the family residence, Cobble Hill. Funeral services will be conducted today at 2 p.m. at St. John's Church, Cobble Hill. Interment will be made in the Cobble Hill Cemetery.

BARRON — The funeral service for Mrs. Dora Elmara Barron, wife of James Barron, of 1749 Sixth Street, who passed away in the Royal Jubilee Hospital last Tuesday evening, will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the chapel of the Sands Mortuary, Ltd. Rev. F. W. Weaver will officiate, and the remains will be laid at rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park. It is requested that no flowers be sent.

FORSYTHE—Robert Douglas Forsythe, 3562 West Twenty-Sixth Avenue, Vancouver, died in the Terminal City on Monday. He was a former resident of Victoria. Mr. Forsythe was born in Ontario, and injuries received while on active service with the Canadian Army Medical Corps resulted in his death. He had resided there until a few years ago, when he became a patient at Shaughnessy Military Hospital. He is survived by his widow and one brother in Vancouver.

BURGESS — Funeral service was held yesterday afternoon for the late Sarah Jane Burgess, a resident of Sidney, who passed away last Tuesday. Pastor W. R. Foulston, assisted by J. Ellis, conducted the service, during which two hymns, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Face to Face," were sung. A duet was rendered by Mrs. C. Williams and Mrs. W. R. Foulston. The remains were forwarded on the midnight boat to Vancouver, and interment will be made in Mountain View Cemetery.

STEVENSON—The funeral of the late James Stevenson took place yesterday afternoon, Rev. J. S. Patterson conducting the service. The casket was covered with beautiful floral tributes. The hymn sung by the congregation was "Peace, Perfect Peace." A solo, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," was rendered by Mrs. Thomson. The following were pallbearers: R. T. Brindle, E. McDonald, M. Thompson, K. Clark, R. Ferguson and Alex Horn. Interment was made in the Colwood Burial Park.

STEVENSON—Rev. Canon Stocken officiated at the funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Gertrude Stevenson yesterday afternoon in the presence of many friends. During the service the following hymns were sung, "Rock of Ages" and "Abide With Me." The casket and hearse were banked with beautiful floral offerings. The following were pallbearers: Robert Peden, George Sheard, George Goy, A. H. Lofts, Robert Ely and Edwin Waring. The remains were laid at rest in Colwood Burial Park.

MASTERS — Mrs. Laura Masters, aged fifty-six years, of Luxton, passed away yesterday at the Royal Jubilee Hospital. She was born in Earl Shilton, Leicester, England, and had resided in Victoria for the past twenty-one years. Mrs. Masters is survived by her husband, Henry Masters, at home; one daughter, Miss Gertrude Mary Ndola, and one son, John Henry Masters, at home; two brothers, Horace and Walter Nixon, and two sisters, Mrs. S. Heard and Miss Florence Nixon, England. Mrs. Masters was a valued member of the Central Baptist Church. Rev. J. B. Rowell will officiate at services to be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at Sands Mortuary Chapel. Interment will be made in the Colwood Burial Park. Memorial services will be held Sunday morning at the Central Baptist Church.

The minimum standard of salary in the Church of Scotland is to be maintained at £350, and a manse in the four leading cities, and £300 and a manse elsewhere.

TOOK LAWRENCE ON HIS MISSION

J. H. Norton Tells of Romance Connected With Holy Land Campaign

The romantic campaigns of Allenby and Lawrence, in Arabia and Jerusalem, in the Great War, were recalled to members of the Rotary Club yesterday, in the Empress Hotel, when John H. Norton, who served with the Flying Corps in that famous chapter of the war, told of incidents in the days just before Jerusalem fell into the hands of the British.

In concluding his address, the speaker mentioned an old saying among the people of the Holy Land, who had suffered the oppression of the Turks for centuries, that when the waters of the Nile should flow into Palestine, then would come the son of a prophet from the West to deliver the Holy Land from the hands of the infidels (the Turks).

LOCAL PROPHECY

This, said Mr. Norton, was fulfilled in a strange way when engineers, during the war, were forced to find a means of supplying the army with water in the parched lands in the East. The engineers tapped the Nile, carrying the waters by pipe as the army advanced. The waters were taken under the Suez Canal, and piped on up in the wake of the army as it went forward toward Jerusalem. The interpretation of the prophecy lay in the fact that it was Allenby who delivered Jerusalem from the hands of the Turks. The name Allenby was similar to the Arabic word "Alnebi," which meant "son of a prophet."

The romantic character of the scene of fighting about Jerusalem lost none of its attraction in the hands of the speaker. He said he had had the good luck to be selected to go to the Holy Land in 1917, just before Jerusalem was taken by the British under Lord Allenby.

CARRIED LAWRENCE

When they got there, there was keen rivalry among the members of the Flying Corps as to who would have the honor of carrying Lawrence on a mission to line up the Arabs for blowing up railways of the Turks, thus interfering with their operations for long periods at a time.

Mr. Norton graphically described Lawrence on his arrival in camp. A slight figure, with nothing to distinguish him from an ordinary seeker of employment as an Arab interpreter, he came in unostentatiously. Lawrence rode in his airplane, taking two heavy cases of dynamite in the seat with him, but the contents were not known to Mr. Norton until they reached their destination and the Arabs were stopped by Lawrence from knocking the lids off the boxes with the butts of their rifles.

MOTLEY CREW

The party of Arabs, who formed the object of the mission, were described as the "biggest and toughest-looking cut-throats" he had ever seen.

The wrecking of the railway with the train carrying Turkish troops was described and, in addition, Mr. Norton gave an excellent description of the tactics adopted by Allenby for the final taking of Jerusalem. Under cover of night, the British cavalry was moved eastwards, and surprised the Turkish forces as they came upon them from the North just as they were at breakfast. So complete was the surprise that an air party, with instructions from the German high command, dropped down and handed their dispatches, to their astonishment, into the hands of a British sergeant.

The speaker was introduced to the meeting by Alex T. Stewart. He was given a hearty reception, being vociferously applauded.

BLACK CAT LUCK SHOWS ITS VALUE

Royal Society of St. George Almost on Verge of Extinction at Meeting

Perhaps it was the luck brought by a black cat that saved existence of Victoria Branch of the Royal Society of St. George at Memorial Hall last evening.

When members arrived to attend the annual meeting of the society, a small black cat of the Hallowe'en variety with arched back and upright tail was mewing at the door. Several made note of the feline's presence.

After a handful of people were seated inside, a pessimistic treasurer's report showing less than $10 on hand was presented. Rev. T. R. Lancaster then accused the society of being upon its last legs and asked those present if it was their wish to disband for the time being. For some time gloom prevailed. But the omen of the black cat soon commenced to work. Before long it was definitely and heartily decided to keep the society in existence, although no officers will be appointed until May.

It was decided to hold the annual banquet on May 6, in honor of St. George and the ascension of King George V to the throne twenty-five years ago. A speech composed by Rudyard Kipling for the occasion will be forwarded from England. T. H. Eslick and several speakers will be asked to attend.

"HAVE YOU NOTICED WHAT A BRILLIANT POLISH OLD DUTCH GIVES TO THE PORCELAIN BATHROOM FIXTURES?"

"INDEED I HAVE, AND I KNOW WHY. IT'S BECAUSE OLD DUTCH IS MADE WITH PURE 'SEISMOTITE,' THE BEST NATURAL CLEANING MATERIAL."

Old Dutch is the only cleanser made with pure "seismotite" (pronounced sis'-mo-tite) a fine, scratchless cleaning and polishing material of volcanic origin. It's ideal for all cleaning—kitchen utensils and floors, painted walls, woodwork, or on any surface where water may be used. It doesn't scratch. Costs less to use because it goes further.

Made in Canada

When Captain Scott was born

That intrepid explorer, Captain Scott, whose memory is revered throughout the Empire, was born in 1868.

The EMU Company was founded in the same year and has made history in another direction. It was a pioneer of Australian Wines and is to-day the largest exporter of wines from Australia.

EMU 444 and EMU 999—White and Tawny Port—are two of the Company's most famous wines. Produced on our own vineyards at Morphett Vale (South Australia); made under hygienic conditions and aged in-the-wood, they are Australia's choicest Ports.

Because of their Empire origin, they receive a tariff preference when entering Canada, which explains why they cost much less than Foreign Port of equal quality.

SPECIAL POWERS ACT

It has been the custom of the Provincial Government for several years past, whatever its political complexion may be, to bring in the most important legislation of the session at the eleventh hour. It would almost seem as if the purpose was to wait until the Members are weary of their duties and then spring upon them a succession of Bills which, because of the apathy induced by three sittings per diem, they will regard in a perfunctory way. It is a bad practice. It is one of the main reasons why so much half-baked legislation appears on the statute books of this province.

Now, at the eleventh hour, the Special Powers Act has been revived. It remained a dead letter after being passed last session, and its period of enforcement was limited to twelve months. Again the amended measure provides for the borrowing of money "on the sole credit of the Province," which means the credit of the Government without specific sanction by the Legislature. That is what is called blank cheque legislation, and it is of a character opposed to all conceptions of representative government. It is an admitted principle of the constitutional system that no money is legally available for public services but what has been placed at the disposal of Government by Parliament. Moreover, Parliament decrees, by specific grants, how money shall be expended. It is to override this constitutional obligation that the Special Powers Act is designed. There is not a shadow of necessity for it.

The revived Special Powers Act also gives the Government the authority to lend money to industries and municipalities and to aid any person in carrying out of any kind of industrial or productive operations and the payment of moneys out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund therefor, "or for any purpose otherwise considered necessary or advisable." That is in the nature of carte blanche legislation and opens up vistas of the distribution of largesse which might have certain vote-getting tendencies for the party in power, but which would operate distinctly against balanced budgets. The fact that the Special Powers Act during the past year has been, to all intents and purposes, an inert statute does not mean that it would remain so in the future. The powers it confers are dangerous and possessed of undoubtedly inimical possibilities for the taxpayers. They are powers wholly wanton on the basis of the safeguards regarding expenditure that are provided in the Constitution. The issue still exists that such powers are ultra vires of the Legislature itself, because that Legislature is confirmed and confined in its authority and may not vote away responsibility which is inherent in itself.

VANCOUVER ISLAND

The suggestion that the name of Vancouver Island be changed may well bring ridicule on this city, where it originated. Without any intention of being odious to the Mainland city bearing the same name as the Island, it would be just as sensible to advocate that the name of Scotland be changed to avoid confusion with a community of that name in South Dakota. Vancouver Island is the birthplace of British history on the Pacific Coast of America. It derives its name from the meeting at Nootka in 1792 of Captain George Vancouver, R.N., and Don Juan Francisco de la Bodega y Quadra. They had met to effect a peaceful settlement of a dispute that threatened war between Great Britain and Spain, and in a spirit of friendship and amity Quadra suggested that the name of Vancouver should be bestowed upon some geographic feature as a remembrance of that friendship. Responding in a like spirit, the gallant British navigator insisted on coupling with his own, the name of Quadra, and for years the Island bore the joint names of these outstanding representatives of two rival maritime powers. In the course of time the name of the Island was shortened to retain only that of Vancouver, who was the first commander of a civilized nation to circumnavigate it.

As Vancouver's Island—the possessive being used until after the Union of 1866— it was chartered as a Crown Colony in 1849, and as such enjoyed the distinction of being the first Western land to set up British parliamentary institutions. The name has been written into the history of the Empire and the geographies of the world from the first days of Occidental civilization on this Coast. Even to suggest that there should be a change is to advance an absurdity that cannot be defended on any grounds.

PARTY DISCIPLINE

Radicals of all sorts are constitutionally unfriendly to personal liberty. There is a certain uncompromising temper which seems to belong to the ideologist and particularly to the political visionary, who is, only too often, likely to be a man of one idea with a fatal twist in his mental processes, a hopeless rigidity in his wrong-headed logic. Much has been said and written concerning the "dynamic" quality of ideas, of their liveliness, of their leavening power, of the speed with which they spread through the world. Much might also be said of the tyranny which an idea or a set of ideas may exercise over the minds of some men, a circumstance which is apt to have far-reaching effects upon their intercourse with others. History furnishes examples enough of the fanatical zeal of political crusaders and of their patent inability to imagine it possible that they might be mistaken or that other people could possibly be on the right track.

The average man accustomed to the compromise and sensible give-and-take of ordinary social intercourse is inclined to feel and to express astonishment at the intolerance of radical opinion and the severity of radical party discipline, but the phenomenon is natural enough. Socialism, for example, is a projected system of government in which the "proletariat" is, by a ghastly fiction, supposed to express its will through the medium of a small "committee" of pure-souled patriots who have generously accepted the "duty" of serving the public, but who are really to be an irresponsible camarilla, intolerant of criticism and unscrupulous to the last degree in the use of the power with which they are to be entrusted.

Those former docile members of one of the Socialist parties of Canada who have ventured to express opinions unpleasing to the officials of the organization and who have either meekly toed the mark or have been driven out of the party are being treated to a mild, a very mild, dose of Socialistic party discipline. Servility is the true badge of the loyal rank-and-file Socialist. The planned economy of the Socialist regime leaves no room for anything else than unreasoning obedience in the Socialistic hive, an unquestioning acceptance of the pure doctrine as preached and enforced by the head centre of the bureaucracy. Let the dissatisfied Socialists rejoice that the Socialists are not in power in Canada. Let them rejoice also that they are not living under a Russian regime, in which criticism is a truly dangerous pastime, where those who sit in the seats of the mighty have certainly the means and the power and might also have the will to silence them effectually.

A NEWSPAPER'S DIAMOND JUBILEE

The Halifax Herald is celebrating the diamond jubilee of its first publication. It is a significant thing that William Dennis, uncle of Senator W. H. Dennis, the present proprietor, was once a humble member of its staff, but a bright and energetic one always, who went from success to success until he acquired control both of The Herald and The Mail of Halifax. The present Senator Dennis has been the guiding force of The Herald since 1920, and he has shown in all his actions not only a forceful personality but one of unusual enterprise and initiative. He has done more than any individual to advertise the potentialities of the Maritime Provinces. It was he who engineered in Parliament the establishment of a Federal tourist development bureau, so that his energies in this direction have been extended for the good of Canada as a whole.

The Herald has had a line of distinguished editors, including Mr. Martin J. Griffin, afterwards Parliamentary Librarian at Ottawa; Mr. Robert Sedgewick, later a judge of the Supreme Court of Canada; Mr. Charles H. Cahan, former leader of the Conservatives in Nova Scotia and Secretary of State, and Mr. Duncan Campbell, so well known as an historian. The Halifax Herald enjoys a position of prominence in the newspaper life of the country, particularly as the voice of the Maritime Provinces. Its fortunes are in safe hands with Senator Dennis in control. His personality has won him many warm friendships throughout the length and breatdth of the country, and particularly among his newspaper colleagues.

Mr. A. E. Sartin, of 2093 Crescent Road, reminds us that it was fifty years ago (on March 22, 1885) that the Battle of Tofrek, or McNeil's Zareba, was fought by the Gordon Relief Expeditionary Force. The battle, though lasting only thirty minutes, was responsible for 3,000 casualties. There are Victorians still living who were present at the engagement. Mr. Sartin himself was with the Royal Marines and subsequently joined the 8th Battalion, C.E.F., during the course of the Great War.

THE WIND

There are so many vagrant winds
And all of them are blest;
But one wind passes through my soul
Stirring my feet to quest.
Laden with breath of pulsing soil
Sweet-soaked with Spring's soft rain;
Fragrantly filled with secret scents
Of woods where leaves have lain.
Haunter of cliff-bound solitudes
Carrying Sea's salt kiss;
Mazing my heart with happiness. . . .
Can man give more than this?

—Hilda I. Rostron, in The Empire Review.

Brevity is the body and soul of wit. It is wit itself, for it alone isolates sufficiently for contrasts; because redundancy or diffuseness produces no distinctions.

—Jean Paul Richter.

Self-laudation abounds among the unpolished; but nothing can stamp a man more sharply as ill-bred.

—Charles Buxton.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Cry Havoc! and let slip the dogs of war.
—Shakespeare.

Knowledge may be acquired from books, information gathered from reading the newspapers, but wisdom cometh with years and experience. The funnies are interesting to some people, and the humorous paragraphs the make-up man uses for the purpose of filling up little spaces at the end of his columns are occasionally really humorous, but as a rule no one expects to find philosophical precepts hiding there. Well, at the bottom of a column this morning we discovered a rather arresting paragraph. The short story was about a wise old lady who was asked how she had managed to span more than a century. The answer was that she had lived long by diligently minding her own business.

Would it be safe to postulate that millions of people would live longer and the lives of some nations would be longer if they attended strictly to their own business and refrained from meddling in other people's and other nations' business. Unfortunately, there are predatory people and predatory nations, with the result sufficiently evident that today there is business chaos and international confusion, and signs of strife everywhere. Individuals whose lives are peaceful and nations whose purposes are pacific do not prate about what they have done or what they intend to do. Neither do they meddle in affairs which do not directly concern them.

There are stormy petrels flying around and screaming over all the waters of the earth, in our own country and in other countries. Herr Adolph Hitler is the bird of evil omen soaring over Europe. The German dictator is constantly prating about his peaceful purposes; but what does a statesman whose intentions are pacific want with an army of a million men and an air armada of thousands of flying machines? The good old German God of the Hohenzollern days has been dethroned and in his place has been established a pagan deity which proclaims to an astounded and alarmed world that it is not right but might which must prevail. When the Kaiser was on the throne an army of a million men got out of control and a nation of sixty-five millions (called souls as a matter of courtesy) marched behind that great force, and in maniacal enthusiasm clamored for war even against all the world.

Apparently the great German nation has not gathered wisdom from years and experience. At any rate the present rulers of Germany appear to have forgotten the experiences of the last war. Possibly if the German people had experienced what the French people and the Belgian people, and to a lesser extent some other people experienced, in the late war, they might be content to consider the late war actually as a war which ended all wars as far as they are concerned. No doubt the Germans suffered physical privations and were afflicted with grief when they read the tables of mortality and watched their wounded when they were brought home and consigned to hospitals, but the conquering armies did not march into their country, bombard their towns, wontonly destroy their places of worship, seize their works of art and annihilate their industries. There was practically no obstacle to prevent the allied commanders from leading their forces to the German capital and taking possession of it, but as an act of courtesy such a justifiable blow (as current events prove) to the pride of the German people was not inflicted.

We of course do not know what is in the mind of the rulers and the people of Germany. Hitler professes to be an apostle and lover of peace; but it has been said actions speak louder than words. The dictator may merely as a matter of personal pride be organizing a great army and a formidable air fleet for the purpose of parading them upon the earth and showing them in the air. The rattling of arms and the bellowing of guns may bring joy to his soul; but his predecessor was tempted when he viewed his hosts and thought of the "pomp and circumstances of glorious war." Like another ambitious prince by the name of Lucifer, he was tempted and fell and pulled the German army into the hole after him. The new Germany, out of the hole and on its feet, has torn up all tell-tale scraps of paper, and is making gestures of defiance and derision in the face of not only all Europe but of the United States. The old Germany lost many of her possessions as a consequence of her period of madness, but the Germans have recovered their racial self-esteem, and they may try to recover their possessions. Other nations know that, and that is why Europe is seething with apprehension. The statesmen who know something about the German spirit and the German ambition realize that something should be done to keep Germany in her allotted place, but such an undertaking would involve war, and wisdom gathered from experience engenders dread of war. There is a snarling wolf abroad displaying symptoms of rabies. What statesman in all the nations will undertake to bell it? If the worst comes to the worst, will the nations indirectly concerned try to stop New Germany from going on a rampage?

GARBAGE DISPOSAL

Sir,—I quite agree with Mr. Napier Denison re garbage. I myself, for the last eight years, have been picking up garbage on the beach (which is not fair). Unless you throw your garbage in the middle of the sea like we do here at our auto camp, you get your garbage back. For a long time I have wanted to take this matter up.

If the other people would do as we do—put the garbage in bags with a stone in it and tie the bags—you wouldn't have to pick up so many tin cans like I have been doing for the last eight years, much to my disgust.

ZETA HARRISON.

AUTOMATIC TRAFFIC SIGNALS

Sir,—With so many elderly retired people constantly coming to Victoria to make their homes, adequate and efficient automatic traffic signals should be installed as early as possible for their safety as well as for the safety of other aged residents, who know the city streets well, but who are not so spry as they once were, to mention one thing in favor of having the signals.

It cannot be denied that there are some carelessly and badly-driven cars in this city and that the pedestrian is entitled to the protection these signals would give. At times (when the present stop-and-go sign is not in operation) one can see automobiles driving along Douglas Street, honking the poor pedestrian out of the way as he endeavors to cross the intersections between the white lines, where I have always understood he has the right-of-way in any city. It might well be such automobile drivers who are opposed to any sort of traffic signal regulation. It has been said that automobiles are insured against everything while most people are not insured against anything.

As motorists and pedestrians alike become more and more used to obeying traffic signals, it tends to make all of them careful on streets where there are no signals at all. That is surely something. While considerable firmness has to be shown by the traffic officers in educating the public in this, no reasonable person would resent it, since it eventually works out to the benefit of all by making the city streets safe.

NEW WESTMINSTER BRIDGE

Sir,—Last week both Liberals and Conservatives expressed their approval of the less harmful practices of patronage. This week rumors of a split in the Government over the New Westminster bridge project have occasioned frank comments in the press. One wonders whether the citizens of this province are still smugly satisfied with a quality of government which would not be tolerated in any other country in the British Empire.

It would be foolish and unjust to lay all the blame on the Liberals. In the past twenty years the Legislature of British Columbia has had a standard of political morality which is comparable only with that of Tammany Hall. Unlike us, the people of Great Britain are alert in the maintenance of decent government. Consider, for instance, the tremendous public interest that was aroused by the Marconi scandal. In this province a similar accusation, that a minister had profited financially by his foreknowledge of legislation which would affect the stock market, would not even have news interest.

Our present Government secured the spoils of office by a confidence trick. The old-fashioned confidence man sold a plated metal brick by persuading the ignorant that it was solid gold. He secured the confidence of simple people by using decoys who posed as honest men and by their words and actions expressed their faith in his promises. Those helpers were not of the inner circle, but they were members of the gang and shared in the loot. Is there much difference between a Government which duped the public by promises which they brazenly refuse to keep and such a gang of confidence men?

The New Westminster bridge bill will provide a simple test of character. There is much public disapproval of the decision to give a company which has $305 capital a contract to build a $3,000,000 toll bridge at the Government's expense, on terms of 71-2 per cent commission. Five per cent will be paid as an engineering fee for plans and supervision. Remember, Liberal candidates caught many votes by their declaration that they were free to vote against the Government and that on every question they would exercise their own judgment.

How many Liberal members will vote against the Government? They are now enjoying their shares of the proceeds of a confidence game in which every one of them played a contemptible and treacherous part. But let us be fair. Some of them may plead that they are honest men who believed that the brick was solid gold and that the promises would be kept. In this matter they can keep one promise; they can exercise their freedom to vote in protection of the interests of the people who trusted them. Watch them now.

EMPOWER COMMITTEE TO GO AHEAD WITH MARKETING SCHEME

The Victoria Poultry Association last night authorized the standing committee to go ahead with its marketing scheme, as drawn up in accordance with the Federal Natural Products Act. The committee, comprising G. Barber, H. G Robinson, W. D. Rutherford, J. H. Rutherford and Brian Hoole, was further instructed to confer with Up-Island producers on the matter, then present the scheme to the Provincial board.

Certain opposition to the scheme, advanced recently by Mainland producers, was discussed, but members of the local association believed a compromise could be reached.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock, add 12 ft. to the height of high water as above given.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of March 22, 1885)

Successful Sale—Joseph Wolf held his first real estate sale in the city last evening. The property offered comprised twenty-five lots situated in the vicinity of the Lion Brewery, each lot being about one-sixth of an acre. The highest price paid for a single lot was $180. The average price was $124 per lot and the aggregate sum obtained was $3,100, or almost $780 an acre. This result is considered very favorable and the auctioneer's abilities were loudly extolled by those who attended.

Port Moody News—Last Thursday night there had arrived from Victoria and from up-country over 100 white railway laborers, over and above what were already on the grounds about the terminus. Last evening there arrived about fifty more. All these men are to work upon the track and yard immediately about Port Moody, and a large additional number is expected forthwith. Three gangs of Chinese laborers are at work in the immediate vicinity of the wharf, and another gang was expected to arrive from up-country yesterday.

RESEARCH AND DR. NEWTON

The decision of the Federal Department of Agriculture to send Dr. William Newton, pathologist-in-charge of the Dominion Laboratory of Plant Pathology at Saanichton, to study methods of virus disease research in the Old Country and to make recommendations for the establishment of a laboratory in Canada, to well-merited recognition of his ability as a research worker and as an organizer.

Since he established the laboratory at Saanichton he has done a vast amount of good work. The fruit, bulb and seed growers have benefited in no small measure by the sympathetic, able and generous manner in which he has assisted them in finding solutions to their problems. The organization he leaves behind is capable and well-established, but the cheerful personality of Dr. Newton will be missed. His many friends wish him every success in his mission, and will keenly anticipate his return in six or seven months.—H. C. M.

DITCH THE DEAD STUFF

In a ramble about the city one often sees in vacant stores, or upon signboards, notices advertising events which have long since come and gone. Nobody likes to walk past a sign and be reminded of some affair that was not worth the money, or of some function that one wanted desperately to attend, but was unable to through lack of cash or through having to stay home with the kids while the wife was out "bridging." How much better the city would look if these notices were allowed to be put up only upon the understanding that they must be removed immediately the events they tell of are over.—G. B.

TO MAKE PLANS FOR CELEBRATION

Ladysmith Council Arranges for Public Meeting—Fix Mill Rate This Month

LADYSMITH, March 21. — The City Council considered a resolution from the City of Revelstoke at the regular meeting last evening. The resolution asked that the Provincial and Federal Governments be called upon to create productive employment in every province, in line with the requirements of the unemployment situation.

A letter similar to that received by the Board of Trade from the inspector of customs at Victoria intimated to the council that a customs office at Ladysmith at the present time was not warranted by the amount of business transacted.

A tender of $15 for the wrecking and clearing away of the Portland Hotel was laid over until the next meeting. It is hoped that in the meantime more satisfactory tenders may be received, and, if not, the committee of the board of works may undertake the task of clearing and making the site more attractive.

At the request of Adjutant John Sharp, permission was granted to the Salvation Army to hold a tag day in Ladysmith on April 6.

A letter from Mrs. A. B. Marshall, of Victoria, protesting against the proposal that the city lease the scenic area known as Arcady for tourist development purposes, was read. The communication was filed without comment.

Arrangements were made to hold a public meeting in the council chamber next Monday to consider plans for the local celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of His Majesty's accession to the throne. A delegation from the local unit of the Army and Navy Veterans informed the council that the unit had tentative plans in hand for a dance, and suggested that the council might support the idea of a bonfire in the Market Square. Details of the plan will, however, be finally arranged next Monday.

The school and city estimates for the current year were again considered, and the council decided it would be possible to fix the mill rate before the end of this month.

Activity in Fur Mart Good Omen

TACOMA, Wash., March 21 (AP). —Alaska furs of every description were snapped up by buyers at the fur sale here yesterday. The buyers spent $62,000 for furs in the most active sale here since 1929.

Ninety-five per cent of the offerings were sold.

Quality of the furs was good. Activity in the fur market is indicative of more prosperity, buyers said. They predicted the strong market will continue.

RADIO ADDRESSES INFLUENCE VIEWS

As a result of Premier R. B. Bennett's radio addresses, citizens of Ontario are convinced that he and his party will return to power, while Prairie farmers and businessmen generally are equally sure the Prime Minister will be defeated at the next election, according to E. Dominion Has Too Many Governments Thinks J. W. Jones

Former Provincial Minister of Finance Says Administrations Could Be Curtailed—Favors Unification of Railways to Reduce Operating Costs—Reviews Federal Policies

"I THINK we are over-governed from one end of Canada to the other. We have too many Provincial Governments and I think we have too many members in the House of Commons. It would seem now was the time to give this matter some consideration," declared J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance in the former Tolmie administration, in an address to members of Ward Two Conservative Association last night.

Mr. Jones mentioned Canada was governed by one Federal, nine provincial and approximately 274 municipal governments. He believed, he said, the Maritimes could be efficiently administered with one government, and the same in the three Prairie Provinces. British Columbia, because of its far-Western position, would have to retain its own government, he stated.

FEDERAL MATTERS

Mr. Jones spoke principally of Federal matters and reviewed some of the policies of the Bennett Government, mentioning in particular the reform programme as outlined by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett earlier in the year. He believed those policies would tend to solve many of the problems with which Canada was faced. By way of comparison between Mr. Bennett and the Leader of the Opposition, Mr. Jones asserted the former was a man of action, while Mr. King had shown little inclination to assist and had adopted a policy of compromise.

"I do not think any man could have gone through what Mr. Bennett has and not broken under the strain of the last four years. It is indeed fortunate for Canada that we had a man of the calibre of the Prime Minister at the head of affairs," Mr. Jones remarked.

RAILWAY PROBLEM

The railway problem, Mr. Jones claimed, was a legacy of the Liberal administration and has continued to be one of the major problems of the present Government at Ottawa, although the pressure has been somewhat relieved through efforts at economy in operation of the Government-owned system. He said it was deplorable the enormous debt that had been created. It had reached the point where it had become impossible to even pay interest. He referred specifically to the expenditures on hotels from coast to coast and those he termed "monuments of brick for which the country is now paying millions of dollars."

Mr. Jones said he personally favored unification of control and management of the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific Railways. Under the present arrangement, he declared, there could be nothing but deficits and debts.

TARIFF PREFERENCES

Other matters dealt with by the speaker were the marketing problems of the Western farmers and the value of preferences created by the present Government. He mentiond timber as an example of the operation of a preferential tariff with Great Britain and overseas Dominions. Mr. Jones said the Bennett Government was saving the Dominion $18,000,000 annually in interest charges through its sound refunding policy and this was being accomplished in addition to taking care of the unemployment and providing provincial governments with increased subsidies.

"If it were not for the payments from Ottawa, the present Government would not be able to carry on. Grants from Ottawa are keeping the Provincial Government going today," Mr. Jones declared.

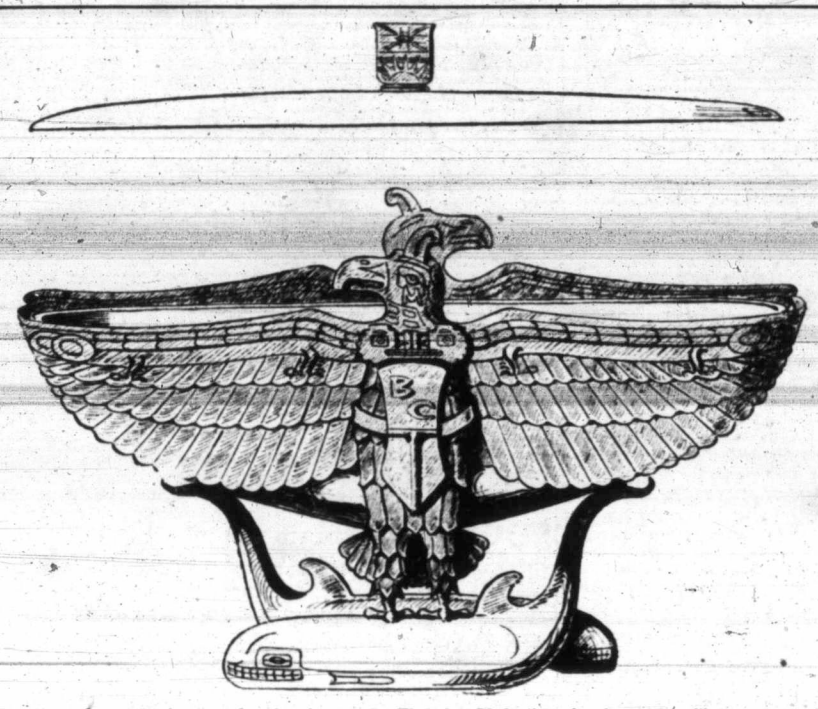

CONSTITUTIONAL AID

Preceding Mr. Jones on the platform was W. H. M. Haldane, who gave a brief but clear explanation of the constitutional question, which, he said, would likely be raised as an issue in the coming Federal election. Mr. Haldane stated Mr. Bennett had undoubtedly taken the advice of able counsel before going ahead with the introduction of social legislation that might be construed under the British North America Act, as being the sole function of provincial governments under the section of "property and civil rights."

The Government at Ottawa, Mr. Haldane asserted, was merely adopting a procedure which, he personally believed, was constitutionally sound. The Government was merely giving ratification to conventions that had been included, in general terms, in the Treaty of Versailles. By this means Mr. Bennett would be able to make his reforms immediately operative and could await their tests in the courts at some future date, if such test cases were undertaken.

The meeting was presided over by T. Heaslip, and the following programme was given: Solos by Mrs. Crawford and Mrs. R. D. Harvey, accompanied by Miss Wilson; pipe playing by Miss Lillian Grant, and Scotch dances by Miss Gwen Dewar and Miss Jessie Pollock. Refreshments were served, with Mrs. R. D. Harvey and Mrs. K. Palmer pouring the tea.

General Reports Are Approved by Veterans' Club

Reports regarding finance, membership and work of sick committees were presented and enthusiastically received at a general meeting of the Army and Navy Veterans' Club last night.

W. J. Simpson, winner of the Finlinson Billiard Cup, was presented with the trophy by President J. S. Scarfe, and V. H. Munn, runner-up in the billiard play, was presented with a medal by A. H. Finlinson.

Seven new members were admitted to the club, and the annual grant of $25 to the Salvation Army was approved by the meeting.

Outlook Not Bright In International or National Situation

Prof. F. H. Soward, University Extension Lecturer, Pictures Baffling Complexity of Problems Facing Statesmen and Economists

ARGUING alike against economic nationalism, dictatorships, and any of the yet-attempted inflational monetary policies, Professor F. H. Soward, of the University of British Columbia, painted by no means an optimistic picture of "The Outlook in International Affairs," in addressing a capacity University Extension Society audience at the Girls' Central School last evening.

In a characteristically brilliant way the lecturer sketched the political and economic background of the international and national problems, which absorb the attention of thinking men the world over at the present time. From a general picture of post-war conditions, particularly throughout Europe, he progressed to a review of conditions since the onset of the depression to the immediate present with its peculiarly aggravated problems among the nations, both in the international and domestic sense.

"He has impressed us with the fact that there are false prophets abroad, and false prophecies," said Dr. H. M. Cassidy, director of social services for British Columbia, who, in the unavoidable absence of the Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, presided and both introduced and thanked the speaker.

MACHINE AGE

"We are facing a crisis that has its foundations in a society that started in the machine age," the lecturer said in the opening part of his address. He gave a depressing picture of the terrible unemployment conditions that prevail throughout most of the countries of the world.

In connection with the economic collapse there were mentioned, as special phases, the departure of Great Britain from gold in 1929-31; the departure of America from gold, and the period of greater confidence created following the Lausanne conference.

There were hopeful signs in the decline of surplus of world stock in connection with certain commodities, partly due to deliberate destruction, partly due to deliberate restriction, partly due to drought. Among industrial nations there had been a definite rise in production during the past three years with corresponding lessening of unemployment in these countries, although Great Britain had 60,000 more unemployed in January this year than in the same month last year. On the other hand the decline in world trade had not been arrested, with a related decrease in world mercantile marine activities.

NO GUIDE

"No economist is prepared to offer a programme that will offer a consistent guide to recovery," it was noted. What had taken place, economists had agreed, had taken place in spite of methods adopted by different governments for protection of their own countries. This had the single merit that it might cause some attempt at international effort to solve problems aggravated by conditions in world politics. Certainly the problems of war and peace had had the effect of making international relations more fluent than at any time since before the war.

The German policy in Europe was discussed. This seemed to be based on race consciousness and the conviction that the German people were superior people and should rule Europe—a conviction held by their leader, Hitler, and others.

"We made a supreme mistake in handling the German policy at Versailles," said the speaker, who thought it had been an error to make the Germans sign "on the dotted line." Three men particularly criticized in this connection were President Wilson, who saw too far into the future; Clemenceau, who saw too far into the past, and Lloyd George. A determination that Germany should have an equal and honorable place among the nations had been shared by every government in that country since the war, and Germany's determination to rearm had been made clear during the past few days.

PACTS AND TREATIES

A review was given of pacts and treaties agreed upon, sometimes only to be refuted, by the various powers of Central Europe. The pact of Germany and Poland, whereby Hitler renounced for ten years the Polish Corridor, had resulted in a gesture of independence on the part of Poland in throwing off her treaties and evading an attempt on the part of France to renew her treaty. It was singular in the fact that Poland was the only country in Europe to make a move of friendship toward Germany.

While "transformations of policy" were going on in Europe, the attitude of the respective nations toward the League of Nations was also changing. France, the speaker commented, had used the League as an instrument to protest against Germany's violation of her obligations under the League. Great Britain now recognized that the British frontier was no longer the English Channel, but the Rhine.

Professor Soward indicated a definite opposition to the filling of the office of Foreign Minister by Sir John Simon, who, he maintained, had prejudiced relations by his tactlessness, "his quality of suave vacillation, which gets on the nerves both of his enemies and his friends," and by his "legalistic casuistry," citing as an instance of his tactlessness the charges he had recently made against the German youth movement and other conditions in Germany.

The closing part of the address was chiefly occupied with international relations in the Far East between China and Japan and between Japan and Russia, and with the policy of the United States, "which is faced by a gigantic internal crisis," while "Europe is simply bewildered by the fact that Roosevelt, with the biggest majority given to any Government since the war, cannot manage Congress."

In the supplementary votes for last year and that preceding, $12,000 was said to be attributable to added costs in the Securities Branch, partly in connection with the Wayside and Nicola Mines inquiries; $60,000 additional for the Provincial Police, due to a larger force, municipal policing and labor troubles. The votes included $52,000 in added salary grants to schools; $96,927 in the Provincial Secretary's Department; $41,400 of unexpected expenditures in the Labor Department; $21,671 of added expenditures in the Lands Department, and other sums for other purposes. One vote of $5,000 was explained as an advance last year to the work of the Fuel Commission.

Current estimates in the Railway Branch went through at $75,139, a reduction from $80,286 last year, and in the Premier's Office, $16,160, compared with $19,000 last year. The committee rose with all but statutory supply completed.

Joint Financial Drive of Groups Terminates Today

WITH officials confident that the drive was the most successful of any held to date, the joint financial campaign of the Y.M.C.A.-Y.W.C.A. will formally conclude tonight at a dinner report meeting in the Y.W.C.A. at 6 o'clock. All team members are asked to be present.

INFORMATION IS REFUSED

TO PAY LUMP SUMS

The Labor Minister said lump sums will be paid again this year to provinces to finance direct relief with municipalities. The system was inaugurated this year and, although some provinces were dissatisfied with the cash settlements, the minister believed it had worked well.

The Government had a majority of forty-one on second reading of the Relief Bill. Liberals and Labor-ites voted against the bill, which will be used to extend relief agreements with provinces for another year. Progressives lined up with Conservatives to support it.

PRIMATE OF CANADA NOW IN VICTORIA

Most Rev. D. T. Owen Reaches City—Will Speak Tomorrow

C. L. FOSTER HERE WITH ARCHBISHOP

Somewhat unexpectedly, for he was not scheduled to reach here until Saturday, the Most Rev. Derwyn Trevor Owen, Archbishop of Toronto, and Primate of the Church of England in Canada, arrived in Victoria yesterday, accompanied by C. L. Foster, Toronto, assistant lay secretary to the General Synod.

Archbishop Owen will speak in the Memorial Hall tomorrow at 8:15 p.m., to officers and others connected with the restoration fund. On Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock, he will preach from the pulpit of St. Mary's Church, in Oak Bay, and at 8:15 p.m. will conduct a special service in Christ Church Cathedral. Admission to the evening service will be by ticket.

AT COURTENAY

Mr. Foster will speak tomorrow night at Courtenay. He will deliver a sermon there on Sunday morning, and at 7 p.m. he will speak from the pulpit of St. Paul's Church in Nanaimo.

This is Archbishop Owen's first visit to Victoria since being elected Primate by the General Synod six months ago. Since that time he has visited thirteen dioceses.

The Primate said he was pleased with the church attendance during the depression years, in an interview at the Empress Hotel, yesterday. He explained he found the people more inclined to turn to the church for spiritual guidance and comfort in times of distress.

RESTORATION FUND

However, despite straitened financial circumstances of most church supporters, there was a generous response to appeals from the church, especially to the restoration fund appeal, Archbishop Owen added. He is at present making a wide appeal for the restoration fund.

The response to this appeal had been wonderful, the Primate said. The objective was $1,071,000, to be raised within three years. At the end of two years the sum of $853,000 had been subscribed, of which $621,000 had been contributed actually in cash.

DIES IN NANAIMO

NANAIMO, March 21. — John Stevenson, aged seventy, died here today at his home on Kennedy Street following a very brief illness. He had resided in Nanaimo for twenty-eight years. Besides his wife, he leaves one son, James, of Vancouver, and a stepson, Thomas Miller, of Victoria. The funeral will be on Saturday at 3 o'clock from the Chapman Funeral Home.

on prerogatives of the Crown. Mr. Speaker Perry took the Premier's point of order under advisement.

PORT MOODY

Explaining the second Gray bill on second reading, Hon. A. W. Gray said it had reference to refunding for Port Moody, where the corporation was unable to pay its debts, and had secured the consent of bondholders to reconvert.

The extension would be for twelve years at an average interest rate of 4.35 per cent, and representatives of the bondholders had agreed that the scheme was very fair, Mr. Gray concluded. He displayed charts of tax-reverted lands in Port Moody. Second reading followed.

One clause in the bill provides for the deferment of certain classes of interest, to be represented by coupon and become payable at the new maturity.

A bill to validate fixed tax concessions between Burnaby and the Standard Oil Company, willing to provide a refinery there, was read a second time.

NEW BILLS ENTER

Four new bills were introduced; two by message, and two by waiving customary notice of leave to introduce. One measure is to grant indemnity to Hon. H. G. Perry, Mr. Speaker, when he goes to London this year to represent British Columbia organizations at the King's Jubilee. Mr. Perry will be granted $2,500 towards his expenses.

The Minister of Municipal Affairs introduced a bill to amend the Municipal Act; and, as Minister of Lands, a bill to amend the Sumas Drainage and Diking Act.

BILL 99

Bill 99 came down in the morning sitting. It is entitled "An Act to Facilitate the Growing of Pure Seed of Vegetable and Field Crops." Its purpose will be explained later.

Amendments to the Court of Appeal Act, Distress Act, and Optometry Act were ordered read a second time.

The House recessed at 5:37 p.m., until 8:30 p.m.

OVER 17 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

THIN WEAK SUDS— HARD RUBBING— STRONG ALKALIES— WORN-OUT CLOTHES!

Have you ever stooped down close and smelled a package of cheap soap-chips? Noticed a rancid, fatty odor? Such an odor taints your clothes. But still worse . . . soap made from strong-smelling ingredients gives you poor, weak suds. They won't get the dirt out of clothes! You have to rub and scrub . . . and rubbing wears the very life out of your clothes!

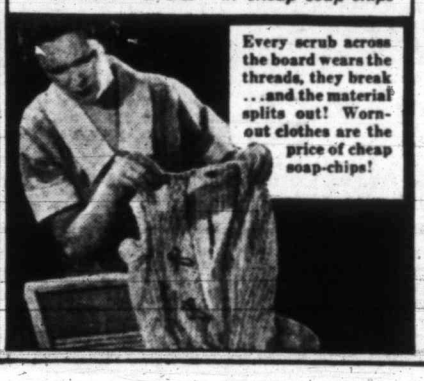

Faded colors—worn fabrics

Strong bleaching alkalies take the place of real, thick suds. And they redden your hands. When you notice that they do that, remember they work on your clothes, too! They weaken material. They fade color. Gradually your clothes and linens—worth hundreds of dollars—look dull, worn and ragged. It costs a lot of money to replace them. Economy? Just the opposite!

Switch to Chipso and honest economy. Chipso is SOAPIER. Its rich, safe suds lift out dirt. You don't rub the life out of your clothes!

SAVED 3¢ ON CHEAP SOAP-CHIPS —SPENT 10¢ ON DYE!

Here's the "RUB" in cheap soap-chips

Every scrub across the board wears the threads, they break . . . and the material splits out! Worn-out clothes are the price of cheap soap-chips!

3 ECONOMY POINTS IN BUYING PACKAGE SOAP
1. BUY SAFETY . . . Avoid cheap soap-chips. Strong bleaching alkalies fade colors—weaken materials. Chipso has no harsh effect. It keeps clothes like new.
2. BUY SPEED . . . Free fatty acids in cheap chips slow down sudsing . . . make rinsing hard. Good, rich Chipso suds soak dirt loose . . . rinse in a flash.
3. BUY SUDS . . . Cheapened soap-chips lack real soap . . . won't give good suds. Chipso is soapier . . . makes 3-inch suds that hold up.

CHIPSO IS SAFE . . MAKES CLOTHES WEAR LONGER

"We'll stick to Chipso" say women

"Saves clothes and money"

"Rubless Chipso washdays save our clothes," says Mrs. T. W. O'Connell. "The colors of my little girls' year-old dresses are still bright. Even our sheer dresses aren't frayed."

No boiling!

"I have no use for a washboard, or a boiler, or for soaking clothes overnight," says Mrs. Herbert F. Deyhle. "A 15-minute soaking in Chipso for white clothes . . . ten minutes for colored clothes . . . is all they need. No hard rubbing. Our white clothes are pure white. They smell sweet."

"My smooth hands say Chipso is safe"

"Chipso makes quick, lasting suds for dishes," says Mrs. Wellington Hunter. "They cut grease in a jiffy and make china sparkle. Yet Chipso leaves my hands nice, and that proves it's safe for everything."

TWO FIRES BREAK OUT AS CONVICTS REBEL

learned, and guards concentrated on breaking down the door to the shoe shop, where a group of convicts had locked themselves in.

No one was injured, and the big institution beside Lake Ontario was as quiet as it has been, without exception, since last May, when damage estimated at from $30,000 to $40,000 was caused by fire in the change-room. Prisoners howled and "yammered" on that occasion.

NO NOISE HEARD

The city was surprised when word flashed across town late today that fire had broken out in the prison. Residents in the vicinity of the penitentiary had heard no noise from the other side of the high walls. There had been no yammering, no hint that the peace of ten months was to be broken.

Hundreds of citizens who tried to get close to the prison were kept at a distance by a police cordon. No one was allowed within two blocks of the institution. In the dusk and darkness it was impossible to see anything more than smoke rising from the centre of the prison lot.

One-half of Kingston's fire department had been rushed to Sydenham, eighteen miles north of here, to battle a fire that caused damage of $60,000 to $100,000 in the town. When the call from the prison was received between 6 and 7 o'clock, the rest of the men and equipment answered it.

GUARDS FIGHT FLAMES

Deputy Chief Fred Reibe was in charge. It was believed prison guards tried to put out the flames and fought vainly for some time before the city department was called. The flames had caused heavy damage to the shoe shop and mail bag building when the brigade reached the prison.

Convict workers had just left or were leaving their jobs for the day, when the door of the shoe shop was slammed shut from the inside and smoke started seeping through a small space at the floor. There was no other sign of disorder in the institution, it was said.

The nearby blacksmith and carpenter shops and other workrooms were deserted.

When the door was broken down and the fifty convicts taken to their cells, the guards attacked the fire. It was believed they must have worked for an hour before calling on the downtown brigade for assistance.

Black Robe Will Be Shown Again

"The Black Robe," the Victoria-made motion picture, which on complaint of the Chinese consul at Vancouver was seized by the motion picture censors department, was returned to the exhibitors yesterday by Inspector Owens, of the Provincial Police. It will be shown for three days next week at the Columbia Theatre, having undergone but very slight alteration in one scene.

Col. J. F. Keen, of Vancouver, president of the Northern Films, Limited, the owners of "The Black Robe," which was made by the Commonwealth Producers, stated yesterday on his arrival from Vancouver that plans are under way by his company for the production of a series of films in Victoria.

MUST WRITE ALLEGATIONS

Saanich Council in Hot Debate Over Demanded Dismissals

Unless ratepayers' associations in Saanich make specific charges against municipal employees, in letters seeking their dismissal, they will not be considered by the Saanich Council, it was decided by that body last night after a twenty-minute discussion. The debate arose out of a letter from Ward Three Ratepayers' Association demanding dismissal of Dr. David Berman, medical health officer.

The association will be informed that, unless specific charges are made in writing, no council action will be taken. Councillors G. S. Eden and Fred Borden voted against tabling the matter, contending, with Reeve William Crouch, that it should be received and filed.

Councillor A. G. Lambrick, representative of the Ward Association, supported the letter.

URGES FILING LETTER

Reeve Crouch declared at the outset that the letter should be filed. "I'm not ready to fire a man unless there's some definite charge," he said. Councillor Lambrick declared the reeve did not attend ratepayers' meetings to get facts on matters.

"No, you bet I don't. I know a whole lot of people who are so fed up on these meetings, at which only a handful of people attend, that they won't go any more," the reeve replied.

"I won't stand for the 'firing' of any municipal official unless we are shown he should be dismissed," said Councillor Eden.

Councillor Edward C. Warren moved that the ratepayers be asked to make more definite charges.

Reeve Crouch once more declared, "These ratepayers want to 'fire' everyone of the council and the reeve, too, but when it comes to election time, nothing happens."

Councillor Lambrick declared that his association felt that a more suitable man could be secured at a lower cost than the present medical health officer, if applications were called.

NEEDS EXPERIENCE

"Oh, well, you've only been in harness three months. Wait until you've had a little experience with these associations," cut in Councillor Eden.

"I've had lots of experience with medical men, and I'm positive we can get a man more reasonably," declared Councillor Lambrick.

"You shouldn't discuss this matter until the association makes those charges in writing," cautioned the reeve.

"Councillor Lambrick represents Ward Three and should be allowed to express his opinion," said Councillor Warren.

"If I was in Councillor Lambrick's shoes I'd be careful about all these 'he saids and they saids' in discussing this matter," contended Councillor Eden. "You get on dangerous ground when you start quoting people in things like this. But if Councillor Lambrick wants to do it, it's up to him," added Councillor Eden.

Councillor Warren said that many ratepayers had complained of the $35 car allowance given Dr. Berman. Councillor W. R. Woods pointed out that the health officer had taken the largest single cut of any municipal official — nearly 50 per cent. "Saanich should be complimented on our health — it is better than in any other municipality," he declared.

Again Reeve Crouch urged that the matter be filed, but on a vote it was decided to allow the association to present its charges in writing.

INSURANCE FOR MINORS FOUGHT

Bill in Legislature Will Permit Children to Contract for Policies

Clauses in amendments to the Insurance Act, which will give children of fifteen years of age and over the right to contract for life insurance with the full effect of a grown person of legal age, drew fire in the Legislature yesterday evening. The clause in question read:

"A minor shall, after attaining the age of fifteen years, have the capacity of a person of full age to" take life insurance; to deal with insurance taken before the age of fifteen; and, if married, to deal with insurance in respect to his wife and children, if any.

WILL MAKE SURVEY

High-pressure sales of insurance were criticized by the Opposition, and a brief but warm debate followed. Attorney-General Sloan said he would have a survey made. Meanwhile, the clause passed.

Advent of Lloyd's into business in British Columbia, other than marine risks, was mentioned in discussion on an amendment offered by S. S. McKeen, Vancouver, which would make it necessary for the British association to pay a deposit within the province, from which it is now exempt. This clause was stood over at the request of Herbert Anscomb, Victoria.

Proceeding on bills, the House gave third reading to the Prince Rupert Refunding Bill, the Public Inquiries Act as amended, and the consolidation of the Motor Vehicles Act.

Amendments to the Nurses Regulation Act were completed in committee after Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir had explained that nurses will not be subject to back fees to the registered association if after leaving practice they give notice. Dr. Weir said the intent was that no nurses should be penalized who may be forced to return to the profession later in life.

Special Council Meeting Is Set For 3 P.M. Today

ACTING Mayor Percy R. Brown has called a special meeting of the City Council to take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon. At the session, it is expected, Aldermen T. W. Hawkins, R. A. C. Dewar, Andrew McGavin and Archie Wills will be given authority to deal with applications for the position of city wiring inspector.

A by-law authorizing exchange of a lot on the north side of Gonzales Avenue, owned by H. R. Brown, for a city lot on the south side of Mears Street, will be submitted for second reading. Another by-law sanctioning sale of a lot on Montrose Avenue to Francis Vaughan Thompson will also be up for second reading.

Frontage Rate For New Water Extension Set

Cost to Saanich ratepayers using the recently-constructed West Saanich Road water extension was set at 5 cents per foot for the first four years, after which it will be reduced to a 3-cent minimum, it was decided by the Saanich Council last night.

Ordinary frontage rates are 8 cents per foot for the first year, 6 cents for the second year, and a 5-cent minimum. The 5-cent start in the proposal adopted was possible because the extension was a Dominion Government financed project.

The council will receive about $450 in revenue for the first four years and then nearly $300 per year for the duration of the by-law.

Vancouver Bill Is Brought Down

"An act to grant certain powers to the City of Vancouver" was introduced in the Legislature at 12:35 this morning by Premier Pattullo. Attorney-General Sloan explained that the bill is the Vancouver Relief Act as passed by the private bills committee with slight changes.

The bill is now called the Vancouver Enabling Act, the "little SPA" clause is deleted, and powers to borrow $1,500,000 without the assent of the electors are limited to $1,000,000 for a city hall and $500,000 for emergent works projects. The House gave first reading to the bill, and adjourned immediately until 10:30 a.m. today.

AUGUSTA, Me., March 21 (AP).—The Maine House of Representatives today voted 74 to 71 for a State lottery to provide funds for old age pensions.

City and District

Rejoin League — The Saanich Council last night authorized payment of $10 for membership in the B.C. Safety League.

Grants Made—Grants of $150 to the Salvation Army and $180 to the Central Exchange were authorized by the Saanich Council last night.

Tribute Paid—The Saanich Council last night paid a standing tribute to the memory of ex-Councillor E. D. Murphy, who died recently.

Short Wave Club—The Victoria Short Wave Club will meet tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the home of F. Arnaud, 369 Denison Road.

Intercession Service—The clergy of Victoria will hold a service of prayer and intercession today at 12:30 p.m. in the Cridge Memorial Hall, Blanshard and Humboldt Streets.

Daylight Saving — The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday wrote to the City Council that the organization heartily endorses daylight saving time.

Arterial Highway — Shelbourne Street, from North Dairy Road to Mount Douglas Park, will be created an arterial highway. A by-law was given preliminary readings by the Saanich Council last night.

Table Suggestion—A suggestion that central collection agencies for water bills be established, presented by the Ward Three Ratepayers' Association, was tabled last night by the Saanich Council.

St. Patrick's Concert—A smoking concert, featuring Irish tunes, in honor of St. Patrick's Day, will be held tonight in the Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion at 8 o'clock.

New Duplex—F. J. Schroeder yesterday was issued a building permit for erection of an eight-roomed duplex house at 1021-1023 Fairfield Road. It will be constructed by H. R. Brown at a cost of $3,500.

Traffic Signals — To consider tenders for the erection of four traffic signals on Douglas Street, the street lighting committee of the City Council will meet at 3:15 o'clock this afternoon.

To Aid Scouts—Councillor H. D. Coton, Ward Five, was last night appointed by the Saanich Council to meet V. E. Goddard, Royal Oak, to investigate possibilities of securing quarters for the Royal Oak Scout Troop.

Police Uniforms — Tenders for thirty-seven police uniforms must be in the hands of E. S. Michell, city purchasing agent, by 4 p.m. on April 1. Every policeman on the force will be provided with a new tunic and trousers.

Defer Action — Reeve William Crouch last night informed the Saanich Council that no action would be taken in connection with the proposed re-establishment of library service until the Legislature changed the Library Act.

C.C.F. Leader Ill — Rev. Robert Connell, leader of the official Opposition in the Legislature, was reported indisposed yesterday, suffering from an attack of ptomaine poisoning. Mr. Connell did not take his seat in the House.

Tourist Trade Address—T. H. Eslick, general secretary of the Tourist Trade Development Association, will outline the five-year plan to members of the Credit Granters' Association at their luncheon today in the Douglas Cafe.

Dangerous Corner—J. A. Steward is seeking to have the city improve the corner at the end of Maitland and Seaforth Streets, which he claims is dangerous to traffic. He suggests that rock now being blasted on Sea Terrace Road could be used as filler.

Fined for Assault—In the Saanich police court yesterday afternoon William Burton was convicted of an assault upon John Farmer and was fined $20. The prosecution was in the hands of C. H. Tait, while the accused was defended by Richard C. Lowe.

Remand Granted — E. Robinson, charged with having obtained goods by false pretences, was yesterday remanded in the Saanich police court. The offence charged is in connection with a transaction in which five cords of wood were obtained.

Case Continues — In the assize court here the case of Rex vs. Kenneth H. Daniell is still being proceeded with. When court adjourned last evening, the main witnesses had given their evidence. There is a possibility that the conclusion will be reached this morning.

Carnegie Lectures — Miss Alice Ravenhill, of this city, will speak twice on the Carnegie lectures series for children at the Provincial Museum on Saturday morning. Her subject will be "The Land of the Cedar," Francis Kermode, director of the Museum, announced yesterday.

Inquiry Continues — The P.G.E. Railway inquiry proceeded before the railway committee of the Legislature yesterday, several witnesses corroborating the fact that unusual snow overlaid the railway in January last. There was no undue delay in resuming train services, the committee was informed.

Concert Tonight—This evening in Metropolitan United Church schoolroom, a concert will be presented by Miss Epid Cole, a well-known dramatist of the city. Miss Cole has trained a number of talented children and the programme promises to be one of great interest and charm. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Anniversary Dinner—The dinner to be given commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the Riel Rebellion, by the British Campaigners' Association, will be held in Spencer's dining-room at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday next. Colonel J. S. Dennis, C.M.G., will be the guest speaker. An invitation is extended to all who served in this campaign, and any who would care to hear the history of this campaign. Tickets may be secured from the secretary, W. J. Edwards, 1762 Carrick Street, or at the Owl Drug Store, Fort Street.

Victoria Welsh Society—The executive of the Victoria Welsh Society, at an emergency meeting, decided that one of the following young ladies should be chosen to represent Wales and enter the competition to choose a May Queen to reign over the May 24th celebration: Miss Helen Thomas, Miss Miriam Williams, Miss Celia Lewis, Miss Alice Mason and Miss Edith Evans. Members of the society are asked to place a vote for their choice, in a ballot box located in Batchelor's Groceteria, 1317 Douglas Street, not later than Thursday, March 28.

Coal Production—Coal production in British Columbia for February dropped slightly more than 10,000 tons, as compared with the same month a year ago, according to the monthly bulletin of the Department of Mines. The figures were 95,733 tons, against 105,968 for the same month last year. While Vancouver Island collieries showed an increase of 8,000 tons and Nicola-Princeton district boosted its production 2,000 tons over February, 1934, East Kootenay dropped 21,500 tons, Coal Creek Collieries 2,000 tons, Michel 6,000 tons and Corbin 16,700 tons. Coke produced at Michel totaled 2,617 tons.

Juvenile Court — Four youths, under the ages of sixteen years, were yesterday ordered by the judge of the juvenile court, George Jay, to spend a term in the Industrial School in Vancouver. The youths pleaded guilty to having been implicated in breaking into four places and of having committed theft. All of them had been before the judge before on similar charges and had been allowed suspended sentence during good behavior. The court alluded to the fact that the care which was expected to be taken of the boys by parents had not been carried out. There was no other course open but to commit them to the school.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

GRAND NATIONAL BRIDGE TOURNAMENT

It is safe to say that the Grand National contract bridge championships held in New York recently were without parallel in the annals of bridge history. In the first place, there were more than forty players who journeyed great distances to play in them. The attendance was not notable in numbers, but shone luminously in bright lights. Nearly all the great masters were present, and the near-great made up the rest of the field.

Perhaps the finest feature of the tournament was the freedom from protests. Not one decision had to be made, and that should stand as an all-time record, considering the number of married folks who played together. In the mixed pairs were Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Lagron, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Sax, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. James H. Lemon, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Jacoby, Mr. and Mrs. Stuyvesant Wainwright, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bachner, New York.

All seemed to enjoy themselves, and the United States Bridge Association, under whose auspices the tourney took place, proved itself a perfect host.

A FOOLISH RISK

On the hand below, West went down on a game contract by misguessing the club finesse. Had South defended normally and shown all his high cards, West could not possibly have gone wrong, and the contract would have been fulfilled. The play is indeed interesting.

South, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 ♣
Pass	1 ♠	Pass	1 NT
Pass	3 ♣ (1)	Pass	3 NT
Pass	4 ♣ (2)	Pass	Pass
Pass

1. An unusual bid, but West, after his partner has opened the bidding fourth hand and rebid, must take some strong action. He assumes there is some sort of spade fit on East's no trump bid and consequently makes a jump rebid in that suit, despite its lack of honors.

2. West, having made a semi-forcing bid in spades on such a weak suit cannot afford to let his partner play the hand in no trump, as he realizes the opponents will probably set up their suit before the spades can be established.

THE PLAY

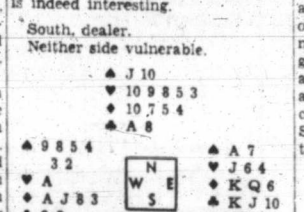

North opened the heart ten, dummy playing low and South signalling. Declarer won with the ace. He led a low spade to the ace and continued with the suit, South winning with the queen. South then played the heart king, which declarer ruffed.

West left the high trump outstanding and ran his diamonds. The king and queen in dummy won the first two rounds of the suit, and when a low one was continued, South did not trump in. Declarer won with the ace and continued with the jack, South ruffed. Obviously, to South, the only hope of defeating the contract lay in winning two club tricks should declarer misguess the suit.

South therefore deliberately exited with a low heart rather than the queen. Declarer did not know he could discard, as North's original opening lead might have been made from the queen-ten-nine. West did not suspect South was risking a discard when he could lay down the high card of the suit. West trumped and then had to lead a club. North, of course, ducked and West had nothing to go by. It was a pure guess, and since South made such a beautiful play, I am glad to be able to report that West guessed incorrectly. He played the jack, and South won with the queen and returned a club for the setting trick.

OUTLINES MOVE FOR RECOVERY

Captain Ian St. Clair Urges Development of "Minor Industries"

Development of twelve "minor industries" under one organization, as a major move in recovery, was proposed to the Saanich council, last night, by Captain Ian St. Clair, Victoria social worker.

"They are our refuge," Captain St. Clair said. There were many more of these "minor industries," but they remained for such organizations as the council to locate, said the captain.

The Saanich School Board and several private ratepayers were present. In outlining these industries, Captain St. Clair told of the necessities of each and how they would be self-supporting within six months. Only a small capital would be needed to start these industries, declared the speaker.

The industries outlined were cascara, aspen, resin and turpentine, crating, trapping, stumping, commercial carbon, brickettes, and fire-lighting, dehydration of flowers, washing, spinning and weaving of wool, and fishing.

"Nearly 100,000 tons of cascara are purchased yearly by Great Britain," said Captain St. Clair. "We could develop this industry if we had a factory to distill cascara bark," he added. British Columbia has a fair supply of bark. If the aspen industry had been developed it would supply work for many in the matchbox industry.

CHEAPER CRATES

Balsam could be utilized for building cheaper crates.

The entire project would be consolidated under one organization, which, Captain St. Clair said, could easily be formed. Once public opinion was favorable to the scheme the Dominion and Federal Governments would be ready to assist, he said.

Captain St. Clair said that the development of these industries was a definite recovery step and far better than relief.

Choral Union Will Continue Its Rehearsals

The members of the newly-organized Victoria Choral Union have enjoyed several very beneficial and instructive rehearsals of Brahms' "Requiem," under the direction of Stanley Bulley.

In order to correct an impression in the minds of those who have already joined, and to some who contemplate enrolling, as to the continuance of rehearsals during the Summer, the committee announces that the practices will continue every Friday night at Memorial Hall until the Friday before Good Friday, when they will cease until about the beginning of September, as Mr. Bulley will leave after Easter for a visit to England.

This cessation of work will, therefore, not interfere with the members' duties to their own choirs or other musical organizations, and who may be devoting extra work for the Musical Festival and the concert arrangements that may be made for the Tourist Trade Development Association during the Summer.

To Act as Mannequin Today

MISS PAMELA CHARLEWOOD

Who will act as a mannequin at fashion show and cabaret being held this afternoon and evening, at the Empress Hotel, by the Margaret Rocke Robertson Chapter, I.O.D.E. Bridge will also be played in the afternoon, and an attractive programme of songs and dances by the pupils of Mrs. Dorothy Wilson will add interest to the day's entertainment. The fashions are being shown by the Hudson's Bay Company.

TODAY'S RECIPE

BAKED Rice and Cheese—Three cups cooked rice, two cups cheese, one-half teaspoon salt, one cup milk, two tablespoons butter, one cup bread crumbs, paprika. Put a layer of cooked rice in a greased casserole, cover with a layer of grated cheese, season with salt and paprika. Continue adding layers until the dish is almost full. Add milk. Cover with crumbs, dot with butter and bake in a moderate oven (350-400 degrees Fahrenheit) fifteen to thirty minutes.

Classes at Y.W.C.A. Conclude

The closing of the educational department of the Y.W.C.A., yesterday afternoon, took the form of a short programme and tea, when members of the classes were guests of the educational committee, the latter being composed of Mrs. W. H. Gunning, convener; Mrs. V. L. Denton and Miss Nan Eaton. The gue speaker, Mrs. Nellie McClung gave an interesting and instructive address on "Words." Mrs. Harold Campbell also delighted the visitors as soloist, her accompanist being Mrs. Charles Conyers.

Mrs. Maude Hammond proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the leaders and teachers of the various groups and classes, as follows: Mrs. H. O. English, Mrs. M. R. Pearce, Mrs. J. E. B. Dickson, Mrs. Alex T. Stewart, Mrs. G. Yates, Mrs. M. M Groos and Mr. James Gibson; also to the speakers of the reading group, who were Miss Margaret Clay, Miss Jeannette Cann, Mrs. H. L. Smith, Miss Frances Madeley, Mrs. Llewellyn Thomas, Mrs. A. Sullivan, Dr. Jardine and Mrs. Nellie McClung.

The tea table was beautifully decorated with daffodils and Spring blossoms. Tea was poured by Mrs. H. O. English, assisted by Mrs. W. H. Gunning, Mrs. V. L. Denton, Mrs. John Baxter, Mrs. Maude Hammond and Miss M. Blackley. Announcement was made that the reading group, bridge classes, pottery and wood-carving would be resumed in the Fall.

SHAMROCK TEA

NANAIMO, March 21.—Promoted to raise funds for the Gyro convention to be held here next Summer, local Gyrettes held a successful shamrock tea and musicale at the home of Capt. and Mrs. Andrew Johnstone, Newcastle Townsite, on Wednesday night. Green and white carnations were used in the decorative scheme. A musical programme was furnished by Mesdames W. P. McDonald, Norman Carter and Ludwick Jones, in trio, and Mrs. C. C. Brown, instrumentalist. Lois Cartwright gave interpretations of parlor dances. A home-cooking stall, convened by Mrs. Gerald Berry, Mrs. George Knarston and Mrs. C. Baker raised a large sum.

CHEMAINUS LODGE

The regular meeting of Lodge No. 80, K. of P., was held in the K. of P. Hall, Chemainus, when a pleasing feature was a surprise visit from Nanaimo Lodge No. 40, twelve members attending. An invitation was extended to Chemainus by Chancellor Commander Williams for a return visit on April 2, which was accepted with pleasure. Chancellor Commander C. Pedersen thanked Nanaimo for its interest.

Tea Party Draws Big Attendance

A delightfully arranged daffodil tea was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Leonard Batchelor, Fairfield Road, under the auspices of Victoria Chapter No. 17, Order of the Eastern Star. More than 100 guests attended and were welcomed by Mrs. Batchelor, Mrs. Jean Thomson, worthy matron; Mrs. A. McCloy and Mrs. H. Wiltshire. Mrs. Peter Schmeelk, past grand matron, opened the affair at 3 o'clock, and gave a short talk.

The rooms were gay with daffodils, and the tea table was covered with a hand-embroidered cloth centred with a silver bowl filled with flowers. Silver candelabra were at each end of the table, and the candles were of blue, yellow, white, green and red, the colors of the order. Presiding at the tea and coffee urns were Mrs. James Mann and Mrs. A. Tripp, and those serving were Mrs. P. Hole, Mrs. A. Steer, Miss Gem Keown, Mrs. A. H. Carmichael and Mrs. S. Utteridge. The arrangements were convened by Mrs. H. Brenen, who was assisted by Mrs. A. Semple and Mrs. M. Shepherd, who announced Mrs. W. N. Sutton as winner of the cushion.

FINE PROGRAMME

An enjoyable programme was given. Madame Stavrakov sang two solos, "Spring" (Kyzmalho) and "Child and Rose" (Kyzmalha). Soprano solos were sung by Mrs. H. R. Dawe, her selections being "Cycle of Life," by L. Ronald, and "Break of Day," by W. Sanderson. Mrs. Sydney Sherratt was heard in soprano solos entitled "Sing Again," by Daniel Protheroe, and "Song of Love," from "Blossom Time." The accompanist was Miss Vera Bailey, who also gave as pianoforte solos, Rhapsody No. 2 (Brahms) and Caprice No. 2 (Schumann).

Among those present were: Mrs. Trenchard Clark, Mrs. R. Steer, Mrs. Sydney Sherratt, Mrs. Frank Hicks, Mrs. L. Johnston (Toronto), Mrs. Hichen Smith, Mrs. H. S. Timberlake, Mrs. G. S. McMorran, Mrs. J. B. Munro, Mrs. L. E. McKenzie, Miss I. Hall, Miss M. Herd, Mrs. D. Andrews (Moose Jaw), Miss G. Herd, Mesdames Minckler, George, P. A. Hole, Slater, J. Thomson, Hollins, Flint, A. Observe New Year By Ceremonies in Rosicrucian Order

The vernal equinox yesterday, when the sun entered the astrological sign of Aries, upon its celestial journey around the Zodiac, marked the ancient beginning of the new year, commemorated by the Rosicrucian Order, Amorc, a philosophical fraternity.

Miss Jones, the secretary of the local Rosicrucian Lodge, states: "For centuries peoples of the Orient celebrated the beginning of the new year on or about March 21, when this astronomical phenomenon occurred, and which also appeared the logical time, being Spring, when all nature was in a state of rebirth and awakening. The ancient Egyptians declared the advent an occasion for festivities, and partook of a symbolic feast of corn bread, salt and grape juice, representing the principal elements of man's nature.

TRADITIONAL HISTORY

"The traditional history of the Rosicrucians," relates Miss Jones, "records its establishment during the reign of Pharoah Amenhotep IV, 1350 B.C., who is said to have instituted the ancient ceremony and feast, which is continued in commemoration in the same ancient manner by the Rosicrucians throughout the world today. The imperator of the order declares by proclamation from the grand lodge of the order in San Jose, Cal., annually, the exact date of the ceremony. The newly appointed officers for the local body are installed following the ancient rites."

Weddings

SPARKS—LORENZEN

A quiet wedding was solemnized at Holy Trinity Church, Patricia Bay, last Friday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock, when Katrina Norah, younger daughter of Mrs. I. Lorenzen, Patricia Bay, was united in marriage to Mr. Frederick Walter Sparks, younger son of the late Major and Mrs. J. R. Sparks, "Ledgecote," Deep Cove, Rev. T. M. Hughes officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. J. C. Lorenzen, looked smart in a tailored suit of Oxford grey with black picture hat and matching accessories, wearing a corsage bouquet of freesias and Ophelia rosebuds. Her sister, Miss Anna Lorenzen, was gowned in a brown Harris tweed suit and wore a corsage of carnations and sweet peas.

Mr. Ralph Sparks, brother of the groom, acted as best man, and the wedding music was played by Miss A. Adair.

The church had been decorated with Japanese plum blossom and daffodils by Mrs. E. I. Jones.

The wedding breakfast was held at the Empress Hotel, the young couple leaving on the afternoon boat for Seattle, where the honeymoon was spent. Returning, they have taken up residence at Deep Cove.

Clubs—Societies

Chemainus Auxiliary

The regular meeting of the Chemainus Hospital Auxiliary was held on Wednesday afternoon in the Baptist Church rooms, the vice-president, Mrs. C. McInnis, in the chair. The buying committee reported the purchase of five trays, while the sewing convener, Mrs. Donahoe, reported having turned in to the matron eight women's nightgowns, one child's nightgown, four pairs of pyjamas, two tablecloths and two dozen napkins, the sewing being done by Mesdames Estridge, Saunders, Craig, Work, G. Read, Hill, Morris, Donahoe, English, Donaghue and Adam. Mrs. Healy gave the quarterly reading of by-laws, together with proposed changes, as set forth at the special meeting of the committee. These changes will come up again for reading and discussion at next month's meeting. Mrs. Clegg gave a report of the hospital board meeting. Tea hostesses for the day were Mesdames Clarke and Phillips.

Y.P.S. News

OAKLANDS

The regular fortnightly meeting of the Oaklands Y.P.S. was held on Wednesday, in the Oaklands Gospel Hall. About ninety were present. Mr. W. Sawyer, the vice-president, presided. After the meeting had been opened by prayer, the Scripture portion for the evening, I John, 5, was read by Mr. Alex MacKerracher. A vocal quartette followed, sung by the Misses O. Jealouse, M. Barnes, I. Atchison and I. Barnes. The major portion of the evening was devoted to a lantern lecture by the president, Mr. F. G. Hamilton, on "The Life of Martin Luther," and the events of the Reformation in Germany. An excellent set of sixty slides illustrated the main features. The speaker pointed out the many evils and abuses that characterized the church of that time, and recounted how Luther appealed to the Holy Scriptures as his final court of appeal in settling these matters of faith and conduct. The next meeting, on April 3, will take the form of a Bible examination contest, on the Book of Ruth, and all young people are cordially invited.

VICTORIA WEST

The weekly meeting of the Victoria West United Y.P.S. was held on Tuesday evening in the church parlor. The devotional study, led by the president, Jack Price, closed with a hymn. Final arrnagements have been completed for the "Penny Arcade," to be held on Friday, commencing at 7.45 p.m. A good programme has been arranged as well and everyone is assured of a good time. The meeting closed with a hymn and prayer.

FIRST UNITED

The young people of First United Church held a St. Patrick's Day social when the games committee, under the leadership of Bill Cox, kept the amusement at top pitch all through the evening. Vocal solos were contributed by Miss Bailey and Mr. Cox, and Mr. Craig entertained with a saxophone solo. Miss Iris Gaskill was the accompanist. Refreshments were served and the evening ended with a sing-song.

DOUGLAS STREET BAPTIST

The Douglas Street Baptist Y.P.S. will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock. There will be three speakers, Margaret Ralph, Mary Crowe and Everett March. Miss Edith Harding will be in the chair.

Miss Martha Allan who has won distinction and acclaim not only throughout the Dominion but in the United States and abroad for her work in connection with the Montreal Repertory Theatre.

"HERE'S HOW I MAKE THOSE CREAMY SOUPS* FOR Miss Martha Allan's SMART DINNER PARTIES"

says May McKegney, cook for Miss Allan, daughter of Sir Hugh Montagu Allan, C.V.O., and Lady Allan, Ravenscrag, Montreal, and director of Montreal's smart and famous Repertory Theatre.

"I FIND," continues May McKegney, "that by using Nestlé's Evaporated Milk my soups are not only creamier, but are richer and smoother. I also find that Nestlé's Evaporated Milk brings out all the delicate flavour of the other ingredients. No matter what kind of a cream soup I make I find it is better when I use Nestlé's."

Try May McKegney's recipe for a cream soup. You will find it easy to follow and the consistently good results will delight not only you but your family and guests. Let Nestlé's help you in the preparation of many dishes. It will give added richness and flavour not only to soups, sauces, cakes, pie-fillings, but to a wide variety of tempting desserts and to all recipes requiring milk.

Nestlé's you know, is simply the purest of cow's milk with more than half the water removed and with absolutely nothing added! Because it is evaporated, Nestlé's is twice as rich as ordinary fluid milk.

It is dependable, economical, convenient. Decide now that you will try Nestlé's. Get a few tins from your grocer today.

NESTLÉ'S MILK STERILIZED . . . EVAPORATED

*Cream of Mushroom Soup

½ lb. fresh mushrooms (1½ cups chopped)
2 chicken bouillon cubes
2 cups water 1 tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper 1 slice onion
4 tbsp. butter 4 tbsp. flour
2 cups Nestlé's Evaporated Milk.

Peel mushrooms. Remove caps and chop fine. Boil stems in 1 cup water 10 minutes, with 1 slice onion. Strain and press through coarse sieve. Make up to 1 pt. with water and add chopped mushroom caps, bouillon cubes, salt and pepper and boil 5 minutes. Melt butter. Stir butter and flour to a smooth paste and add to soup. Continue boiling 5 minutes longer. Add Nestlé's Evaporated Milk and heat thoroughly. Yield: 6 servings. One small can of mushrooms may be used. Chop the mushrooms and boil with onion and seasonings, using mushroom liquor in place of part of the water. Proceed as with fresh mushrooms.

Conference Plans Are Advanced

Tentative plans for the 1935 conference of the South Vancouver Island district of the Women's Institute were drawn up at the meeting of the board held at the office of the provincial organizer, Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan, on Wednesday afternoon. This is the last meeting of the board until June 5, and there was a good representation of members, those present being the president, Mrs. T. C. Robson, and Mesdames J. J. White, Booth and Webster and Miss Savary.

A resolution from the conference concerning matters bearing on the representation at the provincial conference, is being referred to the Minister of Agriculture. A per capita grant of 15 cents toward expenses is being asked for members, up to the number of fifty, attending board and conference meetings.

"THE CHILD"

By REGINALD H. WIGGINS, M.D., C.M., L.M.C.C.

CHILD HUMOR

Unfortunately, there is much misdirected pity bestowed upon mankind, but I think the pity which is directed to the poor soul devoid of a sense of humor, is in order. A sense of humor implies a sense of values, a much-to-be-desired ingredient in the make-up of the present-day citizen.

We are not prone to associate a sense of humor with a young child, much less a baby, but they have it in good measure, and undoubtedly it is more spontaneous and sincere than that possessed by the worldly-wise parent. The delight of children in "peek-a-boo"; the child under two who pretends that he is going to kiss his mother, then, when she puts her head down, turns his and runs off laughing, are evidences of humor in the child.

Humor is the best antidote to anger; the finest means of reducing tension, and the best solvent for domestic strife; it will see us over the "humps and bumps" of life better than anything else; it will make friends and keep them; parents with it will get on much better with their children, and the child with it will get much more out of life, and be happier.

For these reasons, humor should be fostered in the child. Baby is angry, just "hopping." Perhaps he may join with you in a hearty laugh at his own expense. (Once this is done it will be easier next time.) To say a baby has no humor, when that is an excellent test of a sense of humor—to be able to take a joke on yourself.

If the child is to keep his youth into adult life, we must first endeavor to see that he keeps his cheer and his sense of humor. This will be helped by not taking yourself too seriously, so that the child will not adopt a too serious attitude towards himself and his own accomplishments.

Another Royal Betrothal

Formal announcement of the betrothal of Princess Ingrid of Sweden (above), daughter of the Crown Prince Gustav Adolf, to Crown Prince Frederick (inset) of Denmark, is expected at Stockholm shortly. The princess, who is twenty-five, has in the past frequently been mentioned as a possible bride for the Prince of Wales, and her approaching marriage to the heir to the Danish throne eliminates another of the few remaining eligible foreign princesses.

Social and Personal Notes

Miscellaneous Shower

Miss Enid Rodger, whose marriage will take place in April, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower on Wednesday night, given by Mrs. C. M. Allison, at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. L. Ward, 1069 Redfern Street. The rooms were artistically decorated in pale green and yellow. The guest of honor received many useful gifts, which were presented to her in a green and yellow wood truck. Refreshments were served from a table centred with a green and yellow bride's cake with Easter chicks around it and green candles at either side. Those present were Mesdames Allen, Allison, Blanchard, Bown, Edwards, Granrose, Holiday, Longhurst, Mesher, J. A. Ralph, Thomas Ralph, W. Ralph, Rhodes, Rodger, J. A. Smith, White, Wilson and Misses Beatrice Bown, Elise Duncan, May Johnson, Annie King, May King, Florence Murkar, Gladys Smith and Masters Ronald Allen and Raymond Ralph.

At Empress Hotel

Among the guests from far and near now registered at the Empress Hotel are Mr. and Mrs. George Dix, of Marshfield, Oregon, who have brought their car along and are re-exploring scenes and beauty spots already known and loved in the neighborhood. With them on their expedition are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cohan, of Portland, and their sixteen-year-old son, Tat. Also from Portland have come Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kerr with their daughter, Jane, motoring down from Nanaimo after crossing from Vancouver.

Parties for Popular Bride

Mrs. F. E. Winslow, Craigdarroch Road, entertained informally yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Philippa Luxton, whose wedding will take place shortly in Vancouver, and who later was the inspiration for a no-hostess dinner party given by a number of her friends, including Mrs. A. Nash, Mrs. F. Cabeldu, Mrs. B. Hood, Mrs. Eric Burton, Miss Helen Smith, Miss Alice Cotton, Miss Beryl Hyndman, Miss Mary Martin, Miss Maidie Innes, Miss Florence Oates and Miss Alyce Baines.

St. Patrick's Dance Will Be Held Tonight

A St. Patrick's dance will be held tonight at the Mount View High School, under the auspices of the North Quadra Troop and Pack, Boy Scouts' Association.

A special orchestra has been engaged. Prizes will be awarded and all funds, apart from expenses, will be devoted towards the establishment of a Rover Crew of Boy Scouts, in connection with the North Quadra Troop. Tables will be provided for those wishing to play cards, and refreshments will be served.

Among those associating themselves in the arrangements for this dance are Mesdames Frost, Kirchin, Miles, Colman, and Messrs. Kelly, Porter and Webb, together with the president, F. J. Crowhurst and Scoutmaster Miller.

WHIST DRIVE AND DANCE

CHEMAINUS, March 21.—A benefit whist drive and dance was held in the Recreation Hall, here, under the auspices of the K. of P. Lodge, No. 60. Twenty-six tables were in play. Prize winners were: Ladies, first Mrs. Luscombe, second Miss Jessie Taylor; men, first Mr. J. Syme, second Mr. A. Nolan; consolations, Mrs. Stevens and Mr. G. Ouillette. The prizes were donated by Bros. H. W. Vernon, W. Estridge and D. A. Gatus.

A box of candy, donated by Mrs. A. Howe, was won by Mr. J. Syme. Mrs. F. Work kindly convened the supper, the table being gay with daffodils. Assisting were Mesdames F. Beecham, C. Pederson, T. Larman and D. Bellamy. Mr. Frank Work, as general convener, was complimented on the success of the evening. A large sum was realized.

Bridge Party Arranged by Uplands Club

At the Uplands Golf Club last night a bridge party was held by the members under the direction of Mrs. Fred Spencer and Mr. and Mrs. D. Fletcher. Cards were played in the clubrooms, which were lovely with daffodils, and refreshments were served in the lower lounge, where the tables were gay with Spring flowers.

Among those playing were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. English, Mr. and Mrs. A. Youngman, Mr. Swire Mitchell, Mrs. D. Andrews (Moose Jaw), Mr. and Mrs. C. Quintuplet Tuck-Aways New Tea-Time Treat

By KATHARINE BAKER

Since Canada has become quintuplet conscious, scores of things have borrowed a little of the glory of the famous five. This clever recipe has been named "quintuplet" because everyone who tastes these delicious cakes, tucks away at least five.

TUCK-AWAYS

Three cups sifted flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup butter, 2 cups sugar, 4 egg yolks (slightly beaten), 1 teaspoon vanilla, 4 egg whites (stiffly beaten), red currant jelly, coconut (Southern style, shred).

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks and vanilla; then add flour. Fold in egg whites. Drop by teaspoons on ungreased baking sheet. Make slight depression in centre of each, fill with jelly and sprinkle generously with long, moist shreds of coconut, using about one-half can. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.), eight minutes, or until done. Makes three and a half dozen tuck-aways.

JAM TEA BISCUITS

Jam tea biscuits give a new version of the old reliable baking powder biscuit. These are lighter and have a more pastry-like texture when cake flour is used.

Two cups sifted cake flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, jam (any flavor), 1-2 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons shortening, 2-3 cup milk (about).

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening. Add milk gradually until soft dough is formed. Turn on floured board, knead slightly, roll 1-4-inch thick, and cut into tiny biscuits. Make deep depression in centre of top of biscuits. Fill with jam. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.), eight to ten minutes. Makes twenty-four biscuits.

RADIO CONTROL PLAN PROPOSED

Sir John Reith Recommends Government Ownership for South Africa

CAPETOWN, South Africa, March 21 (CP).—Sir John Reith, director-general of the British Broadcasting Corporation, today recommended to the Government of South Africa control of broadcasting by a public corporation established by statute.

Sir John, who came to South Africa at the invitation of the Government to make a survey of broadcasting, suggested the vesting of responsibility in a board of six or seven members appointed by the Governor-General-in-Council for five-year terms.

While there was no criticism offered to the African Broadcasting Company, Limited, at present operating a service, Sir John found, "there was no widespread or considerable appreciation of (broadcasting) potentialities."

STATE OWNERSHP

He advised that State ownership (under the establishment of the corporation) should not entail "State control or intervention." A recommendation was made that immediate steps should be taken to obtain data upon which consideration should be given to the establishment of transmitters sufficient in number and power to provide reception in comparatively simple apparatus in all parts of the company, such national coverage to be subsidized by the State.

As to programme policy, Sir John held, it should be "framed in the assurance a supply of good things well presented will create a demand for them; that there are many special services to be rendered; that without minimizing the purely entertainment obligations, it should be remembered broadcasting is the royal road to enlightenment and responsibility."

EFFECT ON NATURES

With respect to the effect of broadcasting upon the native races, Sir John foresaw a great potential audience. Development for native audiences, he said, should be subsidized and especially organized, and upon occasion native language should be used.

COLLISION FATAL TO TWO IN AUTO

Two Others Critically Injured When Car Strikes Train at Crossing in Manitoba

ST. JEAN, Man., March 21 (CP).—Two persons were killed and two others critically injured last night when an automobile struck a Northern Pacific Railway train, one mile south of here at a level crossing.

Andrew Robertson, Winnipeg, driver of the car, and James Gardener, six years old, were killed. James Gardener, Sr., Winnipeg, and his daughter, Muriel, ten, were critically injured. All four were occupants of the car.

The collision occurred during a snowstorm.

St. Jean is forty miles south of Winnipeg.

"Say, ma," protested the small boy, "what's the idea of making me sleep here every night?"

"Ssh, dear," admonished his American mamma. "You have only to sleep in the piano for two more weeks to set up a new record and then your picture will be in all the newspapers."

VICTORIA CONTINUES TO PROVE CHARMING FOR MAJOR E. WAITE

Although having visited Victoria on many occasions over a long term of years, Major E. Waite, London, who served with the 25th Battalion of Nova Scotia Infantry during the Great War, is repeatedly charmed with the city's beauties.

Following his arrival here yesterday from Seattle, Major Waite drove around the waterfront. He said his only regret was that he would have to leave Victoria before the flowers and brush had begun to bloom. Major Waite lived for a time at Nelson.

During the past few weeks he has been driving across the United States from New York to Southern California, thence to Victoria. Until his departure for Vancouver on Saturday, Major Waite will stay at the Empress Hotel.

A young married couple had been to visit the husband's mother. When they left late in the evening a thick fog had descended.

"My, what a fog! But then, Gerald would find his way home if he were blind," said the fond mother, as she saw them off.

"He often does," replied the wife.

UNDER OATH BEFORE NOTARY

Toronto Man Reveals in Sworn Statement How Fruit-a-tives Gave Lasting Relief From Indigestion

Mr. Sam Sansone, 44 Front St. W., Toronto, suffered agonies from indigestion. Then he got lasting relief. So grateful is Mr. Sansone that he wants other indigestion sufferers to benefit as he did. And he wants them to be sure of the absolute truth of his experience. That is why Mr. Sansone consented to swear to his statement before a notary. In part, he says,—"For a long time I suffered badly from indigestion. I tried everything but I continued to get worse. A friend of mine recommended Fruit-a-tives. After taking them, it was not long before I was entirely well and could eat anything without pain or after effects."

Fruit-a-tives have brought lasting relief to thousands of sufferers from constipation, indigestion, sick-headaches and kindred ills. Try Fruit-a-tives today. See how much better they'll soon make you feel.

Copy of Mr. Sansone's complete sworn statement will be sent on request. Write Fruitatives Limited, Ottawa, Canada.

DISCUSSION TO BE ON TAXATION

Interesting Meeting Promised at Noon Today in Spencer's Dining-Room

The question of taxation as it affects the holders of real estate will form the subject of an interesting debate which will be held in Spencer's dining-room today, commencing at 12 noon. This is to be opened up not only to the members of the real estate board, but also to owners of property, and real estate brokers outside the membership of the board.

The Island members of the Legislature have been invited to attend and to take part in the proceedings.

The main address will be given by R. F. Blandy, clerk of Oak Bay, who will take as his subject "More Economy or More Taxation." This will introduce a general discussion of the subject.

COME HERE FROM ISLAND PRISON

Party of Doukhobors Attract Much Attention While They Wait for Vancouver Boat

Through the Provincial Museum and up and down the corridors of the Parliament Buildings, from whence the order was issued that brought about their incarceration on Piers Island in 1932, a party of Doukhobors wandered yesterday as they waited to catch the midnight boat for Vancouver.

The party of eight men and five women, dressed in picturesque Ukrainian peasant clothes, with bright colors, and of sturdy build and typically Slavonic features, drew much attention. For some months groups of these people have been periodically released from prison.

Through their own interpreters, Joseph and Jacob Chernoff, they told a story of the circumstances under which they lived on Piers Island, to which they were sentenced with 567 other Sons of Freedom for demonstrating in the nude against the Christian Community, another sect of Doukhobors near Nelson.

REFUSED TO WORK

The Doukhobors in Victoria yesterday said they refused to work on being taken to Piers Island, feeling they were wrongly imprisoned. The result was, they asserted, that they were put on a diet of bread and water for fifty-five days, and with only bread for the last three days.

The Chernoff brothers remarked the Doukhobors had a cold time of it last year. For a time they remained in their beds. Then it became so bitter they were forced to go out and chop wood. For a time the prisoners were without stoves, they said, because the authorities wanted them to do work other than cutting wood for the fires.

MAY RID BEACHES OF OLD GARBAGE

Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter Works On Plans for Disposal of Waste Material

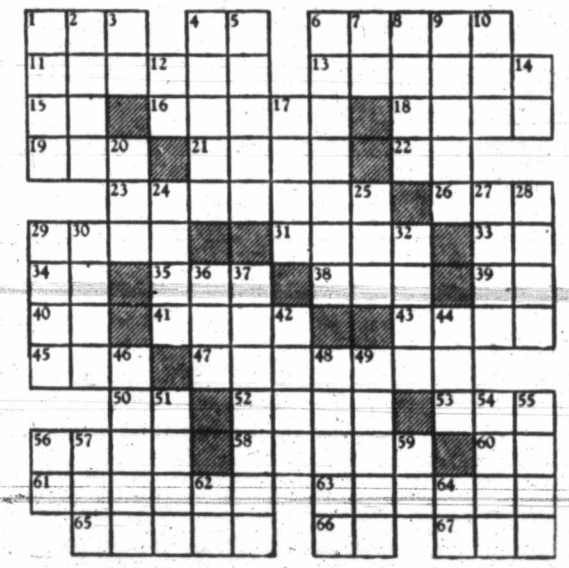

Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the City Council health, morals and welfare committee, has interested himself in the problem of garbage disposal and is endeavoring to work out a plan which would keep beaches free from refuse. Wind and tide often combine to litter the waterfront with myriads of tin cans and decaying fruit and vegetables.

The Island Tug & Barge Co., Ltd., at present has the contract to tow an average of six scow loads of garbage to sea each week for the sum of $475 per month. Contract allowance was raised from $298 to the present figure last year when it was decided to tow scows farther out to sea.

Alderman Hunter points out that the heavy cost of an incinerator, $125,000, makes that method of disposal out of the question. He has several proposals under advisement and will make an announcement at a later date.

Witness at Tottenham: "He sent me a letter saying: 'With regard to our telephone conversation, I wish you would write a little more clearly.'"

Fisheries Station Develops Improved Covering for Fish

New Glaze Produces Novel and Decided Translucence—Is Antiseptic and Overcomes "Rusting" Without Effecting Commodity

Development of an improved glaze for frozen fish has recently been accomplished at the Pacific Fisheries Experimental Station at Prince Rupert, one of several fisheries research centres conducted by the Biological Board of Canada, a body which operates under the control of the Minister of Fisheries.

The new glaze has several points of superiority inasmuch as it will not crack, even after long storage periods, and possesses certain properties which, to a great extent, at least, will overcome the "rusting" discoloration which may ordinarily develop in fish held in cold storage; and, of course, it is not deleterious to the fish in any way. It is easy and economical to apply and its efficiency has already been demonstrated by a British Columbia firm which used it with satisfactory results in glazing 100,000 pounds of frozen halibut.

PROMISES BENEFITS

The antiseptic glaze was developed by Dr. R. H. Bedford, bacteriologist at the Prince Rupert station, and while one or two points in connection with it are still receiving attention, it is regarded as certain to be of great benefit to the Canadian fishing industry. The work done at the Biological Board stations is performed, of course, in the interests of the fishing industry generally.

One of the serious difficulties in connection with glazing fish in the past has been that the glaze cracked quite easily, with the result that the fish dried out, in some measure, and gases in the storage chamber would make their way through the cracks to the surface of the fish and cause discoloration, which is associated with deterioration and unpalatability.

Similarly, ordinary glazing does not prevent the growth of certain bacteria which lead to discoloration in the oil of the fish. The new glaze, on the other hand, does not crack, and being antiseptic in nature it kills the bacteria on fish or makes them of negligible effect, and thus is a preventive of such discoloration as would otherwise result from bacterial cause, while it also effectively protects the surface cells of the fish against the discoloring effect of ammonical gases which may happen to leak into the cold storage chamber from the cooling apparatus.

DONE BY DIPPING

The glazing is done by dipping the frozen fish in a special but inexpensive concentrated solution. The fish are taken from the freezer at a low temperature and are dipped in the solution for about fifteen seconds, the temperature of the solution being at freezing point or a degree or two higher. Then the fish are allowed to drain, and dipping and draining are repeated three times more. The first dipping produces a hard, homogeneous layer of ice all over the fish, and the subsequent dips merely increase the layer's thickness. An incidental result of glazing by this method is that it produces a novel and decided translucence.

ARRIVING AT PIERS EARLY

Niagara to Tie-Up at 6 o'Clock This Morning—Emma In Last Night

Coming from Australia by way of New Zealand, Fiji and Hawaii, the Canadian-Australasian liner Ss. Niagara, Captain T. V. Hill, commander, was due alongside Rithet Piers at 6 o'clock this morning. The liner has 130 passengers in all classes aboard, some of whom will embark here and take the ferry boats to Seattle. The ship will leave mails and cargo here before proceeding to Vancouver at 7:30 o'clock.

MOTORSHIP HEIAN MARU

From Japan ports, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha motorship Heian Maru is due at William Head late this evening, according to advices received from the ship by Harry Clark, local representative. The Heian Maru has three first-class, seventeen tourist-class and fifty third-class passengers for Vancouver, and six first-class, six tourist-class and twenty-seven third-class travelers for Seattle. The liner will discharge also 1,400 tons of general cargo at Vancouver for Canadian destinations.

To load 600,000 feet of lumber for the United Kingdom, the British freighter Marthara, Captain D. Galbraith, arrived alongside Ogden Point Piers yesterday morning. She came in via Port Alberni.

LOADED LUMBER

After loading 1,300,000 feet of lumber at the Ogden Point assembly plant for the British Isles, the freighter Sinnington Court sailed at noon yesterday for Port Alberni, where she will complete taking on lumber cargo.

Among other vessels arriving at local docks during the next few days will be the Ss. Empress of Canada, sailing outbound tomorrow afternoon; the Empress of Russia, due in on Monday morning; the Holland-America Line motorship Nichteroy, due Tuesday; and the Furness Line motorship Pacific Exporter, arriving on Thursday.

Passengers of Mystery Plane

—Central Press Photograph.

America's mystery plane, robot piloted, has made several test flights with the above experts aboard. They are, left to right: Eugene Vidal, air chief of the United States Department of Commerce; Captain Clayton Bissell, U.S.A., chief pilot; Chester Snow, aeronautics specialist, and Captain Albert Hegenberger, U.S.A., remembered as the pilot of the army's first trans-Pacific plane. It is believed a flight to Hawaii without human control, by those aboard, will be undertaken shortly. The plane's course is set before it starts—its "electric pilot" taking direction from a radio beam. Even the windows are blackened to prevent human direction of the ship.

MACHINES TO BE REPLACED

Prince of Wales Getting More Modern Planes—Is Qualified Pilot

The Prince of Wales is arranging to replace his present private fleet of twin-engined airplanes with two more modern machines. For several years the Prince, who is a competent airplane pilot though he has never taken his "ticket," has owned a fleet of aircraft, beginning with a group of three single-engined light planes.

Many of the Prince's private journeys are made by air; not only does the Prince appreciate the time saved by the use of air transport and the superior comfort it affords, but he is an enthusiastic aviator and enjoys every moment spent aloft. Much of the time he shares the pilot's compartment with his personal pilot, taking his full share of the task of steering the machine.

He has chosen the de Havilland Dragon-Rapide biplane, a fast and shapely transport plane that has been sold in considerable numbers for use in the British Isles and overseas since it was placed on the market early in 1934. In normal airline trim the Dragon-Rapide carries eight passengers, but for the Prince's use the seats in the cabin will be reduced to four or five. There will be a canteen on board for the making and serving of tea, for which water will be boiled in an electric kettle. Grey and red are the likely colors for the internal decoration; externally the aircraft will probably be finished in the scarlet and blue—colors of the Brigade of Guards—that have distinguished the Prince's earlier machines. Sufficient fuel will be carried for a flight in still air of 800 miles non-stop.

Masters of Vessels Both Exonerated by Court at Vancouver

Presiding Judge Expressed Admiration for Efforts of All Concerned in Connection With Fatal Collision in First Narrows

VANCOUVER, March 21 (CP).—A court of inquiry today exonerated Captain William Palmer, of the Princess Alice, and Capt. Darius Smith, of West Vancouver No. 5, of any blame in connection with the collision of the two vessels last month and ordered returned their masters' certificates, temporarily suspended following the accident.

"The court is unanimous in its decision that there shall be no action against the certificates of these officers," Mr. Justice F. G. T. Lucas, chairman of the court, which concluded its four-day hearing today, announced.

"On the contrary, the court wishes to express admiration of the efforts of Captain Smith to save the life of a woman passenger on the ferry and the skill displayed by Captain Palmer in keeping the ships together after the accident."

DURING DENSE FOG

The ships collided in the First Narrows during a dense fog, February 4 last. The ferry sank, carrying with it Mrs. W. E. Burritt, of Vancouver, who was imprisoned by beams in the wrecked passenger space of the vessel. Captain Smith tried unsuccessfully to free the woman, working until the water was above his waist and barely escaping with his life just before the ferry sank.

The two skippers, both veterans of navigation in British Columbia waters, were warmly congratulated by a number of friends and spectators when they walked out of the courtroom with their tickets back in the pockets of their double-breasted blue sea jackets.

In handing down the court's decision, Mr. Justice Lucas added praise for the conduct of the officers and crews of both vessels and expressed pleasure in ordering the certificates handed back to the two masters. Written judgment on other points will be handed down later.

NO NEGLIGENCE

Earlier in today's session, Arthur Alexander, counsel for the inquiring commission, expressed the personal view that neither master could be held responsible for the loss of the passenger ferry. He believed that there had been no negligence.

Referring to the difference in opinion of witnesses, some of whom claimed the Princess Alice was close to the south side of the channel when the accident occurred and others who said the ship was on the north side, Alexander said it was his view that "the Princess Alice was in her own water at the time of the collision."

On the stand for a few minutes before counsel began their final summing up, Captain Palmer told the court that he would certainly have stopped his ship had he heard the ferry whistle before he entered the Narrows. He thought that Prospect Point might have intercepted the sound.

Sitting with Mr. Justice Lucas to determine the findings which will comprise the written judgment are assessors Captain R. W. Shepherd and Captain Stephen Clark.

FISHING BOATS GETTING READY

Mainland Halibut Fishermen Will Leave for Island Grounds Tomorrow

VANCOUVER, March 21 (CP).—Vancouver docks hummed with activity today as tons of supplies, gear and equipment poured into three score halibut vessels, Vancouver's fleet, which goes out Saturday.

Ice and frozen herring bait are pouring into the holds of the stout little vessels, lines and hooks are being checked, and provisions are rolling down to the docks to be swung aboard by the little cargo booms.

Majority of the vessels are bound for the Cape Scott and Virgin Islands between the north end of Vancouver Island and the southern tip of the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Meanwhile the Seattle halibut fleet remains idle and fishermen have intimated that they will not go out until they have negotiated for a satisfactory stabilized price with packers. The Seattle fishermen are asking a minimum of 8 and 10 cents.

A party of Salvation Army officers will be on board the Ss. Empress of Canada on Saturday en route to missionary service in the Orient. Adjutant and Mrs. Newman, who have been the commanding officers of Vancouver Citadel Corps, are going to Seoul, Korea, the adjutant having been appointed to the headquarters staff as financial secretary for the territory. Captain Joan Wilson, who has filled a secretarial position at the Vancouver headquarters for the last five years, is going to Peiping, China.

The German Cruiser Karlsruhe Is Receiving a Great Reception at the Mainland Port. The Ship's Cruise, With a Number of Cadets Aboard, Started in October Last, and Will Take Eight Months to Complete.

French Ship Now Having Her Huge Propellers Set

According to telegraphic advices just received from New York, after many motionless months since launching, the Ss. Normandie left her basin at 8 o'clock on the morning of March 18 and was towed into the Joubert Drydock for fifteen days, the movement being completed by 9:30 o'clock.

It will require two days to place her propeller shafts, four days to place her giant propellers, and the balance of the time will be taken up with painting her tremendous hull.

She will leave St. Nazaire on April 20 to make the first of her trials. Her first sailing from Le Havre is scheduled for May 29, and from New York, June 7.

SITKA PLACE OF INTEREST

Cruise Ship Will Make Old Russian Capital Port of Call

VANCOUVER, March 21.—Sitka, which will be a port of call this Summer for C.N.S. Prince Rupert on her eleven-day Alaska cruises which commence June 28, is the historical shrine of the North Pacific.

Famous in the early days as a Russian outpost, it was permanently established in 1804 by Alexander Baranof. Bells and metal were cast, ships were built and flour was ground at Sitka when San Francisco was a mud-built mission and many Canadian cities were yet unthought of.

Sitka has a beautiful setting, amid a panorama of sea, mountains and islands. Within the city limits is the Sitka National Monument, which has been called the most beautiful spot in Alaska.

Other points of interest are the newly-constructed Pioneers' Home, the Sheldon Jackson School for Indians, a museum of Indian relics, Princess Maksoutoff's grave and the Sitka National Cemetery.

Sitka's past has not prevented it from becoming a modern town. It is the central point for the king salmon trolling grounds providing a rich harvest to fishermen.

VANCOUVER SHIPPING

SPECTACLE AT DOCK OPENING

Old East Indiaman Was "Dressed Up" for Gala Affair

The first ship to enter the St. Katharine Dock, which was opened on October 25, 1828, was the East Indiaman Elizabeth, and in its March issue, The P.L.A. Monthly, official organ of the Port of London Authority, published an extract from The London Morning Chronicle of October 27, 1928, describing the ship and the part it took in the opening ceremony.

"At about forty minutes after 1 o'clock, the signal bugle sounded; the splendid band of the Royal Artillery, on board the Elizabeth, immediately played the National Anthem and, on this occasion, appropriate air of 'Rule Britannia,' and this noble vessel began to move slowly and majestically through the passage from the river to the outer basin.

"She was ornamented with flags of every nation and of every device, and with broad and long pennants streaming from her signal halyards, from the truck of each mast to the very gunwhale. At the fore-topmast head was a rich green flag with the harp and 'Erin go bragh' in gold letters. At the main was the Union Jack, and at the mizzen was the ensign of Scotland, with the golden thistle. At the peak was a long and rich crimson ensign of the United Kingdom.

"The royal yards were across and all of them manned by seamen—not lying out upon the horses as usual, but standing on the yards and supporting themselves by lines run from the lifts to the masts, while a sailor sat triumphantly on the main truck. The effect was very grand."

Training Vessel Karlsruhe Bound South to Mexico

VANCOUVER, March 21 (CP).—The German training cruiser Karlsruhe sailed today for Acapulco, Mexico, from where she will proceed through the Panama Canal in continuation of an eight-months' cruise. During a six-day visit to Vancouver, the officers and men of the warship were entertained at several civic and private functions.

TWO DRAMAS ON DOMINION SCREEN

James Cagney Stars in "Devil Dogs of the Air"—"Woman in Red" Added Feature

During the filming of the Cosmopolitan production, "Devil Dogs of the Air," which Warner Bros. present at the Dominion Theatre today, James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Robert Barrat, William Davidson, Russell Hicks and Eddie Brophy suffered from a rash just above the ankle.

Each night, a soothing lotion would heal the irritated parts temporarily, but on the following day, in each case, the rash would return. Cagney finally discovered the cause. The tops of the regulation marine high shoes were irritating the skin. So the players took two pairs of shoes to the flying field, one low, to wear when not on the set.

It is a colorful and picturesque drama based on Wallace Irwin's best selling novel, "North Shore," and is filled with thrills and intensely dynamic situations. In addition there is a glowing romance and a sensational court trial in which a young girl allows her reputation to be torn to shatters in order to save an innocent man from conviction of murder.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Capitol—Warner Baxter in "One More Spring."

Playhouse—"Romance in Manhattan," starring Ginger Rogers.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE That happiness is a quality of the heart and may be obtained and held by the lowly as well as by the more fortunate, is the lesson that is strikingly driven home by "Romance in Manhattan," RKO-Radio Picture, now at the Playhouse Theatre. Francis Lederer and Ginger Rogers are starred in the production.

COLUMBIA THEATRE "The Lady Is Willing," Columbia comedy-farce, starring Leslie Howard, which is currently showing at the Columbia Theatre, may gain added note as the screen vehicle that brought together the combination of Cedric Hardwicke, acknowledged to be England's foremost character actor, and Gilbert Miller, leading American stage figure.

NEW CHILD STAR HAS ROLE IN FINE DRAMA

The sensational new child star, Freddie Bartholomew, will be seen on the local screen for the first time in "David Copperfield," the prize-winning photoplay which comes to the Capitol Theatre starting Saturday.

Little Freddie has been compared to Jackie Coogan when he rocketed to fame with Chaplin in "The Kid" some years ago. He plays the boy "David Copperfield" as his first appearance on the screen, appearing with a cast of sixty-five stars and featured players in the principal roles.

Produced by David O. Selznick and directed by George Cukor for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, "David Copperfield" is hailed as one of the finest pictures of all time.

COMEDY, DRAMA APPEAR IN SCOTTISH OFFERING

"For Auld Lang Syne," which is the new play chosen by the Scottish Players to be given at the evening performance of Tuesday next, in the Shrine Auditorium, furnishes delightful comedy and rare dramatic situations, holding the audience in suspense in scene after scene.

Among the several interesting families who migrated to Western Canada from Scotland, are Mary Watson and her daughter, Jean; close by, lives Angus Campbell, whose hospitable home shelters Rod Bernt, the aviator in the Government service. Rod meets Jean Watson; they fall in love; but Jean has been keeping company with a young Sandy Ferguson, and her engagement to Sandy was announced on the evening that the action of the play opens. Wee Willie Wilson, in his inimitable way, portrays Angus Campbell, while the lovely Mary McMahon, charms with her role of Jean Watson, and Gordon Douglas, as Sandy Ferguson.

"I gave you a penny yesterday to be a good boy," said mother. "And today you are as bad as you can be."

"Yes," was the reply; "you got your money's worth yesterday."

Thousands Flee Before U.S. Floods

Thousands of families in the Mississippi Valley fled for their lives from rising waters that threatened the worst flood conditions in fifty years. Little Stories for Bedtime

Farmer Brown's Boy Has a Glad Surprise

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Farmer Brown's Boy had an errand which took him far from home. He harnessed the horse to a sleigh and started off right after dinner. Now it happened that his errand took him in the direction of the farm where Bowser the Hound had been taken such good care of and where Reddy Fox had that very day caught the fat hen. Farmer Brown's Boy was not thinking of Bowser. You see he had visited most of the farms in that direction looking for Bowser and had found no trace of him.

It was a beautiful day to be sleighing and Farmer Brown's Boy was whistling merrily, for there is nothing he enjoys more than a sleigh ride. He had almost reached the place he had started for when way off across the fields to his right he heard a dog. Now Farmer Brown's Boy enjoys listening to the sound of a hound chasing a fox. There is something about it which stirs the blood. He stopped whistling and he stopped the horse in order that he might listen better.

At first that sound was very, very faint, but as Farmer Brown's Boy listened it grew clearer and clearer. Suddenly Farmer Brown's Boy leaped up excitedly. "That's Bowser!" he cried. "As sure as I live that's good, old Bowser! I would know that voice among a million!"

He leaped from the sleigh and tied the horse. Then he climbed over the fence and began to run across the snow-covered fields. He could tell from the sound in what direction Bowser was running. He could tell from the appearance of the country where Reddy Fox would be likely to lead Bowser, and he ran for a place which he felt sure Reddy would be likely to pass.

Right down the road past Farmer Brown's Boy Reddy ran.

Louder and louder sounded the great voice of Bowser, and faster and faster ran Farmer Brown's Boy to reach that place before Bowser should pass. The louder that great voice sounded the more absolutely certain Farmer Brown's Boy became that it was the voice of Bowser, and a great joy filled his heart. At last he reached an old road. He felt certain that Reddy would follow that road. So he hid behind an old stone wall on the edge of it.

He did not have long to wait. A red form running swiftly appeared around a turn in the old road. Then it stopped and stood perfectly still.

Of course it was Reddy Fox. He was listening to make sure just how far behind him Bowser was. He listened for only a moment, then started on swiftly as before. Right down the road past Farmer Brown's Boy Reddy ran and never once suspected he was being watched.

A few minutes later another form appeared around the turn in the road. It was Bowser. Yes, sir, it was Bowser. With a glad cry Farmer Brown's Boy jumped over the stone wall and waited.

Next story: "Reddy Goes Back for His Fat Hen."

Willy's mother thought him delicate and so he was excused gymnastics at school.

Campbell's Speed Attempt Showing In Colonist News

THE press and the radio have brought word of the splendid fight by Sir Malcolm Campbell to better his own speed mark at Daytona Beach. Today, at the Dominion Theatre, The Colonist Universal news reel shows thrilling glimpses of the big Bluebird as the intrepid speed ace thrusts her over the sands at the epoch-making rate of 276.816 miles per hour, the fastest ever achieved on land.

Other news flashes on the screen include scenes of the six-day cycle race at New York, when sprinters in the long grind piled up in a sensational smash, leaving a tangle of men and machines on the track; the Carnival on Skates for 1935 held at Toronto; the frigid scene contrasting with the ceremony of chosing the beach queen in sunny Florida; from Boston comes a view of Babe Ruth, and from Naples warlike scenes as troops embark for Africa.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why external remedies as applied to sore and painful Piles are only local in effect and do not reach to true circulatory cause?

Why Piles may "come back" even after a first removal by cutting?

Do you know the cause of Piles is internal?

That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins flabby, the parts lifeless?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy for itching, bleeding or protruding piles discovered by Dr. Leonhardt, known as HEM-ROID, and sold with your money back if not joyfully satisfied with the help one bottle gives?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by relieving congested circulation and helps to heal and restore the sore surfaces.

HEM-ROID is so successful in even the most stubborn cases that MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores and other good druggists advise every sufferer to get a bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets today—take them as directed—then if not completely satisfied with results—your money back. (Advt.)

MAYOR BARSBY ENTHUSIASTIC

Thinks Highly of New Campaign for Tourists' Trade —Meeting Planned

NANAIMO, March 21.—Following the citizens' meeting on Tuesday evening here for the purpose of discussing unity of the Island in a five-year-campaign, aiming at increasing the tourist travel to the Island yesterday, Mayor Barsby, with T. H. Eslick, secretary of the Victoria and Vancouver Island Tourist Development Association, and Bruce McKelvie, Victoria, canvassed the city and made preliminary arrangements for the meeting of Island mayors, reeves and members of the association to be held here in the latter part of April. Mayor Barsby, following consultation with the Victoria men, is highly enthusiastic as regards the movement, and says he believes it is one of the best moves ever started on the Island, a move which will prove that Vancouver Island is virtually a "rich man's playground," and that once our resources are properly advertised tourists will take advantage of our natural attractions and flock to the Island in ever-increasing numbers.

For the meeting of reeves and mayors, it is proposed to engage a hall capable of seating fifteen hundred, and it is expected to be a big day in Nanaimo when the meeting convenes.

CONCERT SUCCESS AT COBBLE HILL

Excellent Entertainment by High School Pupils Enjoyed by Capacity Audience

COBBLE HILL, March 21.—On Tuesday evening, in the Cobble Hill Hall, the pupils of Cobble Hill High School entertained a capacity audience for the second time in two weeks.

The programme opened with a solo by Joan Maslin, followed by a one-act play, entitled "The Pie and the Tart." This clever farce was a translation of a French play of the 16th century, with costumes of the period. The members of the cast, who were directed by Miss K. Johnson, were Jean Taggart, Philip Whittaker, Ivan Monk and David Allen.

The feature of the evening was an inter-school debate, with a team from the Ducan High School staging a wordy battle with the Cobble Hill High School, who supported the resolution: "That the Party System Should Be Abolished in British Columbia." The judges were unanimous in awarding the decision to the affirmative. The debaters were as follows: Cobble Hill (affirmative), Florence Fawdry and William Taggart; Duncan (negative), Jack Davie and John Galloway. The judges were Mrs. H. E. Grainger, Miss F. Horn and A. H. Plows.

A solo by Thelma Duggan brought the interesting programme to an end.

INVESTIGATING DOG POISONINGS

Rockland Avenue District Is Scene of Activities, Declares S.P.C.A. Officials Here

Investigation of dog poisonings here is being conducted by the S.P.C.A. and police, it was announced at a recent meeting of the S.P.C.A. committee. Proved cases of poisoning were reported in the Rockland Avenue district, and the source of the poison was being sought, it was said.

The society pointed out that as four cars had been seen carrying dogs without adequate protection, the B.C. Motor Vehicle Act provided that animals carried must be prevented from falling out by a guard rail or similar obstruction. The society endorsed a Vancouver Branch resolution, protesting the killing of female and small male seals by native Indians for fur trade during February, March and April. The resolution was forwarded to the Federal Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

TAG DAY MAY 4

The committee in charge of the tag day to be held on Saturday, May 4, will meet in the society's office, room "A," Campbell Building, on March 27, at 3 o'clock. Those wishing to give their services are requested to send in their names as early as possible. During the temporary absence of the secretary, communications should be sent to the president, F. J. Crowhurst, telephone Empire 1568 until the end of March, after which they may be sent to the secretary, telephone Empire 7556.

Since the last monthly meeting, thirty-four cases were attended and 317 animals and birds inspected.

Any person who wishes to have a copy of the annual report of the society's activities may procure one by calling at the society's office.

Cases of cruelty or neglect should be reported to the inspector, G. A. Allen, telephone Empire 8351.

MAYORS OF DOMINION WILL PARLEY MONDAY

Registration of mayors will take place at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning at the Dominion Mayors' Conference in Montreal, according to word received at the City Hall. Mayor David Leeming will represent Victoria.

After an official welcome, Mayor Camillien Houde, of Montreal, will call for appointment of a chairman, secretary, relief committee and two other groups to deal with interest rates and loans. Unemployment problems will then be taken up, followed by evening radio broadcasts.

Discussions will be continued on Tuesday and in the evening mayors will attend a reception arranged by the tourist branch of the Quebec Government.

CAGERS ON EDGE FOR TONIGHT'S HOOP FIXTURE

Oval Ball Fifteens Clash Tomorrow Afternoon at Macdonald Park—Proceeds to Augment Injured Players' Fund—Teams Announced

With the total gate receipts going to augment the injured players' fund, Victoria College and Canadian Scottish, smart Intermediate Rugby League fifteens, will play an exhibition fixture tomorrow afternoon at Macdonald Park. The kick-off is set for 3 o'clock.

Coach Johnny Rowland's blue and gold Craigdarroch fifteen Wednesday captured the Kiwanis Cup when they defeated the Victoria High School, 6-0, in a stubbornly contested fixture.

Canadian Scottish, who finished close to the leaders in the intermediate race, will trot out their strongest fifteen of the season in an effort to conclude the year with a victory over the Victoria College ruggers. Last Sunday the militiamen journeyed to Nanaimo and with eleven intermediates and four seniors, defeated the Up-Island seniors, 10-3.

Jack Cosier, backfield ace, was the star of this fixture and scored seven of the total points garnered by the Canadian Scottish. Four of these points came from a beautiful field goal kicked by the elusive and clever Cosier, Scottish three-quarter.

SCOTTISH LINE-UP

Canadian Scottish will have Pearson at fullback, and H. Anderson, Cosier, McDonald and Holland as three-quarters. Billingsley and Speed will be the halfbacks. The forwards will include McLaughlin, Butler, Custance, Strain, Forbes, Adamson, Howell and D. Anderson.

Tomorrow's match will write finis on the oval ball season in Victoria. With the gate receipts for such a worthy cause, it is anticipated that local fans will give the game the support it deserves and by so doing assist the Victoria Rugby Union in its undertaking of rendering medical aid to injured players.

KARL MARTIN AND SMITH ON SQUIRM CARD

Clever Austrian Returns to Tillicum Gymnasium Tomorrow Evening

Karl Martin, Austrian champion, and recent victor over the clever Des Anderson, Seattle middleweight wrestler, was yesterday signed to meet "Bulldog" Smith, of Oklahoma, in the first half of tomorrow evening's grappling card at the Tillicum gymnasium. In the final slot on the programme will be Abdel Khan, colorful Afghan, and Leo Burke, rugged Tacoman. Both matches are billed for six ten-minute rounds or the best two out of three falls.

Martin and Smith each have a great variety of holds, and will be expected to drag out just everything in the book to emerge on top. Both lads are clever, fast and scientific wrestlers, and their contribution to the attractive squirm card should be well received by Victoria mat fans.

MARTIN WELL KNOWN

Martin is better known in Victoria, having appeared here on a number of occasions. Smith, who is making his debut before local followers of the mat game, has had plenty of experience against some of the best mat men in the world, and he figures to make it plenty hot for the well-liked Austrian.

Although Martin and Smith are plenty rugged, their bout is expected to stay fairly well within the bounds of good ring etiquette.

The other portion of the double bill, which brings together Abdel Khan and Leo Burke, will be quite the opposite, and should provide all the fireworks necessary for one evening, and even more.

With such an excellent variety of squirming in the offing, another bumper crowd is expected to be on hand at the Tillicum gymnasium to see the boys in action.

The first bout on the card, a local preliminary, will get started at 8:30 o'clock.

Varsity Thunderbirds Are Prepared

Here they are and raring to go, University of British Columbia's "Thunderbirds," who will go against Victoria Blue Ribbons in the third game of the provincial men's senior "A" basketball play-off series, tonight, at the High School gymnasium. The series is all even-Stephen, the Ribbons having won the first game by a 30-24 score in Vancouver, and the Point Grey lads the second by the overwhelming score of 39-23. Varsity arrived yesterday afternoon and held a three-hour workout at the scene of tonight's fixture, familiarizing themselves with the local court. At the top of the picture on the left is Ralph Henderson, centre, and on the right is Art Willoughby, guard. In the next row is George Pringle, on the left, and Tommy Mansfield opposite him, while in the next is Jimmy Bardsley, forward and captain, and Coach Jack Barberie. At the bottom, left to right, is Dick Wright and Bill Swan. Others not in the picture are Osborne and Ross.

RIBBONS CONFIDENT OF TAKING LEAD IN PROVINCIAL SERIES

Locals in Fine Shape for Third Game of British Columbia Basketball Play-Offs Against University of British Columbia at High School Gymnasium—Preliminary at 8 o'Clock

With the stage all set and a sell-out house a certainty, the third act of British Columbia's annual basketball drama will be presented to Victorians tonight at the Victoria High School gymnasium when University of British Columbia cagers step on the maple court to tangle with the Blue Ribbons in the final play-off series for the men's senior "A" provincial championship. The preliminary fixture will bring together Beavers and Paint Supply in a consolation tussle in the Sunday School League and the whistle will be tooted at 8 o'clock for the teams to swing into action. President Jack Taylor announced yesterday that the doors will be opened at 7:30.

RED MARTIN

The famous "Thunderbirds" from the Point Grey institution arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and held a three-hour workout last evening at the scene of the battle. They were familiarizing themselves with the strange court, one which will be the scene of the fourth act tomorrow night, and then if a fifth game is necessary, it will be played on the same floor Friday, March 29. Tomorrow's preliminary will be between Nanaimo and Chinese Students in a Vancouver Island final.

LOCALS CONFIDENT

"We are confident of taking tonight's game. All the boys are in great condition and we expect to jump into the lead in the series and then lift the provincial crown tomorrow night by winning the fourth tussle," stated J. A. Barnwell, manager of the tea and coffee merchants, yesterday. However, Varsity is equally as confident and is figuring on taking the third fixture and then following this victory with another Saturday.

The Ribbons played cautiously in the first game on the Mainland, and after going into a commanding lead, coasted through to finish three baskets to the good. Varsity finished strong in that game, but never looked like winning at any time during the forty minutes.

The second argument was a different story. Blue Ribbons jumped into the lead just like the preceding evening, but the students rallied and left the court at the interval trailing by a lone point. Turning on the power in the second half, Varsity ran away from a disorganized Victoria quintette and as time went on were piling up a big lead in championship style. After losing the lead, the Ribbons really "blew up" and never did come back to earth.

Art Chapman, tall tip-off ace, was the hero of Victoria's first victory, caging thirteen points, while Albert "Red" Martin potted ten in the second fixture. The Ribbons will step on the court with Chuck Chapman and Doug Peden on the back division. Art Chapman will be in the pivot position, flanked by "Red" Martin and "Porky" Andrews. Alex McKeachie, Johnny Craig and Bill Wallis will be the reserve forwards, while Joe Ross, veteran player, will be ready for relief guard duty.

VARSITY'S LINE-UP

Officials of the Varsity squad announced their starting line-up last night. George Pringle will be at right guard with Dick Wright as his teammate on the rear flank. Ralph Henderson, brother of Arnold, who starred at Varsity for many years, will be jumping against Chapman at centre, while Art Willoughby will be on the right flank and Jimmy Bardsley, captain, on the left lane. Tommy Mansfield, Bill Swan, Osborne and Ross are the reserves.

Alf Perrin and Joe Polley, noted Vancouver arbiters, will be handling both play-off games here. They are said to be impartial and very strict with their decisions.

That front line of Henderson, Bardsley and Willoughby will have to be closely guarded. They are dynamite once they start clicking. Long shots are their chief line of attack; most of their field goals in Vancouver coming from well outside the foul-line circle. Bardsley dropped in sixteen points in the second game with Chuck Chapman checking him. So tonight, Chuck, stay right with Bardsley, follow him every move he makes and one thing is certain, he will not break into double figures again.

Here's some final advice to the Ribbons. Stay on your checks; jump at scoring opportunities; be more accurate from the foul line, and get in there and play ball from the opening whistle and there should be no question about the outcome. Another thing, do not take Varsity lightly, as they are a scrappy bunch of ball players, always in the game, fighting for victory to the final whistle.

Captures Main Event at Bay Meadows—Officials Forced to Change Policy

SAN MATEO, Cal., March 21 (AP).—Faced with a steady decrease in daily attendance since the Spring meeting opened nine days ago, officials of the Bay Meadows track decided today to open the grandstand free to the public, a move directly opposed to the policy of the State Horse Racing Board.

The announcement was madd by General Manager William P. Kyne, who said the "free admission" policy would become effective next Monday. Admission prices will be charged on Saturdays and holidays, and at all times in the clubhouse.

High Pockets, owned by M. C. Rush, won today's feature race, a mile run for four-year-olds and up. Dan McCown was up on High Pockets, which paid $15.60, $6.80 and $6.00. Jeannette K. returned $7.20 and $5.60, and Lynwood $3.80. The time was 1:49 3-5.

VARSITY HOOPMEN HAVE LARGE LIST OF SUPERSTITIONS

Quintette to Oppose Blue Ribbons Here Tomorrow Night Are Very Superstitious Crowd

VANCOUVER, March 21 (CP).—The adage that "where civilization is, no superstition can exist," may be a generally accepted one on the campus, but it doesn't mean a thing to University of British Columbia hoopsters.

When Varsity meet Victoria Blue Ribbons tomorrow night at Victoria in the third game of their series, the students will be pinning their hopes towards a provincial title not only on their ability and for "dear old Alma Mater," but also on a pet list of superstitions.

For instance, there is the sweat pants switching act of Captain Jimmy Bardsley and Dick Wright. It started during the league schedule and the students credit it with bringing them out of a slump. They have maintained it ever since and only hope it doesn't work backwards to the time when they started it.

Other superstitions include Art Willoughby, who won't strip until the other players have donned their uniforms; Joe Pringle, who takes a piece of chewing candy from Coach Barberie before starting each game; Jack Ross, who must visit the gym before he plays, if only to get a whiff of "gym air," and "Duck" Swan, who believes his "Gosh, the other fellows are better'n us; we're terrible," works the reverse.

ROBINSON IS OUT IN FRONT

Has Lead of Fourteen Points Over Dunlop in City Billards Final

With both players displaying good form and playing careful billiards all of the way, Harry Robinson gained a fourteen-point lead over Tommy Dunlop in the first 400 points of the city championship final yesterday evening at the Metropolis Billiards Parlor.

The second and final block of 400 points will be played this evening, with Robinson, the leader, still in play. The match will start at 8 o'clock.

Last night's match was close all of the way and the large gallery that witnessed the exhibition saw some fine play. Dunlop showed masterful control of the ivories at one stage during the match and ran off an eighty-one break. His other high breaks were fifty-one and two breaks of thirty-nine.

Robinson's high break was fifty-one and his next best forty-five. He also ran off a forty break and a number of runs over the thirty mark.

Wins Foursomes At Colwood Club

Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Quincey captured the women's foursomes held at the Royal Colwood Golf Club yesterday with a net card of 84½. Miss Benson and Mrs. Crowe were next with an 85½, and Mrs. Senior and Mrs. McKenzie finished third with a net 88.

Royals Beat Saints

MONTREAL, March 21 (CP).—Difference between senior and intermediate hockey was clearly outlined tonight when Montreal Royals, senior champions of Quebec, scored a 10-1 victory over St. Jerome, intermediate titleholders of the province, in the first of a best-of-three series for the right to advance in Allan Cup play. The second game is scheduled for Friday.

Remember When

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)

VANCOUVER, March 20.—The Victoria Women's Grass Hockey Club continued their winning career by defeating the Normal School eleven here today by three goals to nil. The game was Victoria's throughout and at every stage the players from the Capital City showed their superiority.

Meeting for the last time this season in first division company, the Victoria West soccer eleven yesterday afternoon defeated the A.O.F. eleven to the tune of 4-1. Although the game was fairly interesting, there was lacking the spirited work of a first division affair. However, Victoria West has fully demonstrated its superiority over the A.O.F. aggregation, and had there been less pugilistic encounters on the part of both teams, there would undoubtedly have been some faster work displayed.

Victoria, 34; Nanaimo, 0

Nanaimo spoiled yesterday's McKechnie Cup Rugby match by unsportsmanlike conduct. Led by the incorrigible Snowden two other of the yellow-jerseyed lads left the field in the second half, complaining that Referee Barnacle allowed a try where there should have been a scrimmage. Up to that time, while the visitors were being badly beaten, they had behaved themselves just as well as Victoria. Therefore the action of the three malcontents is the more to be regretted and, conversely, the pluck of the remaining twelve in staying on the field and seeing the battle through to the end is to be heartily commended.

Athletic followers of the city are looking forward to the feast that is in store for them on Good Friday, when Oak Bay Park will be the scene of the most lively programme that has been seen there for some months, namely, a one and five-mile handicap and a soccer match that promises to be the fastest played in the city this season.

When North Ward, second division champions, clash with Victoria West, first division champions, there is bound to be something doing, for both teams are trained to the minute and are confident of winning. Around the Victoria West camp there is a feeling of assured success for Stan Okell's athletes have been through a strenuous siege of winning soccer and feel certain that since they were strong enough to cop the first division series, they should be able to down the Wards.

But Captain Taylor, of the Wards, thinks differently. The determined leader of the youngsters that sport the royal blue figures that his booters are strong enough to do for the greenshirts. He says that they are in better shape now than ever, as they have been doing road work nightly and are ready to try and down the winners of the Senior City League.

The Vancouver Athletic Club will send over its senior and junior basketball teams for matches with similar teams representing Victoria West Athletic Association next Saturday evening at the Assembly Hall.

SCOTTISH SOCCER

GLASGOW, March 21 (CP).—Rangers increased their lead over the second-place Celtic to six points yesterday, defeating Clyde, 4-2, in a Scottish League first division soccer match. In another first division game Hamilton Academicals beat Partick Thistles 2-1.

SPORT FLASHES BY HARRY J. FOSTER

MASTER OF THE MIDIRON

C. Ross "Sandy" Somerville, of London, Ont., on whom Canada is pinning her hopes of capturing the British amateur title, has been the outstanding Canadian amateur golfer for the past eight years. Eight years is a long time to wear a golf crown, yet this quiet, unassuming Londoner does it with utmost grace and modesty. The champion's career dates back to 1926, when as a mere lad in his early twenties he annexed the Dominion amateur championship. In 1928 he again outplayed all competitors for the same honors. Then two years in succession, 1930 and 1931, he demonstrated that "champions can come back" by again capturing the highest honors in the gift of the Canadian Amateur Golf Association. In 1932 he decided to invade the United States field, and after a short session of play the startled readers of United States newspaper sports pages learned with amazement that the "Silent Sandy" from London, Ont., had been in their midst. He annexed the United States amateur golf championship from Johnny Goodman, of Baltimore. This was the second time that a foreigner had accomplished this feat, the first time being when H. H. Hilton, of the Royal Liverpool Club, of England, won it in 1911. This brilliant young Canadian will captain ten of the outstanding amateurs selected from all parts of the Dominion who will go to England late this month in an effort to annex the British amateur title.

The team will represent the Royal Canadian Golf Association, and, while there, they will play several matches, and there is a possibility that through these matches Canada may, in the future, be included in the Walker Cup matches, now played between the United States and Great Britain.

Those who know "Sandy" Somerville best expect great things from him during this trip to England. His failure to do anything spectacular last year doesn't discourage them, because they know that the dour, unsmiling Scot is made of "championship stuff."

WEST ROAD TAKES BASKETBALL LEAD

Gains Margin of Twenty-Six Points Over Lake Hill in Annual Cup Series

Scoring victories in each of the three games, cage quintettes from West Road gained a twenty-six-point lead over Lake Hill hoopsters in the annual six-game series for the West Road-Keating Cup. The second series of three games will be played in the near future, with aggregate points deciding the winners.

In the feature game West Road seniors defeated Lake Hill, 47-41, and West Road girls checked in with a 25-11 victory in the fair sex battle. The home squad registered its third verdict of the evening when the intermediates defeated the Lake Hill Doo Dads, 24-18.

The teams follow:

West Road Seniors—K. Young (9), C. Sluggett, L. Butler (6), C. Sluggett (18), G. Lawson (12) and M. Lannon (2). Total, 47.

Hudson's Bay Girls—H. Booth (1), E. Stewart (4), G. Cooke (2), K. Hall (2), M. Sykes and Waters (2). Total, 11.

West Road Intermediates—Sutton (1), Kersey (8), McKenzie (5), Sluggett (4), Rice (6) and Lannon. Total, 24.

Lake Hill Doo Dads—Roberts, Ewing, N. Morgan (3), Stirrick (8), Patterson, A. Rollin (2), Bradley (5) and V. Rollin. Total, 18.

MANCHESTER CITY FACES SUNDERLAND TOMORROW

Both Clubs Badly in Need of Victory to Stay in Running for First Division Honors—Arsenal Takes On Grimsby Town—Important Tussles Booked in Scottish League

LONDON, March 21 (CP).—With cup ties disposed of, interest will settle once more on English Soccer League games Saturday.

Arsenal has two players on the injured list for the game at Highbury against Grimsby Town, with Goalkeeper Moss and Halfback Copping on the sidelines. Grimsby Town has not shown to any great advantage in recent weeks.

Manchester City's display at Maine Road, where the third-place team entertains Sunderland, will be particularly watched. The Roker Park club is only two points behind Arsenal and will be at full strength for the game.

West Bromwich Albion, English Cup finalist, will play its second game this week. The team has not yet been decided after Wednesday's semi-final replay against Bolton Wanderers. Inspired by the play a week ago of Burgess, former Sheffield Wednesday player, Chelsea is out to snatch a win from the Albion.

Bolton Wanderers, free from cup worries, return to league competition and will concentrate on holding their second place standing behind Brentford in the Second Division. The Wanderers, at home to Bradford, will likely field the same team that lost to West Bromwich Albion in the semi-final replay earlier in the week. Brentford is at home to the lowly Oldham Athletic.

Charlton Athletic, eight points up on its closest rival, Coventry City, in the Southern Section, is after its twenty-third win of the season against Bristol City.

Reading, tied in points with Coventry City, but down a notch in the standing on account of a poorer goal average, meets Aldershot, while Coventry entertains Queen's Park Rangers.

Tranmere Rovers and Doncaster Rovers have been staging a great fight during recent weeks for leadership of the Northern Section. Tranmere, one point up, is host to Gateshead, while Barrow is host to Doncaster.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE

GLASGOW, March 21 (CP).—An all-round programme of crowd-teasing games is scheduled for Saturday's Scottish Soccer League competition. The majority of fixtures are, on paper at least, well balanced, but two games stand out as possible dour struggles.

St. Mirren and Ayr United, cellar occupants, are stacked against formidable opponents. The "giant killers" play away from home at Dundee. The Saints seem to revel in beating top-flight squads, as scores of recent weeks indicate. Ayr United entertains the second-place Celtic side. Brilliant football will most likely be displaced by hard "do-or-die" struggles in these tilts.

Dunfermline and Falkirk, both hovering close to the relegation mark, meet on the formers' grounds.

More polished displays are likely to be witnessed at Shawfield and Fir Park, while St. Johnstone followers will have a chance to cheer their favorites against the strong Glasgow Rangers. The eighth-place Clyde is host to Aberdeen, in fourth position, at Shawfield, and Airdrieonians visit Motherwell at Fir Park.

Third Lanark, Second Division leader, is playing away from home against Raith Rovers. The big battle in this division, however, is the St. Bernard's-Arbroath match. Arbroath is two points behind Third Lanark and the Saints are just a step behind the second-place side.

Local Rider and Jules Audy Trailing Field in Chicago's Six-Day Race

CHICAGO, March 21 (AP).—Chicago's international six-day race passed its ninety-sixth hour tonight with the Italian-American combination of Avanti Martinetti and Bill Grimm leading by a narrow margin of sprint points.

The Canadians, Torchy Peden and Jules Audy, were last, one mile and three laps behind the leaders.

School Elevens Clash Today in Soccer Fixture

Victoria High School "A" soccer eleven will journey to Bullen Park this afternoon to meet the Esquimalt High School team in the first round of the recently-organized football series for high school squads. The kick-off is set for 4 o'clock and an interesting match is expected.

The Esquimalt team will line up as follows: G. Wilkinson, C. Pecknold, J. Stewart (captain), A. Ricketts, E. DeCosta, J. Robinson, D. Walker, H. Kennedy, F. Pocock, W. Stewart and T. Richards.

BILL TERRY HAS EYES ON THE PENNANT

New York Giants Will Go Right After Flag, States Young Manager

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 21 (AP).—Take the finest all-round pitching staff in the National League, back it up with sturdy if not brilliant catching, a glittering infield, a swift robust outfield, mixed with plenty of fighting spirit and the answer should come close to describing the 1935 champions. That is New York Giants this season, and Bill Terry says the answer is—the champions.

BILL TERRY

Terry got the shortstop he's been aching for—scrappy Dick Bartell—from the Phillies, and with him he brought back George Davis, for centrefield. The deal cost him the slogan man of 1933, "Blondy" Ryan, Third-Baseman Johnny Vergez, Pitcher Joe Bowman, and cash enough to make up a brilliant Bartell's value, $125,000.

HAS MARK KOENIG

He picked up real infield replacement strength in Mark Koenig, and he gathered in the relief pitchers he couldn't do without, Leon Chagnon, from Pittsburgh, and Allyn Stout, from Cincinnati.

Terry's greatest strength, of course, rests in the big four of his pitching staff, Oklahoma Carl Hubbell, the screwball ace; the veteran knuckler, plump Freddy Fitzsimmons, and the rubber-armed youngsters who have everything that it takes, Leroy Parmelee and Harold Schumacher.

CRICKET GOSSIP

By "MID-OFF"

I wonder how many Victorians—as well as our friends on the Mainland—will remember this fixture which took place quite a number of years ago. I am quite sure it was Coppinger's last game—and it was due to his bowling, to a great extent, that Victoria was successful.

* * *

We were, as usual in those days, met at the boat by sundry of our opponents and driven to the Vancouver Hotel for breakfast—and my word what a breakfast! Mr. Shotton was the master of ceremonies and dispensed the "eye-openers." I can still see the crowd at the Madam du Barry Room at the C.P.R.—the finest fellows on earth.

* * *

Armitage was captaining the Vancouver XI and expressed his regrets that the skipper of the Victoria team, "Giddy" Goward, had been compelled to come over with such a poor representative side. I think I am right in saying that five of us had never played in an inter-city event before. Sundry players, for sundry causes, had dropped out at the last moment. Goward's reply to Armitage was to the effect that it was a pity Vancouver should have to play against such a "scrub" side, but we would do our best in any event.

The Brockton Point ground was crowded with spectators, and you can imagine the feelings of some of us playing against one of the strongest teams fielded by the Mainland. I am not in possession of the score sheet, but I know the match went to a full four innings, the total number of runs being approximately 450. Each side made a little in excess of the century the occasions they went to bat, Victoria winning by the odd few runs.

* * *

Coppinger, as aforementioned, bowled magnificently and took the last wicket of the day—a "caught and bowled" of the "skier" type. I can still hear his huge "all right, I'll take it"—and he certainly did.

* * *

The fielding of the Victoria team was a wonderful exhibition—everyone on his toes, bowling of a fine order, and a real gobd knock by Sparks in the first innings—I believe he got sixty odd.

Those who had the pleasure of playing in the match will also recollect particularly the work of Fred Wright (who has since dropped cricket, now delighting Victoria audiences with his vocal attainments) on the boundary. The catch that disposed of the great Chandler was a real thriller. Wright tore round the boundary at tremendous speed and pulled a one-handed catch "out of the clouds," much to the amazement of friend Chandler and everybody in general.

* * *

I look upon the match as a "Coppinger victory"—his tenacity was wonderful—a great performance by a whole-hearted cricketer, and one that he must have looked back on with any amount of pleasure.

* * *

The match over, congratulations from our worthy opponents—cheery "au-revoirs," with the hope of a further "battle" in the following Summer.

UNION CRAFTSMEN IN HEALTHY, AIRY SURROUNDINGS

For twenty-five years Tip Top Tailors have kept the thought of service and value uppermost in their minds.

Tip Top Tailors realized in the beginning and have maintained through these twenty-five years that they could only sustain this service and value by employing capable craftsmen at a fair wage and under pleasant working conditions.

Tip Top clothes are tailored by Union craftsmen who work in a building that is admittedly a model of its kind. Conditions are ideal—air and sunshine in every nook and corner of the tailoring workshops. Rest rooms, recreation rooms, hospital, cafeteria—all are spotlessly clean.

A Tip Top suit or topcoat is made by all union labor—satisfied and well paid craftsmen who give you the most for your money.

Oak Bay Wanderers Rugby Club Dinner Is Billed Tonight

MEMBERS of the Oak Bay Wanderers Rugby Club will ring down the curtain on the 1934-35 season this evening at a monster banquet at Speedie's Cafe, Vancouver Island Coach Lines Depot. Players of the senior and the two intermediate fifteens and club officials will attend the event, which promises to be one of the best for many years. The function is billed to get under way at 7 o'clock. President Carew Martin, popular president of the Victoria Rugby Union, will be a guest of the club, and will present the Heyland Cup, symbolic of the Intermediate Rugby League championship, to Ronnie McConnan, captain of the undefeated Wanderers Blues. President K. C. Symons, of the Oak Bay Wanderers Club, will preside.

THEY GOT SWAMPED

Cup ties have provided soccer with the most lop-sided contests on the records. Back in 1885, Arbroath, a Second Division, Scottish League, team, defeated Bon Accord by 36-0 in a Scottish Cup match. Two years later, in an English Cup fixture, Preston North End defeated Hyde 26-0.

Security Prices Swing Upward at New York Mart

NEW YORK, March 21 (AP). — The worm turned with a vengeance today as the much abused utilities led a smart general rally in the stock market.

The usual flock of rumors flew over Wall Street to account for the better action of the power shares. But confirmation of most of the stories was lacking in responsible quarters. Reports had it Federal funds would not be used for power plant construction in competition with the private utility companies.

Improvement was apparent in almost all leaders.

The day's company reports contained a number of improved income figures. Next to utilities, rails gave about the best market performance. Higher valued issues, such as Union Pacific at 87 7-8, were around 2 points better.

Volume aggregated 889,615 shares.

Among utility stocks gains of 2 points or a little more were registered by American Telephone at 102 3-4, and Brooklyn Union Gas at 45 1-2, while a wide section of the power shares advanced major fractions to around 2 points each. Up a point or so were U.S. Steel at 28 7-8, Bethlehem at 14 1-8, Westinghouse at 35 1-4, Harvester at 37 1-2 and Western Union at 23.

Amongst Canadian issues fractional gains were in the majority.

Columbia Gas & Electric, Federal Light & Traction, North American Edison, Postal Telegraph, and Utah Power & Light, showed gains of 1 to around 3 points.

Losses of from 1 to 3 or more points were recorded for some of the German, French, Italian and Polish Government and private bonds. Belgium 6s were around 1 1-2 points higher.

CHEAPER GOLDS CLOSE WEAKER

TORONTO, March 21 (CP).—The mining section of the Toronto Stock Exchange adjusted itself to a lower price level today with selling geared up to a 600,000-share turnover. High price golds were steady with base metals and silvers firm.

Pioneer and Wright-Hargreaves added 15 cents each, Bralorne 10, and Teck-Hughes and Hollinger recorded unimportant recessions. Little Long Lac, trading 13,000 shares, dipped 10 cents to 5.50; San Antonio was off 20, and losses of 2 to 8 appeared in Pickle Crow, God's Lake and Bradian.

Base Metals Corporation advanced 10 cents to 53. Noranda, Falconbridge and Sherritt closed slightly higher. In the silvers, Nipissing, Eldorado and Bear were on the up side at the close.

WHEAT PRICES UP FRACTIONS

Bullish Tone Prevails on Winnipeg Market—Fair Export Sales Reported

WINNIPEG, March 21 (CP).—Heavy selling preventing a too-rapid advance, bullishness prevailed on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today and in other world commodity markets. Values closed 1-4c higher, May at .84 1-8 and July 83 5-8c.

Export sales of nearly 400,000 bushels of Canadian wheat, continued unfavorable crop reports from the United States Southwest and steadily-advancing prices in the international wheat market were constructive factors.

In the wake of the 5-8c gains at Chicago, 5-8d upturns at Liverpool and a fractional advance at Buenos Aires, local future mounted early.

Last-minute short-covering enabled coarse grains prices to score net gains of 1-4 to 5-8c.

CANADIAN DOLLAR AND POUND RATES

MONTREAL, March 21 (CP).—Currencies suffered a general decline on Montreal foreign exchanges today. The pound lost 1 7-32 cents at $4.81 1-32, while the United States dollar was off 3-32 of 1 per cent at 1 1-32 per cent premium. The franc declined .01 of a cent at 6.63 cents.

Leading Stocks at Eastern Exchanges Show Small Gains

MONTREAL, March 21 (CP).—Power stocks were the only bright spot in a dull list on the Montreal Stock Exchange today.

Shawinigan Power gained a point at 16 3-4 and Montreal Power rose 7-8 at 29 5-8. B.C. Power lost 3-8 at 23 1-4.

Heavy selling of Dominion Coal preferred followed charges in the Nova Scotia Legislature yesterday of "manipulation" in the recent spectacular rise of the stock. Coal preferred sold down 6 3-4 points to 131, while the common stock of Dominion Steel was off 1-4 at 4 1-8.

Interlisted issues were narrowly higher, although not subjected to any particular buying.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, March 21 (CP).—The industrial section of the Toronto Stock Exchange strengthened under leadership of New York today, but flattened out before the close with only part of the gain held.

Profit-taking on the rise carried several issues back to their opening level. Walkers common gained 1-4 at 28; Distillers-Seagrams added 1-2. Brewery stocks were stronger.

In the interlisteds, Nickel, Ford and C.P.R. closed 1-8 to 5-8 higher. Banks were irregularly higher; chain stores lost ground. Bell Telephone, ex-dividend, dropped 2 to 129.

KRAZY KAT . . . . . By Herriman

THE TUTTS . . . By Crawford Young

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

FIDDLESTICKS!

This in an exclamation of contempt which dates back several centuries.

The word fiddle as a noun, has never lost the derogatory sense with which, from its beginnings, it has always been associated. As a verb, it indicated toying, fooling or playing with, this significance carrying over into its application in connection with the violin.

Fiddlers never achieved the standing which a person with musical inclinations should rate. The English language has many phrases pointing to the low esteem in which they have been held—fiddler's fare, fiddler's wages, and the like.

Fiddlesticks! is simply another evidence of the undeserved public attitude toward the wielders of the bow resulting in an 'expression' of impatience or disregard.

"So you remember way back to the Revolution, do you?"

"Yassa. De Revolution and Gin'l Washington an' all of them."

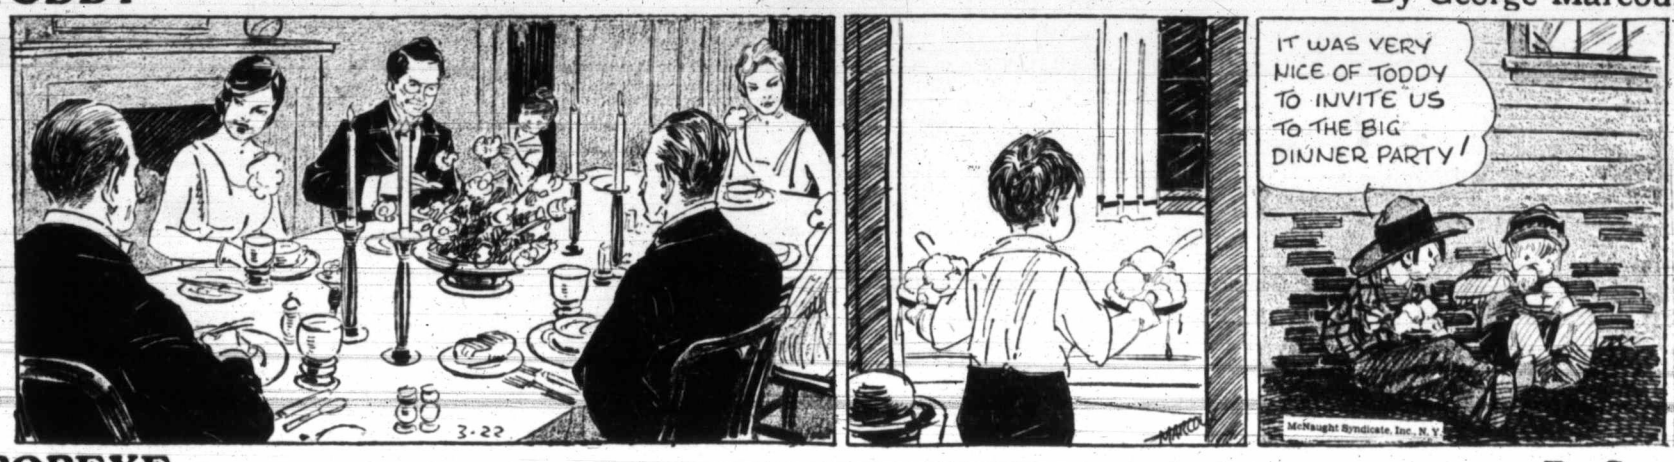

"Perhaps you were a witness of the fall of Rome?"

"Nossa. Ah didn't exactly see it, but Ah recollect hearin' somethin' drop!"

The Daily Colonist

RATES FOR CLASSIFIED OR WANT ADVERTISEMENTS

One and one-half cents a word each insertion; nine cents a word a week, with a minimum of ten words; cash with order. No advertisement accepted for less than twenty-five cents.

Death and Funeral Notices, $1.50, first insertion, $1.00 for each additional insertion. Marriages, Cards of Thanks and In Memoriam Notices, $1.50 per insertion.

Birth Notices, $1.00 per insertion.

Business or Professional Cards of two lines or under, $2.50 per month. Additional space at $1.25 per line per month.

Advertisers who desire may have replies addressed to a box at The Colonist and forwarded to their private address. A charge of ten cents is made for mailing replies. In this case add three words ("Box Colonist") to the count for the number of words.

Out-of-town readers of our advertisements ask advertisers to give address as well as phone numbers, as it is not always possible to communicate through the phone.

Any claim for rebate on account of errors or omissions must be made within thirty days from the date of the same, otherwise the claim will not be allowed.

The Colonist will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one issue.

The Colonist service is available every day from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., excepting Sunday. Just call Empire 4114.

To insure insertion, Classified Ads should reach The Colonist before 10 p.m. on the day previous to publication.

Classified Ads for The Sunday Colonist will be accepted up to 10 p.m. on Saturdays.

1 BIRTHS

2 DEATHS

CANN—The death occurred in the St. Mary's Hospital, in New Westminster, on March 18, 1935, of Fanny George Cann, beloved wife of Edward J. Cann, of Queenstown, Alta. The late Mrs. Cann was born in Portage la Prairie, Man., in 1873, and was the daughter of the late Dr. Charles Mair, the well-known Canadian author. Mrs. Cann lived for a few years recently in Victoria. Her end was peace.

The remains were interred in New Westminster, B.C.

BARRON—On March 19, at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Mrs. Dora Elmara Barron, aged fifty-two years, born in Springford, Ont., and a resident of this city for the last sixteen years; late residence, 1749 Sixth Street. She is survived by, besides her sorrowing husband, James Barron, two daughters, Vera Fleming and Dorothy Mary Barron; also two brothers and four sisters.

The funeral will take place on Friday, March 22, at 2 o'clock, in the chapel of the Sands Mortuary, Ltd. Rev. F. W. Weaver will officiate and the remains will be laid to rest in Royal Oak Burial Park. No flowers by request.

STEPHEN—In this city, on Tuesday, March 19, at Cedar Hill Road, there passed away Mrs. Margaret Stephen. The late Mrs. Stephen was born in Guelph, Ont., eighty-six years ago, and came to this city fifteen years ago from Durham, Ont. Mrs. Stephen leaves in sorrow two sons, A. M. and W. G. Stephen, both of Vancouver, also two sisters, Mrs. B. B. Moore and Mrs. W. H. Whittaker, with whom she had been residing.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the parlors of the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home, Rev. H. J. Armitage will officiate and interment will take place in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

MASTERS—There passed away at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Thursday morning, March 21, Mrs. Laura Masters, beloved wife of Mr. Henry Masters, in her fifty-seventh year; born in Earl Shilton, Leicester, England, and a resident of this city for the last twenty-one years; late residence, Luxton. She is survived by, besides her husband, one daughter, Miss Gertrude Mary Ndola, and John Henry Masters, at the family residence; two brothers, Horace and Walter Nixon, and two sisters, Mrs. S. Heard and Miss Florence Nixon, of Leicestershire, England. The late Mrs. Masters was a valued member of the Central Baptist Church.

The funeral will take place on Saturday, March 23, at 2 o'clock, in the chapel of the Sands Mortuary, Ltd. Rev. J. B. Rowell will officiate, and the remains will be laid at rest in the Colwood Burial Park. Memorial services in the Central Baptist Church, Sunday morning.

5 IN MEMORIAM

MILNE—In ever loving memory of Alexander Hunter Milne, who entered into rest March 22, 1934.

Deep in our hearts there's a picture
Of a loved one gone to rest;
In memory's frame we shall keep it,
Because he was one of the best.

Our lips cannot speak how we loved him,
Our hearts cannot tell what to say;
God only knows how we miss him,
As we journey along on life's way.

—Inserted by his loving widow and family.

CHAMPIONS WILL RECEIVE MEDALS

Victoria Recreational Centre Activities Will Be Brought to a Close Monday

Winter activities of the Provincial Recreational Centre (Victoria) will be brought to a close Monday in gala fashion, with a gymnastic display, dinner and presentation of medals, swimming gala and dance.

The busy day will commence at 3 o'clock with the gym display at the Memorial Hall gymnasium. Men and women members of the Victoria centre will take part in this event.

Football and basketball championship teams will receive their awards at a dinner to be held at the Y.M.C.A. at 6 o'clock. The Albions won the soccer title when they defeated the Spurs, 4-0, yesterday afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park in the final match. Basketball honors went to the Blues, who eked out a 26-25 victory over the Reds in the last fixture on the schedule, yesterday evening, at the Memorial Hall Gymnasium.

Aquatic stars of the Victoria Centre will vie for honors in the Crystal Garden pool at 8 o'clock on Monday at a swimming gala.

The evening will be brought to a close with a dance at the Memorial Hall gymnasium from 9:30 to 11:30 o'clock. Members of the Recreational Centre and their friends are invited.

KEEPING PEACE IN EUROPE FIRST AIM

the Anglo-German talks, which was the basis laid down in the Anglo-French communique of February 3, envisaging German arms equality only in return for her entrance into security pacts and a return to the league with a new all-around arms limitation agreement.

ON JUST TERMS

But, he went on, "the object of British policy has been to help bring this great state (Germany) back into the council of comity of Europe on terms which are just to her and which are fair and square for all, so that she with her great talents and resources may contribute in her full status and dignity to the task which every European wants, and that is the task of sustaining and strengthening general peace and good relations by agreement and co-operation between the nations.

The alternative to a settlement by agreement, Sir John continued, was a system of special assistance pacts. "What we are all striving for is increased confidence of the European States, based on a firm understanding and general agreement . . . we are not contemplating any special agreement between this country and any other.

MUST BE COMPREHENSIVE

"A visit to Berlin or Warsaw does not mean that we are turning our back on Paris, Rome and Brussels, or Geneva, but only that a European settlement can be reached only if it is comprehensive.

"There is no misunderstanding more grave than that the coming meetings are directed against somebody else. Our object is to get everybody to face the facts and to face them ourselves, and to face all the facts."

There were tremendous difficulties ahead, he admitted, but it was the imperative duty of Great Britain to take the path "and in entering this new stage I feel confident we shall take with us the good will and good wishes of the House and the country, for the road we have chosen; difficult though it is, is the only possible way to a better and deeper understanding."

Indication that the British still have hopes Germany will not carry its army plan to the limit was seen when the Foreign Secretary remarked that the figures indicated by Berlin were so much higher than any figures hitherto suggested, and higher than any power in Western Europe could match, "that they raise grave doubts whether, if they persist, an agreement with some of Germany's neighbors will be possible."

AN INCLUSIVE SYSTEM

Sir John intimated that if the Anglo-German and subsequent conversations should prove fruitful, the Government would consider whether all Europe's major powers, including Germany, of course, should be called into conference to work out an inclusive security system.

His speech was loudly applauded regardless of party lines. Similar approval had followed statements by George Lansbury, Labor Opposition leader, and Sir Herbert Samuel, the Liberal Opposition leader.

Lansbury said: "Germany blames the Versailles Treaty, the French something else and the Russian Government—which, in spite of what some people say, I am quite sure does not want to fight outside of Russia—defends armaments, in the belief they fear an attack from the Far East or along the Baltic Sea . . .

"The mentality we are living in in this country and abroad is the mentality of war."

"No, no," and "not here," interrupted him.

ALL SAY THE SAME

"I do not propose to say anything provocative," he added, "but will anyone deny that every government is saying exactly the same thing . . . 'We are not arming for war, we are arming for peace, and only because other nations are arming . . .

"Unless something is speedily done by statesmen of Europe and the world, not only will the common people not be left alive to be dissatisfied or satisfied."

Sir Herbert said he did not think Lansbury exaggerated when he said the German proclamation Saturday had brought a shock to Britain only to be compared with August, 1914.

NO PREDOMINANCE

The House cheered the Liberal Opposition leader when he presented the British attitude as being "equality of status for Germany? Yes. German military predominance? No."

It was officially announced tonight that Eden would visit Praha for conversations with Czechoslovakian statesmen on April 4, following his trip to Berlin, Moscow and Warsaw.

It was officially denied there was any basis for reports that Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and Sir John would confer with the French and Italians at Como, Italy, next week. Eden will probably represent Britain there also.

AMBASSADORS SURPRISED

BERLIN, March 21 (AP).—Complications arose tonight over an official announcement that Germany had "refused to consider" French and Italian protests against violations of the Versailles Treaty.

Ambassadors of the two powers—Andre Francois-Poncet, of France, and Vittorio Cerrutti, of Italy—both expressed great surprise when newspapers appeared on the streets with an official communique which intimated that Foreign Minister Konstantin von Neurath all but ejected them from the Foreign Office.

CORDIAL VISITS

While the German Propaganda Ministry insisted that the protests would be rejected and no answer would be given, the two embassies concerned said the ambassadors' visits, two hours apart, had been cordial, no indication whatsoever having been given that the notes had been summarily rejected or that they would not be answered.

The strong attitude taken in official comments, it was suggested, was intended solely for home consumption.

Von Neurath, it was learned on the best authority, told the French and Italian envoys:

"The arguments adduced (in the notes) do not take the actual situation into account, wherefore the German Government must decline to entertain the protest."

PLANS ALL READY

PARIS, March 21 (AP). — Louis Felix Maurin, War Minister, told the Chamber of Deputies' army committee today that the general staff has its plans all ready in case of a war which, he said, however, was not expected.

The Cabinet member's statement, outlining the nation's plans in case of a conflict, came on the heels of his Government's protest to Germany on the rearming of the Reich and an appeal to Geneva to examine Germany's violation of the Versailles Treaty.

Maurin assured questioners that adequate garrisons were assembled at forts near the Rhine, that troops from other frontiers had been moved to strategic points to facilitate quick movement and that the manning of vital places was assured.

MASS EXECUTIONS

The Minister declared there had been mass executions of spies in Germany in recent weeks, that Germany was feverishly engaged in the production of war materials and that large stocks of foodstuffs had been purchased abroad and stored for army use.

France accused Hitler's Reich of attempting to sabotage efforts to guarantee the peace of Europe and cited Germany to answer before the League of Nations.

The Government of Pierre-Etienne Flandin, in a sharp note to Germany, protested the new Reich army and sought to prevent any further violation of the peace treaty by stamping the Reich as an international lawbreaker.

The punishment sought by France was world condemnation for the German action — but the great danger as seen by informed quarters was that German conscription might be a preliminary to territorial demands which they say would hold the danger of war.

TO ESTABLISH GUILT

In citing Germany today before the League Council, France intended to establish legally that Germany is wrong and that France has no intention of recognizing German violation of the military clauses of the Versailles Treaty.

The next step is the tri-power Anglo-French-Italian conference at Paris, Saturday, before Sir John Simon, British Foreign Minister, goes to Berlin to talk with Reichsfuehrer Hitler. The next is the conference of the same powers in Northern Italy after the Hitler-Simon meeting. Finally the whole matter will be presented to the League of Nations.

A POSSIBLE MOVE

GENEVA, March 21 (AP).— The possibility of a German-Hungarian-Bulgarian move to revise the post-war boundary treaties was keenly discussed today at the seat of the League of Nations as France requested action on German rearmament moves.

There appeared to be no question but what the powers would oppose any attempt to revamp the map of Europe. It was emphasized, however, that the League covenant gives the assembly the right to recommend readjustments of treaties which have been found inapplicable.

ROME, March 21 (AP). — Italy's military machine is functioning at top speed and she is ready for war if it should come, Under-Secretary of War Federico Baistrocchi told the Chamber of Deputies today.

Although he referred specifically to the Italo-Ethiopian conflict in East Africa, informed and authoritative quarters regarded his statement as an answer to Germany's military conscription decree.

LADYSMITH SOCCER PLAYER SUSPENDED

NANAIMO, March 21. — At a meeting of the Mid-Island Junior Football Association held here Wednesday night, David Alton, of Ladysmith, was suspended until he appears before the association. John Easterbrook, of the South End Club; Melford Biggs, of the Harewood "A's," and David Coulthard, of the defunct Motor Levels, were severely censored for their fighting attitudes in league games.

Harewood "A's" attitude against the ineligibility of the former Motor Level players performing for the Bagattin Cup game here last Saturday was defeated.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Sitting-Down Boat—Gardner Hill, of Round Bay, Maryland, has a really unique boat. Two or four people can ride in it while they remain seated, but if one of the occupants stands up, down goes the boat. Mr. Hill has named his skiff the "Geehowitnettlesem" for a very good reason. The arrival of sea nettles in the Summer took all the joy out of swimming in the Severn River, so Hill built a wooden frame, covered it with wire just fine enough to keep out the nettles, and fastened two empty sealed floats to each end. Hand paddles on the sides propel the craft. The buoyancy is just sufficient to hold the passengers afloat when they are seated shoulder deep in the water, but if they stand up, they push the boat under.

Jane Dixon Says:

MARRIAGE A BUSINESS — KISSING — BASHFULNESS— MISS DIXON CLEANS UP THE MAIL

Clean-up day!

We put all the left-over laundry on the line and let the sun and the wind do what they can for it.

Miss Dixon: A boy I like a lot has asked me to elope. He hasn't any money but he says to never mind about that, he'll get some one way or another. He says that once we're married we can go on from there. It sounds like an adventure, but I'm wondering where it might end. Do you know?—Amy.

Answer: I don't know but I can make a good guess. It probably would end in the divorce court or in the court of missing men. When your young man says he will get money one way or another he means "another," and I don't think that way would be very comfortable for either of you. Marriage, my dear, is not an adventure. It is a business. You can't go into business without capital. Tell the young man never to mind about the elopement until he shows you some reasonably safe place in which to land.

DEPENDS ON THE QUALITY OF THE KISS

Jane Dixon: I am sixteen and I go with a boy I like very much. Once while we were out he tried to kiss me but I refused to let him do it. A friend of his, a boy, told me that if I hadn't been so stingy, he would have liked me better. I thought he was right. So the next time I had a date I allowed the boy I like to kiss me. Was I wrong?—A.G.

Answer: I must bring out my much-used decision again, which is that there are kisses and kisses. If the boy kissed you tenderly, or with a bit of emotion that amounted to a salute, there is no harm in the kiss.

Personally, I don't think so much of the "necking" kiss. It's sort of cheap. None of us realize, until we meet the person we really and truly love, how much a kiss is worth. When we squander caresses we plant regrets. If we keep our kisses for our true love, we feel clean and worthy to give or to receive the seal of affection when it comes into our life.

BUFFET SUPPER SUITABLE

Jane Dixon: I want to have some of the people from my husband's office for supper or dinner. I don't know all of their wives, though I know all the men. Should I invite only the wives I know? I have a very small home and no servant but will get one in to help me for the party. What kind of a party should I have?—Asking.

Answer: Have a buffet supper. Prepare all your food and place it on the table as attractively as you can manage. A baked ham is an excellent idea for your main dish. Invite your guests to serve their own plates, and be sure that you have plenty of appetizing dishes from which they may choose. Include all the wives, whether you have met them or not, on your supper party. Don't attempt a formal party unless you have plenty of dishes and servants. Make your supper tasty with food and interesting in folk.

Dear Miss Jane Dixon: I like very much a young man who belongs to the same church I do. We have never had a conversation but he speaks to me, watches me closely all the time and manages to be near me. I want to know him better. Shall I approach him and start talking to him or shall I write him a note? I am very bashful. We both have been married before though I am only eighteen and he is twenty-four. What shall I say to him?—Mame.

Answer: Speak to him as you do to other friends and acquaintances, about anything that is happening around you at the time. Bashfulness is a form of self-consciousness, of ingrown self-awareness. Since the young man has shown an interest in you there is no reason why you should be bashful about speaking to him. Let him see that you appreciate his interest and would like to know him better by bringing out your brightest smile and treating him like a friend.

A SOPHOMORE'S TWO PROBLEMS

Jane Dixon: I invited two girls to my fraternity prom, never dreaming that both would accept. I wanted to make sure I'd have a girl for the prom and now I have two. They both accepted. Solve this problem if you can.—Soph.

Answer: Can't you find a less fortunate brother who has no girl and sign him to escort one of yours? Get a regular member of the stag line and ask him to give you a lift. What is fraternity for if not to help a fellow out of a jam like this.

THE LOVE FLIGHT

by Jane Dixon

CHAPTER XXIII

Anne walked along the street in the shadows. Whither? She knew not, nor cared. Just on and on. Any place but Bois Joli! Carl had failed her, he had not come for her.

Now a car pulled close to the curb, stopped. Its body caught the yellow gleams from the street light, reflected them richly.

Anne shrank farther back into the shadows. Suppose there should be someone she knew in that car—an echo out of her past? Suppose that someone should recognize her, alone, walking, rumpled—at this hour? She caught a flash of ermine, a glint of jewels.

The car slid into the street, a thin tinkle of laughter trailing in its wake.

Anne continued her way. A nostalgia for the old life, the ermine and jewel life, the gaiety, the devil-may-care breakneck pace possessed her. Why struggle for a peace that did not exist? Why search for an ideal that was not? She had thought to find humanness in lowly places. She had thought that underdogs, being under, would have kindness, sympathy, helpfulness in their hearts for one another.

Rot! The underdog snarled and snapped and flew at the throat of other underlings even more viciously than the high-bred inbred varieties. Loyalty? Something for poets and soap-box orators to rave about.

And yet—she would have staked her life that Carl Case was different—that he would be loyal. She would have staked her life, and like a silly little idiot, she would have lost it. The prospect of being associated with a woman accused of theft, falsely or otherwise, broke the invisible bond that had drawn her and Carl Case together as easily as though it had been spider-web. If humanity was entirely inhuman and life completely tasteless, she might as well muddle through in a Rolls Royce as in an autobus.

Maida! She'd go to Maida Suydam—throw herself on her cousinly mercy. She'd tell Maida everything that had happened and she'd ask forgiveness for being so headstrong. Oh, she'd have to eat humble pie, all right. But humble pie was better than humble bread.

The Suydam house by the sea shone with the sort of electric blaze that presaged some special social activity within its expansive walls.

Maida and Jack are staging a bout, Anne thought as she hurried along an inconspicuous path toward a side terrace where she knew she could enter without being noticed.

Anne increased her pace. In the world she was leaving behind the hour was growing late. Here it was early. Guests were rolling up under the porte-cochere at the other side of the house. Soon she'd be one of them, gay and reckless and greedy. She'd borrow her peacock feathers from Maida.

She found the side terrace unoccupied. She gained Maida's rooms without challenge. Fanchon, the maid, was trying to bring order out of the melee on a dressing table.

"Fanchon," Anne said, advancing. Greeting Fanchon was like finding an old friend.

"Miss—it can't be—why, yes, it is—it's Miss Anne!" Fanchon's eyes were round and startled. She might have been seeing ghosts.

"It is Miss Anne," Anne said, gaily. "Back from the wars. Do you think you could find Mrs. Suydam for me? Ask her to slip away for a minute. I must see her."

"I'll get her right away, Miss Anne. You've had a long journey, I know. You look done out. The mistress will be glad to see you. You'll be staying a while, now you've come?"

"Indefinitely." Anne tossed her hat onto a chaise longue, seated herself at the dressing table. French powder on her skin. French perfume on her lips, behind her ears. Viva la France!

Expertly she dealt with the array of cosmetics on the table. This was better. She looked almost human again. She was strolling about the room, reveling in its luxury, its extravagance, when Maida came in, head high, chin tilted upward—the same pompous Maida.

"Well!" Maida ejaculated. "Whatever brings you here?"

It was not the welcome she could have wished. Anne told hreself, but it was the welcome she might expect and which, no doubt, she deserved.

"I was washed up by the tide," she said in the little girl voice with which she had so often mocked Maida's pomposity.

"You look it," Maida sniffed. Her glance traveled the rumpled clothes, came to a stop on the worn shoes.

"You mean the frock?" Anne laughed. "Lanvin's latest model."

"If you've come here to irritate me, it seems you might have had the decency to choose some more convenient time."

"But I haven't come to irritate you, Maida." Anne was serious now. "I've come to tell you I'm sorry—sorry that I've made such a complete mess of things—and to tell you why I'm sorry. It's a very short story. Do you mind listening?"

Maida tossed her head.

"I suppose I'll have to listen," she said, "though you might have thought of what a fool you were before you embarrassed your family to tears."

"I might have thought, but I didn't. Fools don't. Promise me, Maida, you'll sit there, in that chair, and that you won't scream or faint or do anything except listen until I finish. Is it a bargain?"

Maida sank into the chair. Anne groped in her mind for the shortest cut through her story. She heard Maida's querulous, "Oh, for heavens sake, do get on with it, Anne. You will try to dramatize yourself. I have guests waiting, you know, and it will take Fanchon hours to make you look—look——"

"Human?"

"Presentable!"

"Thanks."

Anne plunged into her story. The night her body, her soul had revolted and she fled from Craig Braden and from Glen Arden. New York—the broken man outside the door of her hotel room demanding her father. Her emptying purse. Her loss of faith in those she felt she had a right to trust. Her decision to shake off the tinsel, the tarnish, the futility—to win her freedom and her independence. Palm Beach. Lean days, pitifully lean. The employment agency. Work. Madame Hoag. Her encounter with Craig Braden.

She wanted to confess her infatuation for Carl Case—it must have been infatuation, she assured herself. Confess she was infatuated with Case—Madame's chauffeur. It would be her final gesture of abjection. She could not.

On and on she plunged, to arrive at the point where she had thought the world to which she was born, Maida's world, well lost. And then—disillusionment! Sudden, terrifying disillusionment. The loss of Madame's pearls. The finger of suspicion pointed at her. Her detention. Vindication. Now she was ready, eager to retrace her steps. Was she forgiven?

Anne had been so absorbed in her rehearsal of unhappiness that she had failed to note its effect on Maida. Something in Maida's silence—an ominous quiet—arrested her. Maida was shaking. She was trying to rise from her chair, but she was shaking so that she could not.

"Maida!" Anne rushed forward, her hands outstretched to help.

"Stop!" Maida choked. "Don't come near me! Don't touch me. You dare to come to this house! To my house, straight from a prison—a horrible common jail. If someone has seen you—Jack—the children! You dare!"

Anne stopped, fell back a few paces before Maida's smothered screech. What was Maida saying? What did she mean?

"But, Maida," she'd have to be calm — "you don't understand. There's nothing—I've done nothing—except work——"

"Nothing!" Maida gasped. "You call being in prison nothing!"

"But I wasn't in prison—really. I was detained, until they found the pearls—it was all a misunderstanding——"

"Get out!" Maida's fingers were in her ears. "Leave my house!"

"I'm sorry — Maida — sorry — I came." Her lips were stiff.

"Sorry!" Maida's scorn was withering. "You expect me to believe that? You're incapable of sorrow—you're incapable of decency—you're incapable of anythnig except—you—scum."

"Maida!" Anne was frightened by the explosiveness of the ugly word.

"Don't Maida me. I'll call Fanchon. She will see that you leave the house—without being seen. There's a hall that leads to the servants' entrance."

"But, Maida—" Anne's brain was refusing to function. She was dazed. "I've no place to go—no one——"

"I suppose you want money. I'll get you what I have in my purse." Maida managed to rise, to walk, still trembling, toward the dressing table.

"No, no! I didn't come for money. I came to tell you how sorry I am——"

"Please! I'm not interested. Not in the least. You are a stranger to me, a total stranger. I'm glad you've enough of decency left not to be begging. Fanchon!"

Fanchon appeared from the inner chamber.

"Show Miss Austin out. She'd prefer not to be seen. I'd advise the hall at the end of the rear stairway." Maida went to the dressing table and began to pat powder on her flushed cheeks, furiously.

Anne stood for a moment regarding Maida's back, white and satiny against a pansy blue velvet evening gown. Then she turned and followed Fanchon into the twilight of the back stairs.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Respect Your Box Camera

Don't think for one minute that you cannot use your box camera in the Winter. The snow scene was snapped with a box camera, using the second stop. In the fireside scene a time exposure of one second was made, using the largest stop, with the aid of three photoflood lamps.

THOUSANDS of people of all ages are very much interested in the fascinating hobby of picture taking, own box cameras, but, believe it or not, have permitted an inferiority complex to creep upon them, as far as respect for the performance of their cameras is concerned. Now that really sounds ridiculous. It is true, nevertheless. Readers have written to the Snapshot Guild with a tale of woe about waiting for Spring to arrive to make a concerted effort to improve their pictures. So many owners of box cameras seem to be of the opinion that the sun must be shining like blazes before they should try to take a picture.

What is to follow is directed right straight at you, and you and you . . . with a box camera. If it is hibernating in peaceful slumber on the closet shelf awaiting the arrival of Spring and bright sunshine, go get it, dust it off—and be sure you wipe off the lens carefully with a soft, dry cloth—get yourself a roll of film and start shooting. There are more interesting Winter pictures waiting to be made with a box camera than you will ever be able to take if you live to be as old as Methuselah. Remember, too, that the old Biblical passage still holds good—"Seek and ye shall find"—and it will not take much seeking if your eyes are open.

Under ordinary conditions you can take instantaneous snapshots outdoors in the Winter, or, if the day is too dark and dreary, there is always the old reliable time exposure. If the day is clear and bright you can take action pictures providing you snap the picture at the right angle and are not too close to the subject.

Pictures can be taken indoors at night with a box camera if you use one of the inexpensive photoflash lamps. A little experimenting may be necessary until you know what you can and cannot expect from your box camera, and if you are a real amateur you will get a lot of pleasure out of the experimenting.

The fellow with a lot of fine equipment doesn't deserve half the praise for an usual picture as the real amateur, who owns a box camera and who, through perserverance and thought, gets a "knockout" picture under adverse conditions. Look at the heading of this column this week. If you have belittled your camera by discarding it for the Winter you owe it an apology for forcing it into the army of unemployed.

The average box camera on sale today has two stops and a time exposure adjustment. The stop openings control the amount of light passing through the lens. Number one—the larger stop, or opening, is for snapshots of ordinary subjects in sunlight. The second opening, or smaller stop, is for snapshots of distant views, beach scenes, snow without prominent dark objects in the foreground, and clouds, only, in bright sunlight. During the Winter, on days with hazy sunlight it is best to use the first, or large stop and on dark days use the second stop and a very short time exposure.

When making time exposures the camera must be placed on a tripod, table, fence, or something solid, so that the camera will not move when the picture is taken.

You are overlooking a lot of pleasure if you are not making use of your box camera, so get it out. If you are really interested you can stop in most any store that sells cameras and photographic supplies and get free literature on taking pictures at night indoors during the long Winter evenings, and you will find it is one type of indoor sport the entire family will enjoy.

And speaking of the family—that's a hunch for a mighty important picture. You will have a lot of fun taking a picture of the family group, and in later years the result will be numbered among your prize possessions. Try it.

It cuts right through all clogging matter . . .

There's nothing like Gillett's Pure Flake Lye to clear drains in a jiffy! Use it regularly and you'll keep sinks, tubs and toilets running freely. Pour it down full strength —it will not harm enamel or plumbing. Kills germs and destroys odors as it cleans. Keep a tin on hand.

● Never dissolve lye in hot water. The action of the lye itself heats the water.

FREE BOOKLET—The Gillett's Lye Booklet gives dozens of practical hints for using this powerful cleanser and disinfectant. Also gives full directions for soapmaking, thorough cleansing and other uses on the farm. Write for free copy to Standard Brands Limited, Fraser Ave., and Liberty St., Toronto, Ontario.

GILLETT'S LYE EATS DIRT

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

MEASURING HOW MUCH EXERCISE THE ANGINA PATIENT CAN SAFELY TAKE

A great many middle-aged men are afflicted with angina pectoris, breast pang, which causes such a severe pain under the breast bone that the patient stops still in his tracks with the feeling that one more step will cause death.

The pain is due to the fact that the little tube, size of a goose quill, that carries the fresh blood to the muscular coat of the heart is not widely enough open to supply this muscular coat with blood to continue its work, or else the blood it does carry has not enough oxygen in it.

You can readily understand that a patient with angina pectoris is very careful not to walk too fast, to run, or take severe exercise, as too much exercise, by using up too much oxygen from the blood, brings on the attacks.

However, it is worth much to the patient's mind and happiness to know how much exercise he can safely take; he doesn't want to treat himself as an invalid, if it isn't necessary to do so.

With the idea of helping these patients to know how much exercise they can safely take, Drs. J. E. F. Riseman and Beatrice Stern, Boston, make use of a two-step staircase. They have found that the majority of patients suffering with angina pectoris develop the usual attacks when exercising on the two-step staircase under ordinary or standard conditions. Exercising on this two-step staircase is so simple and natural, that there is no emotional factor or disturbance connected with it. Going up the two steps means lifting the body upwards which, of course, means more work than carrying it forward as in walking.

The test is performed in a room with a temperature between 45 and 55F. The patient is tested at least one hour after a light meal or before breakfast on a day during which he has not had an attack. The exercise consists in repeatedly walking up and down the two-step staircase. The patient continues the exercise until he develops an attack of angina pectoris severe enough to cause him to stop. The number of times the patient walks up and down the staircase is recorded, and the number of times per minute, and the total time taken is measured with a stop watch.

This test enables the physician to estimate the patient's condition and how much exercise he can safely take.

Remember, excitement and overeating can also bring on attacks of angina pectoris.
